Babcock Trustees Would Give $1 Million To Marin Hospital

Theologian Cites Importance Of Christ's 'New' Sayings

HOLY WEEK SPEAKER — Dr. Oscar Cullman, Sorbonne professor, tells an assembly at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo this morning that the Book of Thomas, containing 114 sayings of Jesus, will occupy New Testament scholars for decades to come.

Bible Expert Speaks At Hub Seminary

The 114 sayings of Jesus strung together in the newly discovered Book of Thomas "will undoubtedly occupy New Testament scholars . . . for decades," Dr. Oscar Cullman told a San Anselmo audience today.

Dr. Cullman, who has in his possession the papyrus book discovered by Egyptian peasants, spoke to some 450 San Francisco Theological Seminary students, faculty members, ministers and visitors at a special assembly at the Presbyterian seminary. His lecture today was the first of two during a visit to San Anselmo— reportedly the only two he will make in the United States away from Union Theological Seminary in New York, where he is a visiting professor.

The document containing the 114 sayings is the most important of several papyrus books which were found by peasants in an ancient jar about 60 miles from Luxor, Egypt, in 1945 or 1946, said Dr. Cullman. At any rate, it is the most important that was preserved. The peasants reportedly used one book to start a fire.

The manuscripts were written in Coptic about the Third or Fourth Century A.D., he said, but "surely go back to Greek originals which are much older—some probably

Hearings Ordered In Juvenile Cases

Strict adherence to state law requiring a hearing before a juvenile court judge whenever a child is detained 48 hours will begin in Marin County on April 1.

Announcement of a change in the current practice (legality of which is doubtful) was contained in a letter from Walter H. Busher, county probation officer, read yesterday to the county board of supervisors.

In Marin County and in most other counties, a probation officer has simply sent the juvenile court judge a written "request for order of detention," Busher said in his letter.

REVIEWS REASONS

The judge (in Marin County he is Superior Court Judge Thomas F. Keating) reviews the probation officer's reasons for continued detention of a child, and ordinarily will sign an order to authorize continued detention until the child's case is decided.

Section 729.5 of the state Welfare and Institutions Code requires that any time a child is kept at a juvenile hall 48 hours the judge of the juvenile court "shall conduct a hearing for the purpose of determining the reasons for the necessity of the detention of the minor."

Judge Keating last year questioned whether the Marin procedure constituted a "hearing," said Busher. In response to a request from Busher, County Counsel Leland H. Jordan prepared a written opinion.

INCLUDE NOTICE

Jordan concluded that Marin did not meet the requirements of the law and that a hearing should "include notice to parties affected (which would mean parent or guardian of the child), since a hearing contemplates an opportunity for parties involved to be heard."

Under the new arrangement starting April 1, Judge Keating will reserve Tuesday and Thursday mornings at 9:30

Juvenile Hall Expansion Upped 20 Beds

Room for 20 additional beds at an expanded Marin County Juvenile Hall was given a green light yesterday by the county board of supervisors, thereby adding $200,000 to the cost of the building now on an architect's drawing board.

Original plans called for 20 beds to be added to the present 20-bed juvenile hall. After the supervisors' action yesterday, the expanded juvenile hall will have a capacity of 60.

KIDS FLUCTUATE

County Administrator Donald A. Jensen told the supervisors that this week the number of children at juvenile hall had fluctuated between 34 and 38. By the time the proposed addition is completed in about a year and a half, he said, more than 40 beds will be needed.

Jensen was directed to pass along the change order to architect Rolland B. Hammond of San Rafael.

The juvenile hall construction had been estimated to cost about $200,000. Doubling the size of the addition will double its cost, estimated Jensen, to $400,000.

The propoced new 102-bed hospital for elderly indigent at Lucas Valley, plus a 76-bed wing for ambulatory patients, are estimated to cost $1,500,000. The twin projects are to be financed under a lease-purchase arrangement.

NUMBER OF PATIENTS

Jensen told the supervisors yesterday that the 76 beds for ambulatory patients was probably out of line with the

Trio Wrests Mother From Span Railing

A suicide-bent blonde was wrested from a Golden Gate Bridge railing early today after she screamed at would-be rescuers: "Go away! Don't come near me!"

Mrs. Ruth Mary O'Shaughnessy, 28-year-old mother of two children who works in a popcorn stand at Playland in San Francisco, was pulled from the railing by California Highway Patrol Officer Charles O. Woodworth while her attention was diverted by two unidentified Army sergeants and tow truck driver Harry D. Wolford, 35, of Fairfax.

It took all four men to subdue the kicking, screaming woman.

Estranged from her husband, Joseph, a hearing aid technician, Mrs. O'Shaughnessy was prevented from another suicide attempt from the bridge on March 3, according to the CHP.

She was taken to San Francisco Hospital psychiatric ward.

Lower Food Prices Nudge Living Cost Down Slightly

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Living costs dipped slightly in February because of some lower food prices, the government reported today.

The Labor Department's consumer price index slipped one-tenth of a point from its January reading of 123.8 to a February level of 123.7. The index is based on 100 as a 1947-49 average.

At this level the index was 1 per cent higher than a year ago, the smallest 12-month increase in three years but still the highest February reading ever.

Only small changes in the index, probably upward, were predicted for the next few months.

Food prices last month fell 0.7 per cent. Principal reductions were in pork, eggs and coffee.

Higher prices were reported for household fuels, some fresh vegetables, medical care, gasoline and barber and beauty shop services.

The department said take-home pay and purchasing power of factory workers set a February record, but was somewhat lower than January and below the all-time high of late 1956.

Funeral Rites Tomorrow For Thomas Kent

Funeral services for Thomas T. Kent, prominent member of Marin County's historic "first family," who died yesterday at 66, will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross.

Rev. Harold E. Hallett, rector, will officiate. Inurnment will be at Mt. Tamalpais Crematory.

Kent, whose family founded Kentfield, died while naping in his newly completed beach house in the exclusive Seadrift subdivision in Stinson Beach. He and his wife, Anne, moved into the house only a week ago.

HEART ATTACK

The death of Kent, who had been in failing health for some time, was attributed to a heart attack.

His home was at 131 Goodhill road, Kentfield.

A real estate man, Kent was perhaps best known for his many years of devoted service to Marin Municipal Water District. He became a district director in 1920 and served as president from 1947 until last Jan. 14, when ill health forced him to relinquish the post. He remained on the board, however, as representative of Division 3, which includes the Ross Valley and San Quentin areas.

RE-ELECTED

Last November, Kent was re-elected to the MMWD board without opposition. Robert Anderson of Sausalito succeeded him as president.

During Kent's presidency, the water district nearly doubled in size. Under his leadership, a water storage reservoir was developed near Lagunitas at the lower end of Lagunitas Creek. Completed in 1953, it was named Kent Lake in his honor.

Also during his presidency, plans were completed and a bond issue passed for construction of the district's Nicasio Dam and reservoir, on which work is scheduled to start soon.

Another accomplishment was installation of the district's North Marin water line from Kent Lake to the vicinity of Hamilton Air Force Base.

LEADERSHIP PRAISED

B. J. Brusatori, water district secretary, today described Kent's leadership as "exemplary."

"I don't think anyone could have done a better job," Brusatori said. "He was conscientious and certainly a fair man. He always acted in the best interests of the water district."

Kent's colleagues on the MMWD board last night instructed Samuel W. Gardiner, the district's attorney, to prepare a memorial resolution which will be spread across the board's minutes. After a brief session, the directors adjourned out of respect to the memory of Kent.

HOLY WEEK RITES SET FOR DEVOUT

Services Today Through Saturday Slated By Churches Here As Easter Approaches

Observance of Holy Week in Christian churches of Marin will be intensified with special Spy Wednesday and Maundy Thursday rites at many places of worship tonight and tomorrow.

Good Friday will see many business places closed from noon to 3 p.m. when special services will include inter-denominational community services in San Rafael, San Anselmo, Fairfax and Novato.

A community Good Friday service will be held from 12:30 to 2 p.m. at the First Congregational Church of San Rafael.

Another union service will be held in two churches—the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo and the Fairfax Community Church. The San Anselmo service will begin at noon, that in Fairfax at 12:45 p.m. Seven ministers will speak on the Seven Last Words of Christ, first in San Anselmo and then in Fairfax.

In Novato at the Bethel Baptist Church, a union service will be conducted from 1 to 3 p.m.

Services for today, (Spy Wednesday), tomorrow, (Maundy Thursday) and Good Friday as

RAIN HEADING HERE, SAYS WEATHER MAN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A storm appeared headed for California today and the Weather Bureau said rain probably would spread as far south as Monterey and Stockton tonight.

Scattered showers or light rain were predicted for Northern and Central California tomorrow.

There will be snow down to the 2,000-foot level in the Siskiyous and northern Sierra, and down to 4,500 feet in the southern ranges of the Sierra.

Northwesterly winds up to 40 miles an hour were predicted for the San Francisco Bay Area.

Picard Gets Probation In Fatal Bridge Crash

Instead, Judge Lenore Underwood of San Francisco Municipal Court found him guilty of misdemeanor manslaughter and gave him a six-month suspended jail sentence in Jan. 8 death of Emrys Williams, 52, of Sonoma.

EVIDENCE INSUFFICIENT

In a five-page opinion, the court ruled the evidence was insufficient to hold the brewery head on the felony counts.

In passing sentence, Judge Underwood said: "A person of this age and condition has been punished by a terrible experience. No fine or jail sentence would add to the punishment."

Picard, who has heart trouble, broke down at his March 11 preliminary hearing. Today he was instructed to sit down midway through the reading of the long opinion.

The court opinion held "It is not a sound predicate to reach the conclusion he (Picard) was intoxicated" since the only evidence was based on officers' testimony that they smelled liquor on his breath and that his walk was unsteady.

MARKINGS OBSCURE

In addition, Judge Underwood pointed out that witnesses driving the bridge at the same time as the accident testified the markings were obscure because of the rain.

However, she felt that a person "who has been driving the bridge for more than 20 years" should have been driving in the slow lane under the bad weather conditions.

Blind Woman With Dog Hit By Car

Victim was Mrs. Irene I. Clark, 53, of Spokane, Wash., a student at the Guide Dogs for the Blind north of San Rafael. Doctors at San Rafael General Hospital took six stitches to close the wound.

Driver of the car, Miss Dorothea Phillips, in her 70s, of Inverness, was not cited. She told Officer John Rosentangle she was headed east on Fourth street and did not see the blind woman crossing north at D street. She said the blind woman walked into the right side of her car. Officer Rosentangle said the victim was apparently hit by a pointed bracket on the side view mirror.

Half Sum Would Help Finance New Wing

Trustees of the William Babcock Memorial Endowment Fund asked court permission yesterday to make a million-dollar gift to Marin General Hospital.

In a petition filed in Marin Superior Court, trustees A. Crawford Greene and John W. Parker asked authority to donate $500,000 to the Marin County Hospital District to help finance construction of a new wing at Marin General.

They also asked permission to pledge $20,000 a year to the hospital to provide care for needy patients sent to the hospital by the Babcock Foundation. Greene and Foster explained that $20,000 is the annual income from $500,000, at 4 per cent, and thus is equivalent to a half-million-dollar grant.

The $500,000 construction grant would be contingent on the hospital district board qualifying again for state and federal fund allocations.

Hospital officials indicated today that a local bond issus still would be necessary in the amount of approximately $500,000, about half the amount of the bond issue which narrowly missed receiving the necessary two-thirds majority last November.

Greene headed the citizens committee that campaigned for passage of those bonds.

At that time a $950,000 bond issus was proposed to qualify for $1,436,830 in state and federal grants and build a 116-bed addition to Marin General Hospital.

In October, 1957, voters had turned down--also by a relatively narrow margin—a $2,652,000 bond issue for additions to the hospital.

Greene and Foster said the gifts are contingent on naming the new hospital addition "William Babcock Memorial Wing." If the hospital district were ever to change the name, they said, the $20,000 per year committment would be cancelled.

WELCOMES GIFTS

The proposed gifts were welcomed by president William P. Goddard of the hospital district board. "I am personally delighted that the Babcock trustees propose to assist Marin General Hospital to add a much-needed wing. There is perhaps no more pressing medical need in Marin County than to provide suitable hospital beds for its residents. Surely we will be able to pass a bond issue this year, with this additional financial assistance," Goddard said.

The hospital district directors will formally receive the

Tibet Revolt Spreads, India Paper Claims

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Tibetan revolt against Chinese Communist rule has spread throughout the mountain land, an Indian newspaper close to the Nehru government reported today.

Reports persisted fighting had subsided in the capital of Lhasa, with the Reds still in command. But the pro-government Hindustan Times said the rebellion had spread to all corners of Tibet and that the Dalai Lama was "not in Chinese hands."

There was no official confirmation of the Hindustan Times report.

The whereabouts of the 23-year-old Asian monarch, worshipped by Tibetans as the reincarnation of Buddha, and his role in the rebellion still were vague.

"According to one version he went underground before the fighting started in Lhasa five days ago," the Times said, "and his palace is now guarded by Chinese pickets."

The more general theory, however, was that the youthful god-king was still in his 1,000-room hillside palace under Communist surveillance.

A spokesman for the Indian government, which has the only foreign diplomatic mission in Lhasa, said he had "no correct information" on the latest developements in Tibet.

On Formosa, Chinese Nationalist officials, cheered by the revolt, said that Red China was rushing strong reinforcements to Tibet, where the occupation force has been estimated at 50,000 troops.

Boy, 4, Dragged Under Car, Escapes Serious Injuries

A 4-year-old Mill Valley boy narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday at 3:50 p.m. when he was dragged under the front wheel of a car rolling down a driveway.

Douglas Forsythe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Forsythe of 20 Serra drive, was playing in the driveway of the J. R. Melbostad home at 355 Vista Linda, when a group of children in the car apparently released its brakes, said Mill Valley police.

As the car rolled down the driveway, the boy was caught by a door handle and dragged. When the car stopped he was pinned to the pavement by a wheel.

Police jacked up the car and the boy was taken to Marin General Hospital by Mill Valley Fire Department ambulance. He was found to be suffering from possible chest and back injuries but apparently with no broken bones. Attendants today described his condition as good.

Apartment Zoning Allows But 32 Units

A apartment project for the Balzarini-Moats property in Corte Madera's Meadowsweet area, scaled down to 32 units, won 3-1 approval of the Marin County Board of Supervisors last night.

"Planned residential" zoning for the property, which keeps architectural control in the hands of the county, was approved on motion of Supervisor William D. Fusselman. Supervisor Vera Schultz cast the dissenting vote.

DELAY DEFEATED

Fusselman moved the approval after his motion to postpone decision until all members of the board of supervisors were present lost on a 2-2 split. Supervisor James A. Marshall joined Fusselman in voting for delay. Supervisor William Gnoss was the absentee.

The action came after a three-hour hearing during which opponents and proponents of the zoning re-plowed much of the ground gone over in 10 months of hearings on zoning of the 3.45-acre parcel, and turned up a few new nuggets of dirt.

Before the board was a request by the Meadowsweet Improvement Assn. for return of the property to zoning for one-family homes on 10,000-square foot lots. That was the restriction before it was rezoned "planned residential" last summer.

DOWN SHE GOES

During the 10 months, attrition at a series of hearings had worn down the number of units to be permitted from 72 to 64, then 55, then 44, then 35. Last night Fusselman, who insisted on the 35-unit restriction at a Jan. 6 hearing, said he'd meant 32—which would make the density exactly the same as with duplexes. Adjoining property on two sides is duplex-zoned.

One developer, Frederick C. Rowley, dropped out of the picture when the 35-unit limit was imposed, declaring it was uneconomical to develop property for so few units. If any other developer has appeared, he was not mentioned last night.

But the owners, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Balzarini and Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan C. Moats, still wanted the multiple zoning. They were represented by attorney Phillip A. Kennedy.

OPPONENTS SPEAK

W. W. Nichols of 1065 Meadowsweet drive, who did most of the speaking for the embattled anti-apartment group, reminded that Fusselman had promised Jan. 6 he would move to restore the one-family zoning if an opinion from County Counsel Leland H. Jordan said the county would face no threat of suit by so doing. He tossed in an implied threat of a suit "by 35 property owners" if multiple zoning were allowed to stand.

Fusselman pointed out that an opinion by Jordan warned the board must find there had been material change in character of the neighborhood to warrant rezoning back to the former status. There was no evidence of change away from the multiple dwellings, he contended.

Nichols claimed the multiple zoning last summer "as got by falsehoods," therefore, "I claim the whole zoning was illegal."

'PIG PENS'

His bitterness was matched by Norman H. McCollom, school teacher of 990 Meadowsweet drive who was one of a string of pro-apartment speakers. McCollam referred to fenced back yards of homes that might be built on the highway-side property as giving hillside dwellers "a view of a bunch of pig pens."

When Nichols objected, and chairman Walter R. Castro cautioned about his langueg, McCollom retorted: " I didn't know there were any pigs present."

Fusselman said he deemed the property, which fronts the Highway 101 service road, unsuitable for one-family homes. Mrs. Schultz, on the other hand, said she felt granting multiple zoning would be "a break in the dike" and alter the neighborhood.

Medic Building Granted Permit In Mill Valley

The Mill Valley Planning Commission last night granted a use permit for the construction of a building for Dr. William H. Pemberton, at Miller avenue and Millwood street for the use of three psychologists and three psychiatrists.

Dr. Pemberton said that the building would be designed by Mill Valley designer Michael Wornum, chairman of the city's architectural advisory subcommittee.

The planners also granted a variance to the First Baptist Church which will permit expansion of the church's facilities, provided five offstreet parking spaces are included.

The planners will submit the names of Sim Van Der Ryn and Robert C. Mountjoy, both architects, to Mayor Robert D. Huber as candidates for appointment to the architecural advisory subcommittee to replace Mario Corbett, resigned.

Committee Chairman Wornum recommended the committee be increased from seven to eight members.

The subcommittee also changed its meeting time from the first Thursday in the month to the second and fourth Mondays.

Nave's Garage To Move To New Novato Site

Nave's Garage, a Novato landmark at Grant avenue and Highway 101 for four decades, will move next Monday to larger quarters.

John J. Angeloni, owner, said all operations of the firm, now spread over several locations, will be combined in one place at the new location. This includes sales of Dodge and Plymouth automobiles, Dodge trucks and a newly acquired auto line — the Studebaker Lark, used car sales, garage and body shop.

A new 80-foot building will be constructed at the new location to permit expansion, Angeloni said.

Complex Hopps Trial Ends; Briefs To Be Filed

Attorney Calvin Rampton of Salt Lake City yesterday characterized Belvedere financier Stewart B. Hopps in a San Francisco Federal Court trial as a man whom British insurance syndicates "wouldn't touch with a 10-foot pole."

Judge Louis E. Goodman gave Rampton 80 days to produce briefs supporting his contentions that Hopps sold Inland Empire Insurance Co. of Salt Lake City "down the river" by financial shenanigans. Rampton claimed Hopps controlled Inland through dummy directors.

Hopps' attorney, J. W. Ehrlich of Corte Madera, was given 80 days to produce his own set of briefs, to support Hopps' claim that he was simply a reinsurance broker and couldn't be blamed if Inland went broke.

ATTORNEY'S TASK

The burden of proof, however, was placed on Rampton, attorney for Continental National Bank and Trust Co. of Salt Lake City. Judge Goodman told him: Because Hopps was termed a scalawag "doesn't mean I am going to take money away from him . . . It doesn't entitle you take a bucket and brush big red paint all over. You have to produce evidence to collect two million dollars."

Rampton, who is seeking to collect $2,459,701 damages for his client, wound up his closing argument in the trial by labeling Hopps a man "traveling under false colors" and blackballed by Lloyds of London.

HOPPS' DENIAL

Hopps, wholly unperturbed, denied everything. He has friends in London insurance circles, he said—and enemies.

As the 11-day trial reached its end, Judge Goodman commented:

"It is the most complex situation I have ever come into contact with. The defendant is a man of prodigious multiplicity of acts in the insurance field. But that doesn't necessarily make him a fraudulent character."

Judge Sentences 2 Drunk Drivers

Two drunken drivers were sentenced yesterday by Judge Richard M. Sims in Marin Municipal Court.

Robert Michael Stafford, 20, of 140 Greenwood avenue, San Rafael, must pay a $250 fine for drunken driving on Panoramic Highway last Saturday. The fine must be paid after he completes a jail term which he is already serving for another crime. On Feb. 2, he was jailed for petty theft and was sentenced to 90 days in jail.

Robert Walter Wilcox, 22, of 47 Brookwood lane, Ross, drew a $200 fine and one year probation. He must make restitution for damages caused last Saturday when his car hit two parked vehicles and tossed a tree onto a rooftop on San Rafael's Lincoln avenue.

STOCKS TODAY

Volume for the day was estimated at 3,200,000 shares compared with 3,000,000 yesterday.

Steels, motors and aircrafts trended slightly lower.

American Agricultural Chemical was seven points ahead. Philadelphia and Reading halted its recent decline and recouped three points or so.

Gains of around a point were made by Zenith, Thiokol, Minute Maid, Texas Instrument, Anaconda and Lorillard.

Losses of about a point were taken by U.S. Steel and Jones and Laughlin.

Fractionally lower were the big three motors, United Aircraft, Boeing, American Telephone, Westinghouse Electric, American Tobacco and Pan American World Airways.

Gains of fractions were posted for Texas Co., Southern Pacific, General Dynamics, Philco, Phelps Dodge, Kennecott, International Telephone, Merck and Johns. Manville.

U.S. government bonds were steady.

House Votes Foreign Aid Funds; Ike Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bipartisan House vote for increased spending has given President Eisenhower a major legislative victory but may cost Republicans in Congress some 1960 campaign ammunition.

With heavy Democratic and Republican support, the House late yesterday shouted approval of a $2,657,402,944 supplemental appropriation bill after handing its Appropriations Committee one of its worst setbacks in years.

The principal victory for Eisenhower lay in inclusion of 100 million dollars for the foreign aid development loan program. He had asked 225 million but the committee had allowed nothing.

In addition, the House increased funds for eight other agencies for the remaining three months of the present fiscal year, although not as much as Eisenhower had asked.

None of the spending will directly affect the 77-billion-dollar budget Eisenhower has proposed for next year.

As the bill went to the Senate, it allotted $177,880,500 more than the committee had approved but still was $207,551,532 below the total requested by the President.

Rep. John J. Rooney (D-N.Y.), offered the amendment giving the foreign aid development fund 100 million dollars. Only a handful of Midwestern Republicans and a bloc of Southern Democrats opposed it on the final 183-59 standing vote.

The heavy backing from Republicans was viewed by some Democratic leaders as having taken away much of the momentum from the current GOP drive to label Democrats as big spenders in next year's political wars. Republicans not only heavily supported the loan fund amendment but offered no organized opposition to the other increases.

Corte Madera Center Ups Retail Sales

First indication of the effect of the opening of the Corte Madera Center was reported upon today by the Marin Development Foundation.

The evidence is contained in the report by the state Board of Equalization on taxable retail sales for the third quarter of 1958. Corte Madera's retail sales in that quarter were $960,000, which is up 124 per cent over the $429,000 done by the community's retail merchants in the third quarter of 1957.

Countywide, comparing the same two periods, retail merchants enjoyed an increase in business amounting to 6.6 per cent. Total taxable retail transactions in the county jumped 11.7 per cent, of which the manufacturing, wholesaling and contracting group accounted for the largest increase, amounting to 39.5 per cent.

Fusselman Denies He's 'Most Abusive' Of Supervisors

Supervisor William D. Fusselman yesterday branded as "completely untrue" a colleague's charge that he is the "most abusive" member of the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

The accusation was made by Supervisor Vera Schultz during a brief debate on the controversial county civic center project.

It started when the board received a letter from Eugene Neuschwander of Greenbrae, who asked that the question of a special election on the civic center be taken up at yesterday's meeting.

Neuschwander also requested the names of all board members opposed to letting Marin voters express themselves on the multi-million-dollar project. He is one of the three co-chairmen of a newly formed organization of taxpayers opposed to the civic center.

Fusselman said he would be willing to submit a civic center bond issue to the voters, "but I'm not making a formal motion or anything of that kind."

He said the Santa Venetia project will remove the center of government from San Rafael, the county seat, and force the county to abandon its investment in existing government buildings.

Fusselman told his colleagues he was entitled to his "honest opinion" and should not be subjected to attack for expressing it. The reply to Neuschwander's letter, he said, should contain "no attack on any individual member of this board."

HIGHLY IRRITATED

He became highly irritated when Mrs. Schultz began questioning him about 1952 proposals for a county civic center and for additions to the courthouse, both of which proposals were rejected by the voters.

But the big blow-up came when he criticized a six-page memorandum written by Asst. County Administrator Alan Bruce in answer to charges made by the anti-civic center organization. Fusselman said the memo, prepared for the board of supervisors was "colored with evasion."

"We shouldn't ask a member of our staff to explain why we do things," Fusselman snapped.

'STOP FUSSING'

"Oh, Bill, why don't you stop fussing so much!" retorted Mrs. Schultz.

Angered, Fusselman said he was getting sick and tired of taking abuse fom her.

"You," shot back Mrs. Schultz, "are the most abusive member of this board, not only to me but to the public."

Fusselman called this "completely untrue," then warned Mrs. Schultz, "If you start it, you're going to get it back . . . I defy you or anybody else to show where I have taken on anybody unless they asked for it!"

By that time the board already had decided to refer Neuschwander's letter to County Counsel Leland H. Jordan.

Opposition Mounting To Summer Camp Plan

Harold Gregg of Forest Knolls faces increasingly stiff opposition in his effort to secure a county use permit for a children's summer camp near Nicasio.

The delay was asked by attorney Bryan McCarthy, retained by a group of Nicasio Valley property owners bitterly opposed to Gregg's intention of renting the camp to private organizations on weekends during the off-season. This was not mentioned in the permit application.

Last week, the county planning commission voted 4-0 to approve Gregg's application and allow off-season rental to "reputable groups." Two members were absent.

"In my opinion," McCarthy said yesterday, "the face of the application and what came out are two entirely different things."

McCarthy said the opponents aren't against a summer camp, as such, but they don't want the use permit to include approval of a "commercial venture" that would turn the 114-acre site into a picnic ground on off-season weekends.

In other action yesterday, the board of supervisors:

1. Set a public hearing for April 28 at 3 p.m. on annexation of Marinwood Unit 6 to the Marinwood County Services Area.

2. Passed an ordinance to prohibit parking on the north side of San Pedro road between Meadow drive and a point 600 feet southwest of Stetson drive.

3. Authorized hiring a Fels Institute of Pennsylvania government trainee for a six-month period under County Administrator Donald A. Jensen at $150 a month, beginning July 1.

4. Set for April 14 at 11 a.m. the opening of bids for completion of the Gallinas Village sewer treatment plant and construction of valley gutters on Novato's Front street at Elm avenue. The public works department has estimated the treatment plant job should cost slightly less than $14,000 and the Novato work about $3,700.

5. Passed a resolution of intention to add minor work costing $2,987 to a Dillon Beach street improvement project being performed under special assessment district proceedings and set a public hearing on the matter for April 14 at 3 p.m.

6. Postponed until Tuesday at 2 p.m. consideration of developer Gerald P. Hoytt's plans for the initial construction phase of a shopping center proposed for the 15-acre Patterson ranch on Novato's Grant avenue.

7. Approved construction of an above-ground burial vault in Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery and agreed with the county planning commission that additional vaults should be allowed there without a use permit if shown on the cemetery master plan.

8. Set for April 14 at 2 p.m. a hearing on Samuel Neider's petition for commercial zoning of a four-acre hillside parcel in Strawberry.

9. Set for 2 p.m., April 14, a hearing on a proposal to rezone a number of lots in Marin Golf and Country Club Estates Unit 1, near Loma Verde in North Marin, from planned residential to one-family residential district.

10. Appointed the following: Stuart H. Rogers and Mario Gianetti as appraisers in the assessor's office at $436 per month, replacing Harold Payton and Jon Thompson, resigned; Florence Fontez, intermediate typist clerk in the tax collector-treasurer's office at $295 per month, replacing Almea Randle, resigned; George H. Tsegeletos, deputy sheriff, at $376 per month, replacing Bruce A. McLeod, resigned; Robert F. Bertrand, fire warden (Grade 1) in county fire department at $325 per month, to fill a vacancy; Barbara Jones, junior typist clerk in the welfare department at $243 per month, replacing Janice Boe, resigned; Gertrude Hessler, senior stenographer clerk in medical department at $325 per month, to fill new position; Georgianna Sevulewski, practical nurse at county hospital and farm at $220 per month, filling a vacancy; Jane Curtis, intermediate typist clerk in probation department at $295 per month, replacing Wanda Shaffer, resigned, and Margaret Roberts, group supervisor at juvenile hall at $376 per month, replacing Shirley Maley, resigned

Absentee Ballots Available

San Rafael voters who will be out of the county on April 13—city election day—may apply now for absentee ballots at the city clerk's office.

Absentees may go to the clerk's office and cast sealed ballots now, or turn in written applications for the ballots to be mailed to out-of-county addresses. Applications for absentee ballots must be made with City Clerk W. L. Morgan before 5 p.m. April 8.

The city council met briefly yesterday morning to certify the list of candidates seeking offices in the coming election.

Mayor—Incumbent John F. McInnis, unopposed.

City council — Incumbents Charles W. Aby and Fred E. Jensen, and newcomer Michael McLean. Two to be elected.

Police chief — Incumbent Frank Kelly vs. Charles J. Chiesa.

Park-Recreation Group To Meet

The Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission will welcome two new members and discuss a proposed sprinkling system for the town tree nursery at its meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the town hall.

William M. Ford, chairman, said the meeting will be the first for Morton J. Simon of 21 Lakeside drive and Charles W. Garrison of 8 Echo avenue. The two were appointed to replace Clement W. Miller, Marin's new congressman, and Robert Troppmann, coach at Redwood High School, who both resigned.

Ford said the $150 sprinkling system is being considered to save labor in watering of the several thousand small trees in the nursery.

Retired Teachers Schedule Luncheon

The Marin division of the California State Retired Teachers Assn. will meet Saturday at 12:30 p.m. for a spring luncheon at the Woodlands restaurant in Kentfield.

The program will be under direction of Lyman Mitchell of Kentfield. Mrs. Orpha Farmer is in charge of reservations.

Installation of officers is to be held in May.

Sheriff Acts To Aid Jr. Rifle Team

The Marin County Sheriff's Office Junior Rifle Team has won the full backing of Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, who assured it the use of the county's pistol range and facilities.

Deputy Sheriff Arthur Wiggins is directing the program, which consists of use, care and safe handling of firearms in conjunction with the state hunter safety program, along with the forming of a rifle team. All instructors are certified by the National Rifle Assn. and the state hunter safety program.

Any boy in Marin between 12 and 16 years old may participate in a period of training and qualification in small bore rifle marksmanship. A rifle team will then be chosen to represent the sheriff's office at local matches. A continuous course in hunter safety will be held together with other activities.

Said Sheriff Mountanos, "I feel that any boy interested in this type of sport should have the benefit of proper training and instruction."

Since this activity cannot be included in the sheriff's budget, Deputy Wiggins said he hopes individuals and organizations will contribute to get supplies and equipment. Contributions may be mailed to Junior Rifle Team, c/o Sheriff's Office, San Rafael.

BANK BELIEVED THEM

Prank 'Holdup' Backfires On Two Boys, 9 And 13

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two little boys who invaded a branch of the world's largest bank with a holdup note are hoping to be cleared of attempted robbery charges today.

Dan McKay, 9, and Danny Husk, 13, school boys on Easter vacation, said today it was all just a prank to get some play money.

Danny's mother, Mrs. Wilma Husk, said "The boys meant no harm, although they shouldn't have done it."

The boys were en route to a movie when they stopped at the Bank of America Mission branch. The bank had issued some play money as a promotion campaign. The boys said they had lost theirs and wanted more.

Dan marched to the teller's window and placed a slip of paper on the counter. It said (in Danny's handwriting) "Put $100 in sack or we'll blow up the bank. Dan Husk."

"Who gave you this?" demanded Filamine Miller, the teller.

Dan fidgeted and pointed to his buddy. Miss Miller scolded them and said "Get out of here." Danny said he told her it was a joke and apologized. The boys left.

Miss Miller reported the incident to J. C. Bonzani, branch manager, who called police. they traced the Husk boy's address through his school records.

Sanitary District To Be Discussed

A meeting of Paradise drive property owners to consider forming a sanitary district will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the Reed School auditorium.

The Independent-Journal yesterday mistakenly announced the meeting for last night. Residents who went to Reed School in response to the announcement found a square dance party under way instead of a mass meeting, reported Jack Weber, president of the Paradise Property Owners Assn.

The meeting has been called by the association because of development of Paradise Cay with plans for a sewer line down Paradise drive.

BIG DIFFERENCE

IN WAGONS

BIG DIFFERENCE IN FEATURES
Here's a wagon that's really easy to live with! The 1959 Plymouth offers you ingenious rear-facing third seat and roll-down rear window. And, in addition, you get low-extra-cost comfort and convenience features like new Swivel Seats, push-button heating and transmission. These wonderful new features—plus clean, progressive styling—help explain the peak popularity that Plymouth station wagons are enjoying today.

BIG DIFFERENCE IN RIDE AND PERFORMANCE
No other low-price wagon can match Plymouth's Torsion-Aire Ride, yours at no extra cost. You enjoy superb handling ease with no roll or sway on turns, no front-end dive on stops. Or you can choose optional Constant Level Torsion-Aire to keep your wagon level no matter the load or the road. And you can thrill to V-8 power, including optional New Golden Commando 395, biggest engine in the low-price field.

BIG DIFFERENCE IN SPACE
Plymouth boasts the longest wheelbase (a full 122 inches) in its field, plus a loading deck almost 10 feet long. This means you get 95 cubic feet of cargo capacity—more than you'll find in any other low-price wagon. You simply can't buy a bigger, more useful wagon for the money!

BIG DIFFERENCE IN ECONOMY
Plymouth won the Mobilgas Economy Run in the low-price class two years in a row. And only Plymouth offers a Fuel-Saver Choke and new 3-stage carburetor for maximum gas savings. What's more, all Plymouth standard V-8 and 6 engines perform at peak efficiency on regular gas.

BUT...YOU DON'T PAY FOR THE DIFFERENCE
The three top-selling 1959 station wagons are all priced within a very few dollars of each other. But only the Plymouth gives you the Big Difference for your money...and you get high trade-in value, too!

COME IN FOR YOUR "TWO-MILE TRY-OUT" NOW!
Get behind the wheel of a Plymouth. Prove to yourself that Plymouth wagons deliver the Big Difference in features, ride, performance, economy, space. Ask your Plymouth dealer for your "Two-Mile Try-Out."

So much the same in price...so different on the road!

JIMMY FRENCH TAKES BRIDE

The St. Patrick's Day marriage of James E. French III and Jocelyn Ludditt was announced yesterday by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Ludditt of 8 Gregory drive, Fairfax. The quiet ceremony, with only a few friends and relatives present, was at St. Rita's Church in Fairfax. The young couple, shown above, will make their home in the apartment the 22-year-old French, son of wealthy auto dealer James E. French Jr., recently rented at 292½ Butterfield road, San Anselmo. Young French is recovering from an attack of the "bends" suffered when he rose to the surface too quickly after setting a new skin-diving record off the Monterey coast.

Bad Debts Charge Against 2 Dropped

Two Bolinas men, accused of failing to pay rent and grocery bills last November, were freed in Marin Municipal Court yesterday because they have made full restitution of money owed.

Deputy Dist. Atty. P. Roy Vallarino moved for dismissal of charges against William Porter, 64, who says he is a retired college professor, and Robert A. McDonald, 38, who claims to be Porter's secretary. Judge Richard M. Sims dismissed the petty theft charge.

Vallarino said the men made full restitution of $82 which they owed. He decided to ask for dismissal because he felt there was not enough evidence to hold them for trial. The two were suspected of running up bills for rent, telephone and groceries.

DRIVER CONVICTED

Jury Unimpressed By Cough Medicine Alibi

A drunken driver's argument that he became tipsy more from cough medicine than from Scotch whisky failed to impress a jury in Marin Municipal Court last night.

A jury of seven women and five men took just 40 minutes to convict George Donald Currie, 40, partner in the Old Spaghetti Factory restaurant in San Francisco, of drunken driving.

Sausalito police arrested Currie on Second street last Aug. 7. A subsequent blood test showed Currie had an alcohol content of .298, much too high for anyone to be driving.

Currie's attorney Richard Gladstein, contended his client was influenced more by elixir of terpin hydrate, a cough medicine, than by liquor. But the prosecutor, Deputy Dist. Atty. Bruce Bales, convinced the jury that alcohol is alcohol, whether it comes from Scotch, wine or elixir.

Judge Albert F Scheidecker of Sebastopol, sitting in Marin Municipal Court, set April 14 at 3:30 p.m. for a report from the probation office and sentencing of Currie.

Congress passed an act in April, 1848, establishing a regular mounted mail route from San Diego to San Francisco.

State Farm Wages Total $892 Yearly

NEW YORK (UPI)—The importation of Mexican farm workers has so depressed wages in California and other areas that it is a wonder that there still are domestic farm workers, a report of the National Sharecroppers Fund said today.

"But there are," the report said, and they averaged an annual income of $892 in 1957, according to Department of Agriculture figures.

Square Dance Party

The Charm - N - Farmers Square Dance Club will hold a party night April 4 at 8 p.m. in Davidson School, San Rafael, to the music of the Westernaires of San Jose and the voice of caller Larry Twist of San Rafael, according to Mrs. Milton Adams, general chairman.

Nick's Cove Bid Study Postponed

Consideration of bids for expanding and improving Miller Park boating facilities at Nick's Cove on Tomales Bay was postponed by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday until 2 p.m. Tuesday.

The delay was requested by Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham, who said all five bids opened last week are over the estimate. Low bidder was Carey Brothers Construction Co. of Greenbrae at $43,287.

On the strength of an estimate by Brigham two years ago, the state Wildlife Conservation Board last year allocated $33,092 for the project. The county is required to pay any cost beyond that figure.

Brigham said yesterday he plans to take up the matter with state officials this week in hopes of obtaining an additional allocation for the project. He noted that construction costs have risen since the estimate was made.

Novato Firemen To Stage Egg Hunt

Weather permitting, the Novato Volunteer Firemen's Assn. will stage its fifth annual Easter egg hunt starting at noon Saturday.

Firemen will color 180 dozen eggs this week for the event, which is open to all children through age 8.

The egg hunt will be staged on the Safeway Stores property on Diablo avenue, near Highway 101.

Marin GOP Supports Un-American Committee

The Un-American Activities Committee should be retained by Congress, the Marin County Republican Central Committee decided unanimously at its monthly meeting in the courthouse last night.

The committee's views will be sent to Rep. Clement W. Miller and Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, announced chairman Elmer S. Worlund.

Mrs. Robert D. Irwin of San Rafael was elected to fill a vacancy in the 1st District, and Richard Grant of Inverness was made an associate member. Mrs. Irwin is a teacher and a member of the GOP State Central Committee.

Edward Grundstrom of Novato was made chairman of the 4th District precinct committee. William H. MacKay of Kentfield was appointed chairman of a special committee to work with volunteer organizations to arrange fund-raising events, first of which will probably be a "Hawaiian Night" dance and entertainment marking the admission of the 50th state. Edward P. Ward of Corte Madera and John H. Davis of Belvedere will serve as advisers to MacKay.

Chairman Worlund also named a program committee for "Victory in 1960" headed by George Thierbach of Corte Madera, with Russ Lauterwasser of Larkspur, Sidney Howard of Sausalito, John H. Davis of Belvedere, Nat Williams and Harry Butterworth Jr. of San Rafael as members. This committee is to set up a program of work to help elect a Republican slate in the general election next year.

Worlund announced at least 25 Marin residents will attend a dinner at the Whitcomb Hotel in San Francisco Saturday to hear Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield.

Serve On Transport

Serving aboard the Navy attack transport Paul Revere operating out of San Diego are Jack B. Skinner, electronics technician third class, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Skinner of 14 Ridgewood drive, San Rafael, and Wesley G. Meyer, dental technician second class, of 51 Elm avenue, San Anselmo.

Big Share Of Flood Assessment Raised

Property owners in the newly formed Tamalpais Valley Flood Control Assessment District already have raised 42.13 per cent of the district's total assessment of $24,750.

Eugene K. Sturgis, the district's attorney, jubilantly announced to the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday that cash payments of assessment bills amount to $10,426.28. The average assessment is $71.44.

Sturgis said this leaves a balance of $14,323.72 to be raised by a 15-year bond issue under the Improvement Bond Act of 1915. The high percentage of cash payments "amazed us all," he told the board.

The special district was formed last month to raise local funds needed for a $630,000 flood control project on Coyote Creek. The project will be undertaken by the Army Corps of Engineers. Anticipated federal and state allocations are $400,000 and $215,000, respectively.

Sturgis said Stone and Youngberg, San Francisco investment brokerage firm, has offered to purchase district bonds at par, with an interest rate of 5½ per cent. In view of this, he said he could see no reason to advertise for bids.

The attorney said it would cost about $35 to advertise. He added with a smile that word of Stone and Youngberg's offer "will be on Montgomery street tomorow."

Chairman Walter R. Castro said he favored advertising for bids. But Supervisor William D. Fusselman suggested the matter be continued one week, giving the board an opportunity to "just listen and see what happens." His view prevailed.

Emergency Medical Help Authorized

Emergency help for the county medical department was authorized yesterday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, after a full report of the medical department's services was submitted by County Administrator Donald A. Jensen.

The authorized appropriation of $2,650 for April 1 to July 1 would allow for addition of a general practitioner, a surgeon, a medical social worker and a typist clerk to the staff of Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy Jr., county physician.

Jensen's analysis showed that the 13 doctors on the medical department staff cost the county an average of $4.16 an hour exclusive of call time, compared to the flat rate of $6.66 per hour which is paid by the county health department for private doctors who participate in child welfare conferences.

In Jensen's letter of recommendation, he included a recommendation "that the board of supervisors compliment the county physician and the doctors working for him for the excellent care they are giving county patients at minimum cost to the taxpayers."

Granting the emergency appropriation was moved by Supervisor William D. Fusselman and unanimously approved. (Supervisor William A. Gnoss, ill with a cold, was absent.)

Dr. Dufficy had requested the emergency aid on Feb. 25 but action was postponed until a report was made on the medical department's current activities.

Fireman's Fund Elects Marinite

Louis W. Niggeman of San Anselmo has been elected executive vice president and board member of Fireman's Fund Insurance Co. and its affiliates, it was announced today.

The company also revealed appointment of Claudius A. DesChamps of Sausalito as a vice president and controller, and of Myron DuBain of Kentfield as assistant vice president.

DesChamps earlier this month was named co-chairman of a group of Marin residents opposed to the multi-million-dollar Marin County Civic Center.

Bids Called For 2nd San Rafael High School

A second high school for San Rafael, south of Terra Linda, should be ready for 700 students by September, 1960, the board of education said last night in calling for bids on the $1,400,000 plant.

Bids on the new high school will be opened at a special meeting set for 7:30 p.m. May 5. The bid opening date was set far ahead because the school officials are trying to get in under a federal law that provides financial help on the basis of the number of federally connected children in the school district.

ANNOUNCEMENT PENDS

The contract must be awarded after the federal government announces a date for allocation of funds under Public Law 815. The announcement is expected about May 1.

The new high school will go up on a 30-acre site west of Hartzell School, about one-third of a mile south of the Freitas ranch house.

A two-story classroom wing, administrative offices, general purpose cafeteria building, gymnasium, shop building, and possibly a music-drama building.

SWEEPING REVIEW

In a sweeping review of improvements in elementary schools, the board of education took these actions:

1. Appointed architect Gromme to draw up rough sketches for possible expansion of Coleman School in the Dominican area. Some of the students in the Coleman area are being transported to E Street School and San Pedro School. School board members want to know whether it would be more advantageous to expand Coleman School, where land is limited, or to build a new elementary school on open land opposite the present San Rafael High School.

SCHOOL REMODELING

2. Approved remodeling the Davidson School office at a cost not to exceed $3,000. The alterations will provide an office for the principal of Laurel Dell Intermediate School and make better use of the existing office space. The school district's own crews will make the changes.

3. Set April 28 as opening date for bids on dressing room lockers for Santa Venetia School.

4. Authorized placing 3,000 yards of additional fill at McPhail School to eliminate puddles in the playground area. Cost of fill is 71 cents per yard for moving and spreading.

HONORED—A/2c Archie L. Marcum of San Rafael has been named "Crew Chief of the Month" for February by the 78th Organizational Maintenance Squadron of the 78th Fighter Group at Hamilton Air Force Base. Marcum was chosen (on the basis of performance upon T33 jet trainer which he services) on his neatness, job knowledge and leadership. (Air Force photo)

Talent Show Slated At San Quentin

Even inmates at San Quentin Prison will take part in the "Easter Parade" on Sunday. Only instead of the usual sporting of new finery, the prisoners' parade will be one of talent.

Known as "Esque's Easter Parade," a variety show will be staged on the outdoor handball courts at 10:30 a. m. The 20 acts are expected to last two and one-half hours, said Associate Warden W. D. Achuff.

Carrying out the traditional Easter style show, 30 prisoners will display their new handmade spring hats. Two men dressed as bunnies will do a novelty song and dance routine.

Other musical selections, skits and tumbling acts will round out the entertainment. The San Quentin Band will provide music.

Fire Protection Topic Of Mayors

A continuing discussion of the county fire protection situation is scheduled for consideration at tonight's meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors to be held at the Blue Rock Inn in Larkspur at 7 p.m.

Also on the agenda will be open burning ordinances, pedestrian safety and the organizational structure of the mayors' council.

Carried over from the February meeting will be the proposed one-cent state gas tax increase for local street improvements and cost of police protection and distribution of the resulting tax burden.

Investment Series Starts Monday

Charles C. Clarke of Kentfield, partner in a San Francisco investment banking and brokerage firm, will start his 23rd annual series of lectures and discussions on investments next Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the College of Marin.

Part of the adult education program of the college, the series will consist of 10 meetings on successive Monday nights.

Land Trade Agreement Seen Feasible

The proposed land swap and joint financing of Union street improvement, tentatively agreed between the San Rafael City Council and school district, can probably be resolved without too much difficulty, board of education member C. Paul Bettini declared last night.

On March 10, three members of the city council met with the school board and agreed the city would close High street if the school district would pay $12,000 to help improve Union street from Third to Mission. The city would then give up its rights on Fourth street extension from Union to High street in exchange for a strip of school land along San Pedro road.

But on March 16, the city council decided to take another look at the swap because Councilman Fred E. Jensen said he thought the city got the short end of the deal.

Last night Bettini said he feels he can talk to "certain members" of the city council and work out a solution along the lines of the original swapping agreement. The board of education appointed Bettini and Roderick P. Martinelli to contact councilmen.

In other action last night, the board:

1. Set April 7 as a date to discuss budget policies for the coming fiscal year.

2. Postponed appointment of a director for the summer school. Both Webster D. Wilson, director of instruction and guidance, and Robert Royal, vice principal of Davidson School, were mentioned as possibilities.

3. Approved a bereavement leave policy for classified personnel. Administrators and teachers already have bereavement leave. Hereafter, classified personnel will also get three days bereavement leave and two additional days at the discretion of the school board.

ANOTHER FERRY LINE DISAPPEARS

Its decks loaded with last day commuters from New Jersey, the New York Central's ferryboat Weehawken heads into its Hudson River slip at 42nd street yesterday. Looking at the approaching ferry is bridgeman Daniel Jaeger ,who has been on the job for 14 years. Service, started in 1829 by a company using paddlewheel boats and taken over by the New York Central in 1885, ended last night. Central officials said huge losses in running the ferries forced them to close the service. The 5,000 commuters using it daily will have to find other means of transportation.

U.S. Planning Radiation Satellite

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Proposals for a radiation satellite that will climb 25,000 miles and a stepped-up Navy-military space campaign were the highlights of the American Rocket Society's flight testing conference that ended today.

The society members—790 missile scientists and engineers—wound up their three-day-session with a classified briefing and tour of the Cape Canaveral launching site.

Dr. Homer J. Stewart, director of planning and evaluation for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, told newsmen yesterday that the satellite will be launched soon by a four-stage version of the Thor-Able rocket.

He said the satellite, weighing several hundred pounds, would seek a radical orbit ranging from 25,000 to 150 miles above the earth to gather more complete information on two doughnut-shaped radiation fields.

The chief of Navy missile planning, Rear Adm. John T. Hayward, outlined plans for firing 50-pound communications and navigational satellites, possibly before the end of the year.

The admiral reaffirmed that the intermediate range Polaris missile will be ready for launching from nuclear-powered submarines next year.

Mill Valley Group Backs Bond Issue

Mill Valley's newly formed Voters Information Group today announced its membership has "unanimously" endorsed the $600,000 school building bond issue to be voted on May 19.

The organization plans to conduct a citywide campaign in behalf of the bond issue, said Arne R. Anderson, chairman.

He said plans are being made to "organize a door-to-door campaign to bring information on the bond issue to all voters in the elementary school district."

The group was started by parents whose children attend Old Mill School, Anderson said, with the objective of stimulating interest in maintaining school standards.

He said the group has now broadened and has opened its membership to all Mill Valley residents interested in community affairs.

Other officers include Mrs. Edmond Gross and Eugene E. Crawford.

N.Y. City Considers Seceding From State

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City is looking into the possibility of seceding from New York and seeking statehood.

The suggestion that the city might become a sovereign state caused the state Senate to rock with laughter. But the city fathers maintained they are serious.

Demands for separation of the city from the rest of the state go back almost 100 years. But how to do it legally has always been a question.

A move calling for a committee to study the possibility was introduced in the city council yesterday and referred to the rules committee for study.

The move came in the wake of a bitter fight between the city and the state over money. The city government, which is Democratic, said it must have new taxes this year to balance its budget. Permission was needed from the Legislature, which is Republican.

The city leaders claimed they had to go "hat in hand" to Albany. They didn't get all the taxing power they wanted.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner's immediate response was to lop 32 million dollars off the budget, announcing that the pinch would be felt by 80,000 city employees who would get smaller pay raises, or none at all.

The mayor's austerity program brought a wave of protest from city employees. Resignations and work stoppages were threatened.

HAPPY ENDING

Friendly Milkman Haled Into Court: It's All A Joke

CHICAGO (AP) — Edward T. Wesolowski, 47, who thought he had made many friends during his 15 years as a milkman in suburban Northlake, wasn't too sure for a while yesterday.

But there was a happy ending to two surprising events arranged for the milkman.

The first surprise stemmed from a practical joke and left him quaking with fear as police took him to jail. He was photographed, handcuffed and taken to the crowded courtroom of Police Magistrate Thomas J. Maloney.

As Maloney read the charges against Wesolowski, he brightened and got his second shocker of the day.

One of the charges read: "He did wilfully and unlawfully distribute and give away many gallons of milk and an equal amount of human kindness without reservation, not accepting gratuities in return, and did promote happiness among unfortunate residents of our community."

Many of his customers among the 75 persons in the courtroom knew he didn't press for payment of a bill if a family was having trouble. Often he gave fuel oil to customers who couldn't heat their homes, much less pay a milk bill.

As the court session broke up in cheers for Wesolowski, the spectators brought out coffee and cake for a little party. Wesolowski shook hands with customers, officials of the dairy company from which he buys milk and officials of the west suburban village of some 12,000 residents. He knew for sure he had friends.

ANOTHER HONEST MAN DISCOVERED

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—How-honest-can-you-be department:

The Kentucky fair and exposition center has received an unsigned postcard with a dime taped to it saying:

"This 10 cents is for use of pay toilet during Shrine circus when I had no change."

Wife Slayer Sentenced To Prison

Prince Sam Davis, 34, who shot his common-law wife to death Christmas Eve, must spend from one to 10 years in state prison.

He was sentenced yesterday for manslaughter by Judge Jordan L. Martinelli in Marin Superior Court.

The garbage man said he shot Viola Baker, 32, at their apartment because he feared she would grab a kitchen knife and attack him and their 9-month-old boy.

A jury of 10 women and two men had the job of deciding whether Davis was guilty of murder in the first or second degree, murder or manslaughter, or innocent. They deliberated for more than eight hours Monday night and found him guilty of manslaughter.

Income Tax Forms Available At Bank

Income tax forms, both state and federal, are available to the public at the main office and all branch offices of the First National Bank of San Rafael, it was announced today by Fred Brylka, chief clerk.

Branches are located in Novato, Belvedere. Kentfield, Corte Madera and Mill Valley. Deadline for filing the tax returns is April 15.

GOP Charges Brown With 'Dictatorship'

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Republican leaders said today the Brown administration was "degenerating into a total dictatorship" by pressuring legislators to vote for its water and tax program.

The chairman of the GOP caucus, Assemblyman Walter I. Dahl of Oakland, said, "I regret to see the governor resorting to what appears to be blackjack policies with the Legislature."

Assemblyman Harold K. Levering (R-Los Angeles), a leader of the economy bloc, said "The administration has moved in and tried to usurp the prerogatives of the legislators from our obligation to vote on issues as we see fit. This is degenerating into a total dictatorship."

BROWN STATEMENT

Gov. Edmund G. Brown said yesterday that legislators "who come in with additional appropriation items and refuse to vote for taxes are going to be disclosed . . ."

Brown made that statement after newsmen had asked him why a $3,560,000 aqueduct right of way from Avenal to Santa Maria Valley had been deleted from his budget in an Assembly committee. The proposed aqueduct would serve Santa Barbara County.

Brown replied that it might have been deleted because he was investigating the possibility of getting federal aid for the project.

MAY BE THE REASON

"Maybe that's the reason for it," Brown said, "or it might have been that Mr. Holmes is against a water project."

Assemblyman James Holmes, a Republican from Santa Barbara, spoke and voted against Brown's plan to earmark the 170-million-dollar investment fund for water project construction on Monday.

Holmes charged the administration had cut out his aqueduct to punish him for his vote.

COUNT US OUT—George P. Anderson of Ukiah, a director of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, rises to answer a question about his testimony yesterday before a Senate interim committee meeting in Sacramento on the proposed Golden Gate Authority. Anderson told the Committee on Bay Area Problems that the bridge and highway district should not be put into the nine-county agency which would manage bridges, seaports and airports in the area.

Secretary Admits Drunk Charge

Novato legal secretary Gladys C. Crawford, 50 who allegedly slapped and kicked a deputy sheriff on March 6, switched her plea to guilty of drunkenness yesterday.

Charges of disturbing the peace and resisting arrest were dismissed. Judge Richard M. Sims set 3:30 p.m. tomorrow for judgment.

Mrs. Crawford, who lives at 1530 Indian Valley road in Novato, was arrested at the Tiburon Playhouse parking lot. Bystanders reported she was slapping her daughter. Deputy Sheriff Edward Klementovich said he went to investigate and was greeted with a volley of abusive language from the secretary.

When three officers tried to get her into her husband's car, Klementovich said, the woman kicked him in the chest.

28 Amendments Put On Bay Authority Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill to create a nine-county Golden Gate Authority to promote trade, travel and commerce in the Bay Area today headed for its first legislative test with 28 amendments tacked on.

The Senate Interim Committee on Bay Area Problems heard arguments for and against the bill yesterday, wrote in the amendments and sent it on to the transportation committee.

The bill by Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) would give the agency power to acquire and manage sea terminals, airports and bridges in the Bay Area.

McCarthy submitted an amendment to bar local elected officials from serving on the authority.

Other amendments require that the sea ports and airports of San Francisco and Oakland be taken into the authority at the same time, and set down numerous technical provisions.

Backers of the proposed authority told the committee it would give "true, meaningful home rule" by people most familiar with the area's problems.

Opponents denied it.

"We have home rule now," said Dudley W. Frost, executive director of the Port of Oakland. "Our future development would be transferred to others."

Owners of sea terminals and spokesmen for the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District joined Frost in asking exclusion from the bill.

Chevy makes one for you...
and you'll want it for all its worth

Fewer and fewer people, we're happy to say, think it's necessary to look over different makes of cars to find the one automobile that offers exactly what they want.

There's really no reason to look further than your Chevrolet dealer's. For the plain fact is that Chevrolet builds so many different kinds of cars there's one to please just about everyone.

Say you want a stylish, spacious car that combines low initial cost with rock-bottom operating expense. You'll find what you want in the Biscayne 2-Door Sedan—one of the lowest priced Chevy models. You can have Chevrolet's new Hi-Thrift 6 under the hood to stretch out the distance between gas stops.

If, on the other hand, you're looking for a car of utmost elegance, there's the Chevrolet Impala 4-Door Sport Sedan. And, to go with it, Chevy's velvety V8 power teamed with triple-turbine Turboglide*—one of the finest, smoothest automatic drives offered on any car.

These are just two examples of the dozens of different kinds of Chevrolets you can choose from. One of them may be just what you want. It's almost certain—with models ranging from five beautiful, dutiful station wagons to the unique Corvette—that Chevrolet builds your kind of car. Stop by your dealer's and he'll be happy to help you pick it out.

*Optional at extra cost

Education Expenses Deductible

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Expenses for education are now deductible if you can qualify and you can claim them for the years 1955 and 1956 as well as 1957 and 1958.

Peter J. Wikel

How do you go about getting a refund when the return has already been filed?

You should file either a claim for refund on form 843 or an amended return on form 1040. A separate claim or amended return should be filed for each year, and you should attach a statement of the facts which you think entitle you to deduct your educational expenditures.

Claims for refund or amended returns must be filed within three years from the date the return was due. A claim for refund of taxes for the year 1955 must be filed on or before April 15, 1959.

How do you claim the deduction for allowable expenditures for education in filing your return?

Unreimbursed expenditures for such things as tuition, books, laboratory fees, and similar items should be deducted on page two of the return, form 1040. However, these expenses may not be deducted if you use the standard deduction. Expenses for travel, meals and lodging while away from home overnight in pursuing allowable educational activities are also deductible on page one of the return. A brief statement should be attached in explanation of the deduction, use form 2106.

One important fact that always should be included is the relationship of the education to the duties of your employment when the educational expense was incurred.

The regulations apply to self-employed persons as well as to teachers and other employees.

Expenses for education are deductible if such education is undertaken primarily for the purpose of (a) maintaining or improving skills required by the taxpayer in the performance of the duties of his employment when the educational expense was incurred, or (b) meeting express requirements of the taxpayer's employer, or the requirements of applicable law or regulations, imposed as a condition for the retention by the taxpayer of his salary, status or employment.

On the other hand, expenditures for education are not deductible if the primary purpose for which the education is undertaken is to obtain a new position or a substantial advancement in position.

$140,000 Nursing Home Receives Approval Of San Rafael Planners

A $140,000 nursing home with 55 beds won the approval of the San Rafael Planning Commission last night.

Fairfax contractor Arthur Nicolaisen asked for a use permit for the nursing home in behalf of Hillhaven, Inc., of Tacoma, Wash., which operates a chain of such homes.

The project will be built on West End avenue between Sentinel court and Dunand avenue. The plan calls for 26 rooms, some with single beds and others with two and three beds. The first floor will have 11,492 square feet, and the basement 2,440 square feet. The date of completion is not known.

In other actions last night, the city planning commissioners:

1. Approved a use permit for a body and fender shop for Travis W. Key at 31 Bay street.

2. Approved the recommendation of the traffic advisory committee that Second and Third streets be made one-way streets and extended. Under the plan, Second street would cut straight across the Hess Lumber Co. land, past Ames Ford and United Markets, and out to San Pedro road. Third street would extend through E Street School, to Latham, and out to Second street at Ida.

3. Discussed possible rezoning of the East San Rafael Assessment District behind the Francisco boulevard frontage. The area is now zoned industrial. Since so many apartment houses are going up, the land owners want to rezone it for apartment zoning to prevent a hodge-podge of residential buildings mixed with factories. Planning commissioners decided further study is needed before a public hearing is set.

SAYINGS

from the first half of the second century."

"The Gospel of Thomas," said the visiting theologian, who is professor of early Christianity at the Sorbonne in Paris, "is actually not a gospel, but a collection of words of Jesus without a nar rative framework. . . . One hundred fourteen sayings of Jesus are simply strung one after another with no more connection than the simple formula, 'Jesus said.'

"The order is based on such external considerations as catch-words without any essential bearing. Until now we had only known 14 of these sayings, and now we have suddenly the complete collection."

The book includes four kinds of sayings, he went on: "Those which are word-for-word the same as in our gospels; those which provide independent variants of the sayings in our gospels; those which are not found in our gospels in any form, but which were known from citations in the church fathers, and those which were formerly completely unknown."

Several of the well-known parables of Jesus are included among the 114 sayings. But, he noted, those sayings which vary from the form in the accepted gospels may be "more original" than those in the Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John.

Dr. Cullman quoted a few of the hitherto-unknown sayings of Jesus found in the ancient manuscript:

"Jesus said: If those who lead you say to you: Behold, the kingdom is in heaven, then the birds of heaven will precede you; if they say to you that it is in the sea, then the fish will precede you. But the kingdom is within you and it is outside of you."

And a parable: "Mary said to Jesus: Whom are your disciples like? He said: They are like small children who have settled in a field which is not theirs. When the owners of the field come, they will say: Leave our field to us. They are completely naked in their presence, and so they will leave it to them and give them their field."

The European scholar opened his remarks by calling the discovery of 44 treatises in the Coptic languages—of which the "Book of Thomas" is one — more important than the finding of the Dead Sea Scrolls. But he made it plain he considers the works to be the province only of Bible scholars.

It was "through an indiscretion," he declared, that it became known in America that words of Jesus had been found.

All the Coptic manuscripts show the influence of the Gnostic movement prevalent in Egypt shortly after Christ, which sought to synthesize Christianity with ancient mystical religions, he said.

"Our four canonic gospels are the only ones on which we can rely," he declared.

Dr. Neill Hamilton of the seminary faculty introduced the speaker and offered the invocation and benediction.

At 10 a.m. tomorrow, Dr. Cullman will address another assembly at the seminary on "A New Approach to Understanding the Fourth Gospel."

Man Due In Court In Accident Case

Joseph Bayer Loewy, 30, of Fairfax is scheduled to appear in Marin traffic court at 11:15 a. m. on April 7 for allegedly leaving the scene of a property damage traffic accident last Sunday.

San Rafael police gave him a citation, but did not arrest him. Contrary to a report published in the Independent-Journal on Monday, Loewy was not booked at the county jail. He merely got a tag.

JUVENILES

o'clock for detention hearings with juveniles and their parents.

After Busher's letter had been read, County Administrator Donald A. Jensen noted that a juvenile may be held without bail and is not entitled to a jury trial as an adult is. He said that bills introduced in the current legislature reflected concern about possible abuses of individual liberties in handling of juvenile cases.

Busher said that the new procedure would add up to one hour to Judge Keating's work week, and would require a deputy probation officer to transport children between the courthouse in San Rafael and the juvenile hall in Lucas Valley.

Work Starts On Novato Ball Park; Named McIntosh Field

A groundbreaking ceremony yesterday marked the start of construction of Novato's new baseball park and recreation field at the end of Simmons lane.

The field will be known as McIntosh Field, named for C. H. McIntosh, who with his wife owns the two-and-one-half acre ballpark site. The McIntoshes have leased the site to the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce and Novato Merchants softball team for four years at $1 a year plus taxes.

Stuart McCulloch, manager of the softball team and recreation director of the field, said today the park will be completed in time for a grand opening May 8, with the merchants to play a March of Dimes benefit game.

The field will be used for softball games of the California Independent Softball League, which includes Novato and teams from Santa Rosa, Sonoma, Napa, Sacramento, Oakland, Redwood City and San Francisco.

Also playing at McIntosh Field will be teams of Marin's Pony League.

McCulloch said plans for the field include construction of the baseball field, tennis and handball courts and a girls' clubhouse this year.

A long list of Novato and Petaluma persons and firms have contributed money or materials toward the project.

Participating in the groundbreaking were Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh, McCulloch, junior chamber president George Harrison and Bob Robertson, chairman of the junior chamber committee which has planned the park.

County Demos Back Ban On Cross-Filing

The Marin County Democratic Central Committee last night gave unanimous endorsement to an Assembly bill to abolish cross-filing in California.

But the endorsing resolution, to be sent to all state legislators in the 1st Congressional District, opposed the passage of any amendments which would ban pre-primary endorsement of candidates.

The measure (AB118) was passed by the Assembly in its original form and sent to the Senate.

The central committee, which met in the county courthouse, also went on record in favor of fair employment practices legislation and a bill to ban discrimination in publicly assisted housing.

Charles M. Geller of San Anselmo was appointed the committee's legislative chairman.

Gordon W. Strawbridge was recommended to Gov. Edmund G. Brown for appointment to the state Small Craft Harbors Commission.

The committee also made plans for an April 2 luncheon meeting with Congressman Clement W. Miller. The session also will be attended by directors of the Marin Democratic Assembly and local members of the state Democratic Central Committee.

A letter of condolence was sent to Roger Kent, Northern California chairman of the state central committee, on the death yesterday of his brother, Thomas T. Kent of Kentfield.

county's needs. The number of county welfare patients in this category had decreased from 42 in 1955, to 39 last year, to 30 now.

The supervisors said to tell architect Eugene E. Crawford of San Rafael to revise his plans so half of the ambulatory wing could be used for bed-ridden patients.

Fire Extinguished At Trailorboat

Fire broke out in the fiberglass boat-building shop of Trailorboat Engineering Co. at 923 Francisco boulevard, San Rafael this afternoon.

Two trucks of the San Rafael Fire Department responded to a 1:28 p.m. alarm. The fire was out 10 minutes later. Cause or extent of damage could not be immediately determined.

Recreation Meeting Canceled; No Quorum

There was no regular meeting of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Recreation Commission last night due to lack of a quorum. Chairman Albert Kogler said no date was set yet for the next meeting.

He said the three members present tentatively agreed to appoint Sandra Whitney of Mill Valley as new "Art for Fun" teacher.

ing," Gardiner said today. "He has been of tremendous importance and value to the water district because of his extensive experience and background and will be sorely missed by everyone connected with the district."

The four remaining directors will name Kent's successor on the district board. The appointee, who must reside in the same sub-district represented by Kent, will serve the remainder of his four-year term.

CONSERVATIONIST

Kent was a longtime member of the Marin Conservation League, whose president, Mrs. Norman B. Livermore of Ross, mourned his loss today.

Mrs. Livermore said his father, the late William Kent, "set the high peak for conservation in this county, and Tom Kent continued this by following through on all the family traditions. He did wonderful things for the water district, and was always very helpful and sympathetic with the conservation league's work in connection with beaches and parks."

Kent's grandfather, Albert Emmett Kent, migrated to San Francisco from Chicago in the 1860s and settled in Marin County in 1871. Albert Kent acquired extensive property holdings in Marin, including the area now known as Kentfield. The old family mansion at 200 Woodland road, Kent Woodlands, still stands.

MUIR WOODS

The Kent family worked almost without ceasing to preserve Marin County's natural beauty. In 1908, Thomas's father purchased the original 294 acres of what is now Muir Woods National Monument, Marin's greatest tourist attraction.

William Kent made the purchase to keep private interests from spoiling the area, which he later gave to the federal government with a request that it be named after his friend, John Muir, the famed naturalist. The Kent family also donated much of the wild land in the vicinity of Mt. Tamalpais to the state for enjoyment by the public.

Thomas Kent was born in Chicago and spent much of his early youth in Washington, D.C., where his father served three terms in the House of Representatives. The senior Kent was a Bull Moose Republican and, in 1916, California chairman of the Independents for Woodrow Wilson.

A 1915 graduate of Yale University, Thomas Kent was married the following year in Long Island, N.Y., to the former Anne Thompson.

IN AIR CORPS

During World War I he served in the Army Air Corps, flying in squadrons with the late, famed Gen. Billy Mitchell. He did not see combat. After the war, he studied at the University of California's school of mines, then entered the real estate business. He served for a time as a land appraiser for the state Division of Parks.

When the U.S. entered World War II, Kent tried to enlist for military service but was rejected because of his age. Failing this, he took a job as a welder for the Bechtel Corporation, wartime builder of cargo ships at the Marinship yards in Sausalito.

Besides his wife, he is survived by twin daughters, Mrs. Richard Erskine of Kentfield and Mrs. Robert Danielson of San Anselmo; three brothers, Roger of Kentfield, prominent attorney who is Northern California chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, William Jr. of San Francisco and Sherman, with the Central Intelligence Agency in Washington, D.C., and five grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by Keaton's, San Rafael.

The trustees' legal petition is set for hearing in Department 1 of Marin Superior Court on April 6.

The William Babcock Memorial Endowment Fund was established under the terms of the will of Babcock's widow, Julia May Babcock. Mrs. Babcock, a resident of San Rafael for more than 50 years, died in 1954 at the age of 93. She left more than two million dollars to be used to provide medical care for Marin County residents in need of assistance.

After a long and careful study, the endowment fund trustees, with approval of the courts, determined that middle class "white collar" families were most in need of assistance, since well-to-do persons can afford to pay for their own care while indigents qualify for public assistance. More than 300 persons have been helped by the fund since it became operative three years ago.

"We believe this proposal for grants to Marin General is specifically in line with Mrs. Babcock's wishes," Greene and Parker agreed yesterday.

Marin County has two principal needs in the medical field today, they said. First they cited the need for additional hospital beds and facilities. Second they cited continuing need for assistance to middle income groups "to prevent pauperization when they become subject to the high costs of caring for catastrophic illnesses."

The Babcocks came to San Rafael about 1900 and lived at their estate, Edge Hill which after Babcock's death was disposed of to Dominican Convent. Mrs. Babcock subsequently maintained her home in Culloden Park, San Rafael.

Cornelius Sullivan Rites Tomorrow

Graveside services will be held tomorrow at 11:30 a.m. at Mt. Olivet Cemetery for Cornelius Sullivan, Stinson Beach ranch worker who was found dead in a pig-feeding trough last Sunday.

Sullivan, 73, apparently died of natural causes, sheriff's deputies reported. He leaves no known relatives.

A native of Ireland, he lived in California for 50 years and ni Marin for 20 years. He was caretaker for the White Gate Ranch near Stinson Beach.

Charles H. Ulfkott Succumbs At 94

Charles Henry Ulfkott, a retired Sausalito house painter who reached California around Cape Horn in a German sailing ship, died yesterday at a local convalescent hospital after long illness at the age of 94.

A native of Germany, he had lived for 14 years at 816 Spring street in Sausalito. He is survived by his wife, Roxy, and stepson, Herrick Morgan, at that address.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at Russell and Gooch chapel in Mill Valley. Interment will be in Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Film Heroine Due Here

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Gladys Aylward, whose life as a missionary in China was the basis for Ingrid Bergman's film "The Inn of the Sixth Happiness," left for Hong Kong today on her way to Britain and the United States.

Miss Aylward, a onetime London parlormaid, is now over 60 and a Chinese citizen. Although she has never seen the film version of her life, she has complained bitterly because the producers worked a romance into it.

"There have never been any love scenes in my life—never," she told newsmen.

Roz Sues Government

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Rosalind Russell is suing to recover $15,476 which she says the government collected in overpaid taxes.

She contended in her suit, filed yesterday, that maintaining residences in both California and New York was a legitimate business expense in 1953. She was appearing at the time in the Broadway stage production, "Wonderful Town."

Her taxable income that year was $275,000, she said.

But The Noise Ended

HONG KONG (UPI)—Cheung Kun Kui, 20, today began a three-year jail sentence for stabbing his roommate who made sipping noises while drinking water.

Cheung said he stabbed his roommate because the sipping noises kept him awake.

Envoy Expenses Hiked

The foreign service budget, just published, lists Sir Harold's salary at $16,800 a year. But his tax-free expense allowance goes up $9,464 to $94,785 a year, due to price increases in the U.S. capital.

Dog Kills Boy, 5

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—An 80-pound Siberian husky yesterday attacked and killed a 5-year-old boy who had climbed through a hole into a shed where the dog was chained.

Billy Stillions died of a slashed jugular vein and other injuries.

The dog was shot.

Snows Hit Rockies

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Weathermen today issued heavy snow warnings from eastern Colorado and northeastern New Mexico into southwest South Dakota, western Nebraska and northwest Kansas.

The snowstorm began last night in the Central Rockies, dumping one to three-inch accumulations over southern Wyoming and northern Colorado.

Sea 'Conversion' Near

NEW YORK (UPI) — Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton said last night that he felt certain an economical method would be found soon to produce fresh water from sea water.

In a speech at Long Island University's scholarship fund dinner at the Hotel Astor, Seaton said his department was pressing forward with five projects for the conversion of salt water.

When a technique is perfected, he said, it would transform arid lands into rich, fertile areas.

Killed By Firecrackers

PAHOKEE, Fla. (AP)— A farmhand scaring blackbirds from a cornfield with powerful firecrackers was killed yesterday when a box of "giant salutes" exploded under his arm.

Deputy Sheriff Frank O'Connell said Lawson Wilkes lived about five minutes after the blast. A spark from Wilkes' pipe apparently blew into the box, setting off all the explosives at once.

Oversight Was Costly

Texans Handicapped

EL PASO (UPI)—There are times when even Texans have to admit it's a handicap to be too big.

College men at Texas Western squirmed and squeezed but could put only 19 men into a telephone booth.

That was far short of the record set by Modesto (Calif.) Junior College where 32 students sardined themselves into a booth.

It was four short of the 23 sophomores who squeezed themselves into a booth at St. Mary's College, Moraga, Calif.

But it tied the mark set by Hatfield College of England.

Cancer Wins Reported

NEW YORK (AP)—Cancer kills 75,000 Americans each year—needlessly.

The American Cancer Society reported yesterday that 45,000 Americans develop cancer each year.

Last year 150,000 were saved. The report said 75,000 more would have been saved by earlier diagnosis and treatment.

The two most rapidly increasing forms of cancer in older persons are leukemia (cancer of the blood) and lung cancer.

Man Kidnaps Police Chief, Wounds 2nd

BROWNSVILLE, Ore. (AP)—Armed possemen searched today for a gunman who abducted one police chief, then shot another before hiding in the timbered Cascade Mountain foothills.

Sheriff George Miller said the gunman was Richard Allen Hunt, 27, a Harrisburg, Ore., dairy worker.

McPhee was taken prisoner at gun point. He was released 10 miles out of town.

McPhee, picked up by another motorist, then phoned to Brownsville, alerting Police Chief Robert Kemnow.

Kemnow spotted Hunt's car and gave chase. Hunt's auto went out of control into a ditch and he leaped out and exchanged gunfire. Kemnow fell with a bullet in the head. He is expected to recover.

Hunt vanished up a timbered ridge.

Britain To Arm Iraq Despite Pact Pullout

LONDON (AP)—Britain's policy of supplying arms to Iraq will remain unaffected by the decision of the Iraqi government to withdraw from the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact, a Foreign Office spokesman said today.

Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem yesterday announced the decision to pull out of the alliance. His move may have been intended to mollify both the pan-Arab followers of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic and the Communist bloc.

AIR BASE

The Foreign Office spokesman said Iraq has not asked Britain to abandon its air staging base at Habbaniyah, west of Baghdad, where about 600 Royal Air Force personnel and several planes are stationed. But he said its position "and various other bilateral arrangements between ourselves and the Iraqis are under discussion."

As to arms for Iraq, Britain has been reported considering resuming shipments which were stopped when Kassem's revolt last July overthrew the pro-Western monarchy and government.

PULLOUT EXPECTED

Iraq's withdrawal from the Baghdad Pact had been expected since last July.

The alliance took its name from the Iraqi capital, where the pact was signed in 1955 by Iraq, Iran, Pakistan, Turkey and Britain. The other four governments and the United States already had written off Iraq as a military ally.

The first reaction from the United Arab Republic was one of disdain. The semi-official Middle East News Agency, repeating the old charge that the pact sought to destroy Arab nationalism, said this also was the aim of "Kassem's policy as well as the penetration of Communist imperialism into Iraq."

Russ Warned On Berlin By De Gaulle

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle served notice on Russia today that if passage to West Berlin is blocked "the Soviet troops stationed in Germany would have the Western powers to deal with."

De Gaulle, speaking at the first press conference ever held by a French chief of state, plunged directly into the question of Berlin.

De Gaulle confirmed he would attend an East-West summit conference, which he said "must be prepared and could only operate in an atmosphere of calm."

He said the Moscow diplomatic offensive posed three major questions:

1. The possibility of measures which would obstruct the movements of American, British and French military elements between West Berlin and the western zone of Germany.

2. Division of the German people which would be posed by the separation of Germany into two states.

3. The disarmament in Europe of a zone essentially enveloping Germany.

Mountain Lion Hunt Postponed

A hunt for a mountain lion reported in Sleepy Hollow's wooded area has been postponed for several days because of illness of Beveridge Franklyn, the county's animal hunter, Agricultural Commissioner Thomas W. Peryam said today.

The county is also trying to track down another mountain lion which has been reported knocking over garbage cans at Ft. Baker.

Last week Franklyn killed a bobcat at Stinson Beach which had been slaughtering sheep, said Peryam.

Mrs. Duncan Thinks Chances For Appeal 'Are Just Fine'

VENTURA (AP)—"I think my chances for an appeal are just fine," says condemned murderess Elizabeth Duncan.

She made that statement yesterday after being declared sane and subject to the death sentence for hiring the murder of her daughter-in-law.

Earlier she had been convicted of first degree murder and her punishment set at execution in the gas chamber.

Immediately after Superior Court Judge Charles F. Blackstock accepted the conclusions of two psychiatrists that Mrs. Duncan was sane, defense attorney S. Ward Sullivan filed a motion for a new trial and asked that Mrs. Duncan's son Frank, 30, a Santa Barbara attorney, be associated with him.

Judge Blackstock said he would consider the motion April 3. If he denies it, he is expected to sentence Mrs. Duncan at that time.

Sullivan has said he would carry an appeal from the conviction to the higher courts.

Mrs. Duncan, jealous of Frank's bride, Olga, 30, was convicted of hiring two men to kill her daughter-in-law on the promise of paying $6,000. Augustine Baldonado, 26, and Luis Moya, 20, confessed kidnaping and strangling Olga. They are awaiting trial.

Allies Won't Be Blackmailed Into Summit Conference, Ike Declares

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he believes the Western allies will have to meet at the summit with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to get any sort of valid agreement on German problems.

But no one is going to command the United States and the other Western powers to show up at a top level conference, the President told a news conference emphatically.

The West will not be bluffed or blackmailed into going to the summit, he said

Eisenhower thus said again, although indirectly, that his attendance at any summit meeting will be contingent on progress at an earlier conference of East-West foreign ministers.

The President was asked specifically whether he attaches any conditions to meeting at the summit with Khrushchev and this country's Western Allies.

EARLIER REPORTS

At the time of Eisenhower's talk with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan there were reports from British quarters that Eisenhower had agreed unconditionally to go to a summit meeting.

Today the President noted that the reply of the Western Allies to a March 2 Soviet note regarding a summit conference has now been coordinated with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. That reply, he added, will be made public soon, and the answer to the matter of any conditions in connection with a summit meeting will be disclosed in that note.

CONVICTIONS KNOWN

But he went on to say that his convictions concerning a summit conference have been known for years and that he never has changed them.

He added he doesn't expect to change them unless something cataclysmic develops.

That was an obvious allusion to his statements, as recently as a week ago, that he would go to a summit meeting if developments in the meantime should warrant it.

Hawaiian Statehood Leader Dies

HONOLULU (AP) — Samuel Wilder King, a leader in Hawaii's long fight for statehood, died last night. He was 72.

King, a Republican member of the territory's House of Representatives, was a retired Navy captain, former delegate to Congress and a former governor of the islands.

He recently announced his intention of running for governor in Hawaii's first state elections.

King was elected delegate to Congress in 1934 and was re-elected three times. He gave up his congressional seat in 1942 to return to active duty in the Navy at the age of 56.

King was the unanimous choice for president of the islands' constitutional convention in 1950. He was chairman of the Hawaii statehood commission for four years.

His death was attributed to heart failure.

NAVY'S CHIEF SAYS RUSSIA HAS 450 SUBS

LONDON (AP)—U.S. Navy Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. said today the Soviet Union has about 450 submarines compared with the 125 the United States could put into action, "but numbers aren't everything."

The United States has 33 nuclear-powered submarines actually in service or being completed, Gates told a news conference.

Striking San Jose Newspaper Unions Reject Arbitration

SAN JOSE (UPI)—Representatives of the striking Pressmen and Stereotypers Unions have rejected an offer to arbitrate the dispute that has closed the San Jose Mercury and News for 40 days.

The offer was made yesterday by Joseph B. Ridder, publisher of the papers, after the Downtown Merchants Assn. published an open letter asking that both sides submit the dispute to arbitration.

Ridder told the association in a telegram that he was willing to resume publication pending settlement by arbitration.

But a statement from the striking unions replied that although arbitration was the answer before the strike, the dispute could now be settled "thoroughly and justly when the publisher will sit in on negotiations and consider the genuine issues."

Bill Would Bar Kids From Mexico

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A youth who "habitually" frequents Mexican border towns would be presumed to be misbehaving under the terms of a bill introduced in the state senate.

The measure, authored by Sen. Nelson Dilworth (R-Hemet), declares that persons under 21 who make a habit of crossing into Mexico without an adult chaperon are "in danger of leading an idle, dissolute, lewd or immoral life."

The bill would permit juvenile courts to send youths to reform schools for making several unaccompanied border crossings. No evidence of actual immoral activities would be required.

Golf Club Has 2 New Directors

There are two new faces on the board of directors of the Indian Valley Golf Club, Dr. David Rosehill, president, announced today.

Directors Robert Nyberg and Nate Rosenberg have been replaced by Dr. Albert Buckwald and Fred Volz.

It Was Respectable Society Which Condemned Christ

By LOUIS CASSELS
U.P. International

Jesus of Nazareth was one of thousands of Jewish pilgrims who came to the holy city of Jerusalem to celebrate the Feast of the Passover in the spring of the year 30 A.D.

Five days after he arrived, he was seized and slain.

Why?

The young teacher's reputation had reached Jerusalem long before he did. For at least a year, and probably two years, he had been attracting huge crowds in his travels through his home province of Galilee.

The religious leaders in the capital had heard that he healed the sick, that he associated freely with publicans and sinners, that he broke many of the strict rules they had laid down about such things as fasting and keeping the Sabbath.

Most shocking of all, he claimed the power to forgive sins. This, to the guardians of orthodoxy, was a blasphemous usurpation of the authority of God.

Soon after he arrived in Jerusalem, Jesus went to the temple. He found its courtyard filled with the booths of money-changers, pigeon-merchants and other concessionaires who were charging fraudulent prices for items which pilgrims required to make the prescribed sacrifices in the temple.

Seizing a whip of knotted cords, Jesus drove them out and overturned their tables. He said they were turning his Father's house into a den of thieves.

Powerful members of the religious hierarchy had an interest in the temple rackets. They were now convinced that this troublemaker had to go.

While they were plotting how to seize him without creating an uproar among the general populace, they were approached by one of Jesus' disciples, a man named Judas Iscariot.

For reasons that can only be guessed—perhaps he was disillusioned with Jesus' refusal to become the political liberator that many devout Jews expected the Messiah to be — Judas offered to betray his master.

The chief priests sealed the deal with 30 pieces of silver.

On Thursday evening, Jesus took his disciples to the upper room of a Jerusalem home for what proved to be their last supper together. It was then 24 hours before the start of the Passover Feast.

Mark's Gospel indicates that Jesus, knowing what lay ahead of him the next day, decided to celebrate the Passover one day in advance.

But recent discoveries, including the Dead Sea scrolls, suggest another explanation. It was customary in those days for rabbis and their pupils to meet on the eve of a great feast day to share a simple "fellowship meal" of bread and wine.

Jesus invested this meal with a special significance for his followers, and its re-enactment later became the central feature of Christian worship.

The earliest account of the simple rite which Jesus performed and commended to his disciples is given in the 11th chapter of Paul's first letter to the Corinthians:

"The Lord Jesus on the night when he was betrayed took bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it, and said, 'This is my body which is broken for you. Do this in remembrance of me.' In the same way also the cup, after supper, saying 'this cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me.'"

Jesus remained with his disciples in the upper room for several hours. He repeated many of His teachings, urging them to prove their discipleship by loving one another and by serving others with humility and unselfishness. He told them what was going to happen to him, and sought to explain why it was necessary. But they could not understand then, so he gave them a simple prescription of faith that has come ringing down the ages:

"Let not your hearts be troubled; believe in God; believe also in me."

Late that night, Jesus and the 11 disciples still with him went to an olive grove called the Garden of Gethsemane. Drawing a little apart from the rest, Jesus fell down and prayed in words that bear witness to his own tortured humanity, as well as to the spirit of perfect obedience which the church has always regarded as one of the hallmarks of his Divinity.

"Oh my father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me. Nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt."

It was there that Judas found him, and betrayed him with a kiss on the cheek. Armed men seized him and carried him away to be tried.

Actually, there were two trials, one during the waning hours of the night before an illegal rump session of the Jewish Sanhedrin, and the other early in the morning before the Roman procurator, Pontius Pilate. Both were travesties of justice, the first because the jury had reached a verdict before the prisoner was brought in, and the second because the judge reversed his ruling in order to appease a mob.

Scholars have made many attempts to apportion the blame for Jesus' condemnation between the Pharisees and Pilate. To the modern reader, however, the fact that stands out is that Jesus was condemned by the most respectable elements of society — the duly constituted representatives of established religion and of Roman civilization.

He was rejected, not by the little people of his own nation, but by the custodians of the status quo who rightly regarded him as one who was "turning the world upside down by his teachings."

"Years ago a woman used to go to a doctor to see if she could have children. Today she must go to the landlord." So writes a well-known columnist with remarkable candor.

If you have been renting, you know there is a lot of truth in what he says. No doubt you've learned of attractive rentals only to find a sign "No children." Or perhaps have rented a place and been forced to move when the baby was born.

Mill Valley Adopts School 'Guideline'

Trustees of the Mill Valley Elementary School District have formally adopted a seven-point "educational program guideline" which will be the district's declaration of school operation.

The program, according to Supt. G. R. McConnell, represents two years intensive study by the Mill Valley Advisory Education Council, plus six months discussion by the trustees.

First point in the outline states: "The primary purpose of the Mill Valley elementary schools is the intellectual development of the child. This shall be achieved by emphasis on the fundamental or academic subjects."

Its second point states: "The educational program shall be so organized that children learn the fundamental or academic subjects in an understandable and useful manner."

Point 3: Children shall learn to use skills and knowledge through creative and independent thinking.

Point 4: The schools shall emphasize the value of intellectual effort.

Point 6: The key to a good educational program is the quality of the teaching staff.

Point 7: Children should learn to understand the world in which they live and to contribute to the welfare of mankind.

The trustees, meeting Monday night, also:

1. Put over until the April 6 meeting a request by Lee C. Megan of Tiburon to exchange pieces of property adjacent to the Strawberry Point School.
2. Indicated their desire to support a Parent-Teacher Council proposal for a future academic fair patterned after the popular science and music fairs.
3. Agreed to designate a representative to meet with representatives of other Southern Marin school districts to discuss district unification as suggested by former Trustee Ralph A. Groves.
4. Set for March 30 an executive session for the annual review of personnel.

O. W. BENNETT
To speak twice here

National Cub Chief Will Speak Here

Adult workers in Marin Cub Scouting will have two opportunities next week to hear O. W. Bennett, national director of Cub Scouting service for the Boy Scouts of America, it was announced today by Richard M. Sims, Marin Scout Council president.

Bennett will be featured speaker Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at a council-wide roundtable at Scout Hall in San Rafael, and again Thursday at 2 p.m. at a tea honoring den mothers of Marin at the San Rafael Improvement Club.

The meetings are open to Cub leaders, committeemen and parents, said Sims.

Bennett developed and promoted the Cub Scout program for boys 8 to 10 years of age. He began as a career Scout executive in 1941 and had been a volunteer for several years before that. He has held his present post since 1952 and for several years was national director of Explorer Service for Boy Scouts.

Youth Arrested For Vagrancy

An 18-year-old San Anselmo youth, caught in San Rafael yesterday with a model pistol and a batch of mail in his pockets, was arrested on suspicion of vagrancy.

He is Eric Dryden Thompson, of 37 Barber avenue, unemployed. Police Officers Leon A. de Lisle and Ray Bleasdale confiscated the model pistol, a metal replica of a single action revolver. The youth told officers he had found the letters, many of them addressed to the county assessor.

The letters were postmarked March 19 and 20 and were mailed from the following addresses: 48 Loma Linda, 180 Sturdivant, 80 Baywood, 14 Baywood, and 210 East Redwood, all of San Anselmo, and 209 Locust avenue, San Rafael.

Thieves, Vandals Hit At 2 Schools

Thieves broke into Silveira School in Marinwood and stole seven cases of soft drinks, the custodian reported to Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos Monday.

And in Reed School District, windows were smashed and a six-foot stick tossed like a javelin into the Bel Aire School. Rocks broke three skylights.

Sheriff's deputies found the double doors on the west side of Silveira School had been forced. Seven cases of soft drinks and seven cases of empty bottles are missing.

Strep Infection Still Prevalent

Nineteen "strep" cases were reported to the county health department during the week. Seven were in San Rafael, six in San Anselmo, two in Novato, and one each in Sausalito, Marin City, Larkspur and a rural area.

Six measles cases were reported, of which five were in San Rafael and one in Marin City, and four mumps cases, with two in San Rafael and one each in San Anselmo and a rural area. There were three cases of gonorrhea and one of syphilis.

Almonte Sanitary Director Quits

Joseph King has submitted his resignation from the Almonte Sanitary District board, citing ill health. He is a retired postal service employee.

The board accepted the resignation with regret. The term expires in September, 1960, according to Chairman Jerome F. Downs.

Giants Get Sam Jones; Give Cards White, Jablonski

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—The St. Louis Cardinals today traded Sam Jones, the major leagues' strikeout king in 1958, and a young pitcher to the San Francisco Giants for outfielder-first baseman Bill White and third baseman Ray Jablonski.

The rookie pitcher who was sent to the Giants with Jones was Don Choate, a 21-year-old right-hander who had a 7-7 record for Omaha in the American Association last season. Choate promptly was assigned to the Giants' Phoenix farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

General Manager Bing Devine of the Cardinals, who announced the deal, said there was no cash involved. He said he and Chub Feeney, vice-president of the Giants, had been negotiating the trade for several weeks.

"We need power as the Giants need pitching," Devine said. "They feel they got pitching in Jones and we got power in White, who will play the outfield for us."

Jones' sidearm fastball and curve are rated among the best in the National League, but he has a reputation for being erratic. He led major league pitchers in strikeouts with 225 last season, but also led the National League in walks with 107.

Jones, who is listed in the record books as 33 years old but actually is suspected as being 35, had a 14-13 record for the Cards and an earned run average of 2.88, second lowest in N. L. The Giants' Stu Miller had the best ERA mark—2.47.

Jones, the tall Negro right-hander, has had a checkered major league career. He broke into the majors with the Cleveland Indians in 1951, and was traded to the Chicago Cubs at the end of the 1954 season, which he spent at Indianapolis.

He pitched a no-hit, no-run game for the Cubs against the Pittsburgh Pirates on May 12, 1955. Following the 1956 campaign, he was sent to the Cards in a 10-player deal.

White, 25, is rated an excellent prospect. He is a left-handed hitter and standout defensive first baseman. However, after he was discharged from a two-year Army hitch last season, the Giants played him in the outfield. He batted .241 in 26 games last year. In 1956, when he broke in with the Giants, he hit 23 homers.

In Phoenix, Manager Bill Rigney of the Giants said:

"To get a man like Jones you have to give up equal value. White was a surplus man at first base because of Orlando Cepeda."

Jablonski, 32, returns to the club with which he broke into the majors in 1953. He is a long-ball hitting right-handed swinger but slow afoot and weak defensively. Last season, he batted .230 with 12 homers and 46 runs batted in. He appeared in 86 games, many as a pinch-hitter.

'RED' HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Hurlers Highlight N.L. Tilts; Spahn, Sanford Strong

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The 37-year-old southpaw who has had nine 20-victory seasons highlighted another day of brilliant all-around Grapefruit League pitching yesterday when he went the distance in a 3-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. Spahn thereby took the play away from Los Angeles' Don Drysdale and Pittsburgh's Vern Law, each of whom also hurled nine innings, as well as San Francisco's Jack Sanford who turned in a powerful seven-inning performance.

Joe Schaffernoth, a 21-year-old rookie, rounded out the string of fine mound jobs when he pitched seven shutout innings in the Chicago Cubs' 4-2 decision over the Cleveland Indians.

BLANKS PHILS

Drysdale, the comeback kid of the Dodger camp, pitched a six-hitter and beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 1-0, when Jim Gentile tripled across a run in the fourth inning. Drysdale, who has given up two runs, walked five and struck out 17 batters in 24 innings this spring, used 109 pitches and faced only 31 batters yesterday.

Law, who had a 14-12 record last season, pitched a four-hitter as the Pittsburgh Pirates scored a 3-1 win over the Detroit Tigers. Gail Harris' second-inning homer produced the only run for Detroit. Hank Foiles had a homer and two singles and Rocky Nelson also homered for the Pirates.

SANFORD STRONG

Sanford, who the Giants hope will approximate his 19-win total of 1957, pitched seven innings and was touched for five hits to lead San Francisco to a 10-4 decision over the Boston Red Sox. Andre Rodgers hit a double and a 400-foot homer to knock in four runs and pace the Giant attack. Rodgers had collected 14 hits in his last 21 tries.

The New York Yankees beat the Chicago White Sox, 6-4, the Baltimore Orioles walloped the Kansas City Athletics, 11-3, and the Washington Senators edged out the Cincinnati Reds, 7-6 ,in other exhibition activity.

THOMAS TO BE SIDELINED 8-12 WEEKS

BOSTON (AP)—Boston University freshman John Thomas, the world high jump record holder, will be sidelined eight to 12 weeks with a foot injury suffered in an elevator mishap.

The track career of the 18-year-old sensation was nearly ended yesterday when his left foot got caught between an elevator and the shaft in a BU building where he is employed part time.

Thomas, who became the first athlete to jump seven feet indoors before registering his world mark of 7 feet, 1¼ inches, suffered three cuts and bruises, but escaped broken bones.

Dr. Chester W. Howe operated on Thomas at Massachusetts Memorial Hospital and said the young Negro star will be confined for several days.

Nats, Celtics Vie Tonight; Hawks Defeat Lakers

If the home court advantage holds up—and it's batting a perfect 6-for-6 so far—the Syracuse Nationals will square their Eastern division series with the Boston Celtics in the National Basketball Assn. playoffs tonight.

The Nats trail 2-1 in the best-of-seven scuffling to determine an Eastern (NBA) champion. But they're the home team tonight and—east and west—narry a visitor has won a game yet.

The St. Louis Hawks followed the pattern in taking a 2-1 lead over the Minneapolis Lakers in the Western division finals last night with a 127-97 romp as Bob Pettit rammed in 39 points. The three games in the West have followed the "home team" trend without a hitch.

If they keep it up, both will go seven games and Boston will nail the Eastern title at home April1 and St. Louis will wrap up Minneapolis 4 games to 3 on March 31 at St. Louis.

Tam District Schools Vie In Marin Tourney Finals

The three members of the Tamalpais High School District advanced undefeated through the first round of the annual Marin County Baseball Tournament yesterday and will fight it out among themselves today for the 1959 championship.

Redwood's Giants, getting a grand slam home run from Eddie Vigno Jr., downed San Rafael Bulldogs, 8-3; Drake, with Keith Chapman cracking a home run, defeated Marin Catholic, 8-4; and the defending champion Tamalpais Indians advanced to the semi-finals with a first round bye. The Indians played George Washington of San Francisco in a practice game last night and lost, 5-1.

Tam and Drake were scheduled to clash at 4 o'clock today for the right to meet Redwood in the finals. Redwood, drawing a bye with Washington at 6:15, automatically advances to the finals.

Vigno, son of a veteran Tiburon semi-professional star, provided the big blow in yesterday's opening game. After Bulldog pitcher Tom Ingram, suffering a bad case of wildness, walked the bases loaded, Vigno cleared them with a blast over the 350-foot mark in left field. That iced the game.

Vigno also had a single. Other Giants hitting safely were Don Simon, Ernie Bray and Bob Anderson.

Tom Leps went the distance on the mound for Redwood, giving up five hits, including sharp singles by Bulldogs John Spadoni and Al Lamperti.

Drake broke open its game with Marin Catholic with a six-run explosion in the third inning, featuring consecutive singles by Pete Dardis, John Larkin, Dave Christian and Dick Llewellyn.

Christian pitched for the Pirates, giving Marin Catholic six hits, including a pair of solid singles by John Boccabella. He drove in two runs.

In the Tam-Washington practice game that concluded yesterday's schedule, Washington's ace pitcher Al Groza limited Tam to three singles and an unearned run as his mates copped the 5-1 decision.

Gilliam Not For Sale, Dodgers Tell Milwaukee

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers brass intimates that another offer has been made for utility infielder Jim Gilliam, but that he is not for sale.

Dodger General Manager Buzzie Bavasi says he isn't making a deal for Gilliam, but Los Angeles could use a front line pitcher and has Don Zimmer, a capable infielder who hit 17 homers last season, riding the bench.

Bavasi and Braves' General Manager John McHale will go over the situation before their teams meet today.

Lewis Ousted As Attorney For Players

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—J. Norman Lewis became the legal representative for the major league baseball players six years ago despite the belligerent opposition of the club owners. Today, the New York attorney has lost the job because of his own belligerence toward the owners.

Lewis was given the ax here yesterday at a meeting of the 16 player representatives. They announced they now have more need for a public relations representative—an agency man to handle endorsements and similar matters—than an attorney.

The representatives, after a day-long meeting, took back to their respective clubs a proposal to set up a central office in New York with Frank Scott to act as their representative. Scott already has served as an agent for numerous players.

Lewis himself made the announcement that his contract, which calls for $20,000 a year and expires March 31, had not been renewed.

"We felt," said one representative, who declined use of his name "that he had become too belligerent toward the owners."

Two recent moves by Lewis led to his dismissal.

One was an attempt to gain a pension fund for International League players. That plan died aborning when players in the Triple A minor league called off a proposed strike in the face of owner insistence that no money was available for such a fund.

The other was Lewis' threatened court action against baseball as an outgrowth of the International League pension plan. Such action would attack the reserve clause which binds a player to one club and a contract requirement repeatedly approved by the players.

The players' major achievements with Lewis' aid were a hike in minimum salaries from $5,000 to the present $7,000, and a more expanded and rewarding pension and insurance plan which collects 60 per cent of television fees from the All-Star game and World Series.

BOWLING ROUNDUP

Marin Kegler Hits 714 Series, 279 Game

Les Colombo of the Marin Bowl Coffee Shop team set two records in the latest edition of the Marin Bowl's 860 Scratch League—marks that will be hard to beat.

Colombo's sensational 714 series and 279 game were the league's highest efforts of the season. He also had games of 223 and 212 as he paced the Coffee Shoppers to a 2-1 decision over Host Liquors and its high scorer, Ed Baranski, 545.

Other results and high scorers: Jimmie and Van's Associated Service (Walt Carter, 600, including games of 232 and 229) d. Archie's Mobil Service (Spencer Ward, 563) by 3-0; Marin Drive-In Liquors (Sam Gilliland, 533) d. Filippo Construction (Zeno Gelatti, 575) by 2-1; Wentworth Painting (Dick Treadway, 560) d. Bermuda Palms (Elbie Bean, 540) by 2-1.

WALT SILVA of Sausalito again led the Marin Bowl's Handicap League scoring last night when he put together games of 219, 207 and 183 for a 609 series for Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. team.

SAM PILLUS led the way Monday night with a 577 series in the Koch Luggage Mixed Handicap League at new Greenbrae Lanes. Following him were Nick Nacca 547, Dick Endy 530 and Herman Salkin 523.

ALSO MONDAY at Greenbrae the Drake Market edged Littleman's in a warmup for a new league scheduled to start next month.

Santa Clara Returns To Grid—On A Minor Scale

SANTA CLARA (AP)—Santa Clara, once a major football power, will resume the game next fall with a program described as simple, inexpensive and for fun.

The Broncos will renew their rivalry with the San Francisco Dons who replaced their big time teams with a minor program in which they play junior varsity and service teams.

Santa Clara announced yesterday that its program will be fashioned after that at USF and the high point of the season probably will come when the two teams meet.

The Rev. James E. Sweeters S.J., vicep resident for student services for Santa Clara, emphasized, "In no way does this minor return to the game of football imply that Santa Clara will again be playing major football teams."

Named as coach was Pat Malley, co-captain of the last major Santa Clara team in 1952 and for the past three years the grid head man at St. Ignatius High School which won two San Francisco city titles.

Father Sweeters explained, "Santa Clara's program is to be simple and inexpensive. There will be no scholarships, no cross country travel, no solicitation of high schol athletes and no spring training . . . There is no intention of the Santa Clara program developing beyond that of attracting normal student interest during the otherwise inactive fall months."

After abandoning football and its big expenses in 1952, Santa Clara kept its equipment.

Malley was appointed officially as assistant to Father Sweeters in administration of student organization with coaching to be one of his jobs.

While in the big time, Santa Clara beat Louisiana State in the Sugar Bowl twice, by 21-14 in 1936 and by 6-0 in 1937, and dumped Kentucky in the Orange Bowl by 21-13 in 1950.

Rams Sign Guzik, Pitt All-American

LOS ANGELES (AP)—John Guzik, 233-pound linebacker from the University of Pittsburgh, returned his signed contract to the Los Angeles Rams yesterday.

He will join a linebacking corps that includes Les Richter, Jack Pardee, Bill Jobko, Roy Wilkins and Jim Jones. Guzik's addition compensates numerically for the retirement of Dick Daugherty, who has entered private business.

Mrs. Garatti Winner Of Novato Tourney

Mrs. John Garatti compiled 41 points to win the Indian Valley Women's Golf Club's "Stableford" tournament yesterday at the Novato links. Mrs. Jerry Evans was second with 38 points and Mrs. Charles Coleman third with 36.

THAT'S NO PLACE FOR BUNNY EGGS

Rigney Says Squad In Better Shape Now Than In 1958

By SCOTT BAILLIE

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Take a walk through sick bay and you'll see most of the San Francisco Giants' opening day lineup for this season.

That guy with 35 stitches in his shin is Willie Mays. The husky Puerto Rican with the racking cough is Orlando Cepeda, the National League rookie of the year in 1958. Daryl Spencer, slated to play second base, is the one with the sore foot and sore arm. Jackie Brandt, who rates as the left fielder, is recovering from a nose operation. And the man with the wired-up jaw and battered teeth is manager Bill Rigney, who drove into a lamp post last month.

So far this year, the harried manager has not been able to field much resembling the club which finished a surprise third last season. But although he bawled out his charges last week for laxness, Rigney declares that the squad seems to be in a slightly better position than at this time last year.

"I feel good about shortstop," Rigney says. "Andre Rogers is playing with a lot more confidence and we're banking on him to make it this time."

This is the biggest change on the club so far. Rigney moved Spencer from shortstop to second so that the hard-throwing, six-foot three Rodgers could play short. Andre, a light hitter in two previous shots with the Giants, won the Pacific Coast League batting championship last year with a .354 average.

Spencer, who is trying to "fix up my hitting" slid to .256 last season after a good start.

There could be another change in the infield and an even more important one. Rigney is mulling over the idea of shifting Cepeda over from first base to third and giving Bill White Orlando's old position. The addition of left-handed White would put more power into a lineup that already is heavy hitting but consists predominantly of right-handed batters.

Rigney says that he will have "one of the most exciting outifelds in the business" with Brandt in left, Mays in center and Felipe Alou in right. All three are fine fielders and exceptionally fast.

If Cepeda remains at first base, it will be Jim Davenport again at third. The quiet Alabaman, Cepeda and catcher Bob Schmidt were three rookies who came through big last year.

The pitching muddle, Rigney's biggest headache, cleared somewhat recently when Al Worthington (11-7) finally signed and Ramon Monzant (8-11) said he might not retire after all.

"We need another man in the bullpen to go with Billy Muffett (4-6 at St. Louis) and Gordon Jones (3-1)," Rigney says. "Joe Shipley could help us a lot if he got over his stage fright."

Shipley, the wild owner of a fast sinker, had a 5-2 record at Phoenix last year and an earned run average of 2.45 in relief. The batters are reported to be just as scared as he is.

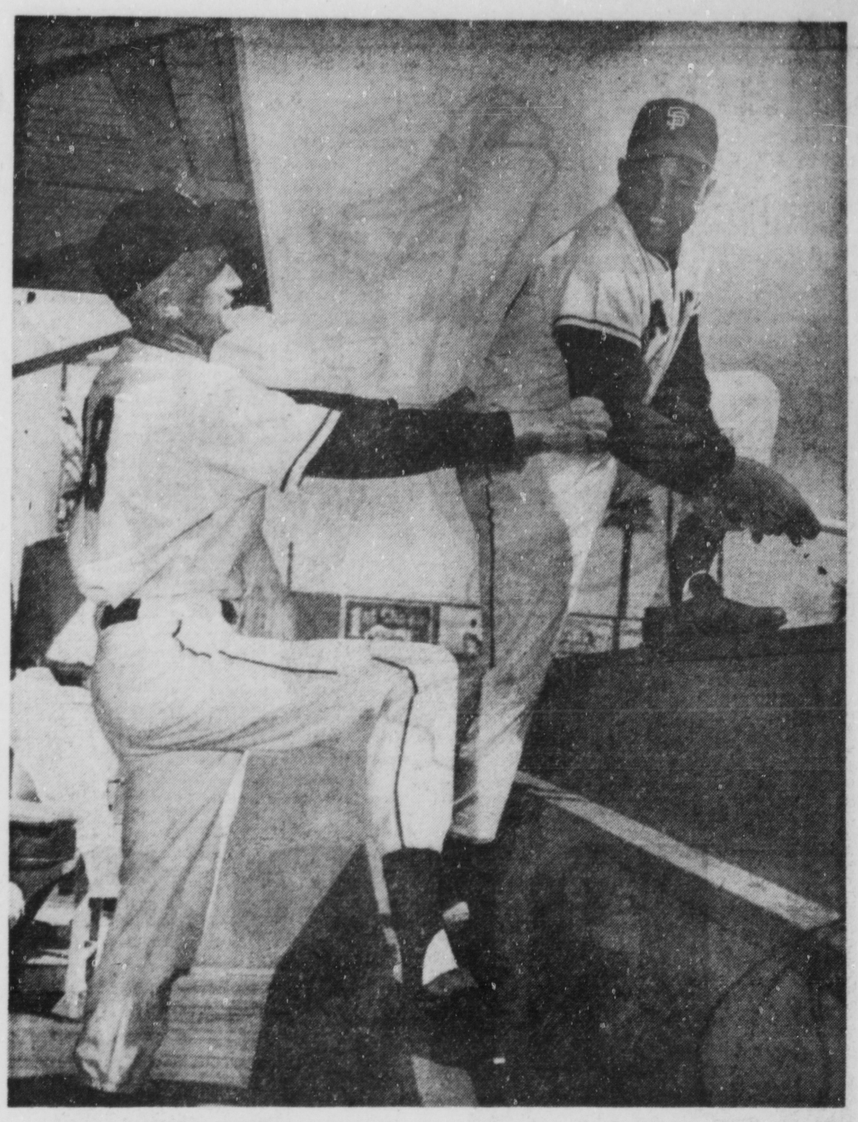
The mainline pitchers are led by southpaw Johnny Antonelli (16-13), Jack Sanford (10-13) who was obtained from Philadelphia, Stu Miller (6-9) whose 2.47 earned run average led the league in 1958, and Mike McCormick 11-8). McCormick, a left-hander, may get an extra day's rest this season. Curt Barclay, who was a starting pitcher when the Giants were still part of New York, is making a comeback from a sore arm. He suffered it during winter bowling and was shipped to Phoenix last year where he had a 12-8 record.

Rigney continues to dicker with the Cardinals for another pitcher.

Schmidt is set again as the No. 1 catcher with Hobie Landrith, another Cardinal acquisition, behind him. Smitty can belt the long ball but Rigney would like to see him tack about 10 or 15 points to his .244 average.

Rookies who have a chance of staying up are Al Stieglitz, another catcher who batted .290 at Corpus Christi, and pitcher Dick Sovde. He is a 6-8½ basketball player from Los Angeles who had a 12-12 record for Corpus Christi and fires the ball from the general vicinity of third base, a la Ewell Blackwell.

"The race will be a scramble all year with no time to let up," says Rigney.



RARING TO GO—Manager Bill Rigney of the San Francisco Giants who suited up for the first time since an auto accident, tries to restrain an eager Willie Mays, who also donned uniform for first time in 10 days. Willie, who suffered a spiked leg and has just recovered, is just raring to get to the batter's cage. (UPI photo)

CONNOLLY

The hot potato has been dropped into the laps of club owners of the American and National Leagues . . . the umpire's pension plan.

And you can thank Frank Lane of Cleveland, the mouthpiece of the umps, for it. Because it was Lane who practically stated he thought the umps should be rated along with the baseball players as pensioners. The player group want no part of the umps, so I am told. But the umps in my book, deservedly so, are entitled to every bit of consideration any ball player gets. Without the umps where would baseball and the players be?

It is Lane's contention that the player and the ump are part of the same family in organized baseball. To be sure players get more money and pay more into the pension plan. But why couldn't the Umps be placed in the same category? Let them pay according to their salary and get what the pension calls for upon retirement.

IT DOESN'T make much sense, I'll grant, but what right has the players to say the umps are outside of baseball?

Ball players and umps are one and the same part of the National pastime. And one of the nicest things about organized baseball that while the players have been convicted and ostracisized from the game for conduct unbecoming professional players, the umps NEVER HAVE BEEN.

In my book, if Frank Lane of Cleveland and his committee can unravel a delicate operation like the umps in the pension plan, they'll earn my undying gratitude.

Think it over and if it doesn't make sense, then tell me what crusader ever did, in the beginning.

INTEREST in the 1959 baseball season presents the brightest picture in organized baseball in many seasons. It is loaded with high spots and players, young and old, who might write a new history for the sport.

What will happen to Mike McCormick, the $80,000 bonus baby and lefthander with the San Francisco Giants?

How about Orlando Cepada, the Puerto Rican who in his first year became the rookie of the year?

Can Stu Miller, the fidgety slow ball flinger with the Giants, continue to baffle the bubble busters of the National League?

How will Milwaukee get along without Red Schoendist?

Willie Mays? Can he keep going or is he reaching the peak?

Can Felipe Alou, Jackie Brandt, Jack Sanford and others, bright in the firmanent of baseball a few years ago, regain their heights?

HAVING KICKED around a matter of 25 years in baseball, I'm inclined to string along with the late Charley Graham, beloved owner of the San Francisco Seals.

It was Graham's fervent contention that baseball's prosperous years traveled in cycles.

"There are seven fat years and seven lean years," Charley used to say.

"The seven fat years follow a war or a catastrophe."

My guess is baseball is starting on its second "fat" year of the seven.

I can't remember when I have ever seen so much interest in spring training.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Lew Hoad's earnings are approaching the $10,000 mark on the Jack Kramer professional tennis tour.

Hoad boosted his win-loss mark to 14-4 and his income to $9,850 with a 6-2, 6-1 victory last night over Mal Anderson.

Snead Sets Pace In Seminole Golf

Snead, of Boca Raton, was operating from a first-day 34-36—70, two strokes below par on the windy, 6,850-yard Seashore course.

A stroke behind were Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., Cary Middlecoff and Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg.

Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., was among those carding 73s. Ben Hogan was out of the top 20 at 75.

Few Changes Urged In '59 Hunting Rules

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Seth Gordon has submitted two of his last official statements as Director of Fish and Game — recommendations for 1959 hunting regulations, and a preliminary analysis of the $100,000 investigation of his operations.

Both were mild and had between-the-lines emphasis on the fact his "lame duck" leadership of the department is nearing an end. The new director, William E. Warne, was expected to assume the directorship by April 1.

The recommendations for 1959 hunting regulations contained few substantive changes from 1958. Another 15-day pheasant hunting season was recommended, which no doubt will cause some stir among the conservation and land owner interests who object to a season longer than 10 days.

The department declined to ask for one hen in the bag in the north, even though its management experts have advocated the taking of one hen by each hunter. This was in effect for three seasons, 1955-57, but was dropped for 1958 because of heavy protests.

Some changes may be suggested when the recommendations, as well as those from the public, are presented to the Fish and Game Commission in Los Angeles April 3. The regulations will be adopted finally in Sacramento May 29.

SAFE BOATING

By HARRY HEIFETZ, Commander
U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, Flotilla 14

BOATS AND LIQUOR

This is another subject that was not originally scheduled for this series, but I think you will agree with me, after reading the letter sent to me, that it needs some discussion. The letter follows:

Dear Mr. Heifetz:

We bought a new cruiser and suddenly I find myself entertaining on board like mad. My husband struts around with a glass in his hand constantly. I would have no objection if he just felt that the glass gave him a certain air, but unfortunately he is constantly refilling it with hard liquor and he never was a heavy drinker before.

When I try to tell him it's not right and is even dangerous taking a boat out with him under the influence, he just laughs it off and tells me that's how it is with yachting people and you have to stay in the swim. I am distracted. Not only am I in fear of physical harm, but we simply can't afford to spend this much money on liquor. Is this really part of boating?

Please say something about this and for goodness sake, don't use my name.

WELL, THAT'S the letter. And with a deep sigh, here is my answer:

Dear Madam:

Letters like yours make me and all other people who love the safe sport of boating both sad and a little sick.

Your husband's entire concept of boating is cockeyed.

Owning a boat does not impose an obligation either to become a lush or use up the grocery money for whiskey for yourself or visitors.

Furthermore, your husband, and in fact all boaters, should know that taking passengers out imposes a legal and moral obligation to get them safely back. No man can carry out that obligation if he is carrying a full load. We would not want you to think that we are against drinking. On the contrary, we like whiskey. But we do not run our boats when we are drinking, any more than we run our cars.

The United States Coast Guard Auxiliary, being dedicated to teaching safety to the boating public, is deeply concerned with situations such as yours. The problem of economics, whether your husband drinks up the food and rent money is yours, although there too you have our sympathy. But the safety factor; that's our concern.

YOUR HUSBAND should know that yachting is no longer a sport of millionaires. Nor is it confined to movie stars. The picture today is quite different. Boating today is a family sport.

On boats large and small, you will find mothers and fathers and children of all sizes, and grandpa and grandma, too.

So let's not spoil the fun.

Your husband should think of a boat as a second home; guests are welcome and a sociable drink is fine, but you have no obligation to send them home staggering under the load.

Finally, if your husband does not change his attitude, then all I can suggest is that you nail your boat to the dock. And maybe your husband too. Good luck!

SYMBOLIC

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

As Easter draws near and attention turns to new chapeaux and the like—why not also give some thought to preparing for your Easter dinner guests a dessert that is not only delicious and different but symbolic of the day as well?

Ideal for the purpose is the Crown of Thorns or Gateau Favorite, made recently by chef Paul Mayer for the Outdoor Art Club's L'Ecole de Cuisine. This is how it is made.

CROWN OF THORNS

Put into a pan ½ cup of water, 2 tbsp. butter and bring to boil slowly. When bubbling, throw in a little under ½ cup of flour. Reduce the flame, and stir briskly over the fire until the mixture forms a shiny ball and leaves the sides of the pan. Beat in 1 at a time 2 whole eggs, beating well between each addition. Mark a circle about 6 inches across on an ungreased flat cookie sheet. Fill the paste into a pastry bag fitted with a plain tube about the size of a quarter and pipe a circle around the outline of the ring on the sheet. Brush the top of the dough with beaten egg, and scatter blanched, shredded almonds about the top of the circle. Bake 10 minutes in a 425 degree oven, shut off the heat, and allow to remain in the oven for another 15 minutes. Cut in half crosswise, remove top of ring and fill bottom half with the following:

PASTRY CREAM

Beat together in a saucepan with wire whisk until light and fluffy, 1 egg, 1 egg yolk, 3 tbsp. flour and 3 tbsp. sugar. Switch to wooden spoon and stir in 2 tsp. gelatine. Pour on ¾ cup hot milk in which 4 ounces of dark sweet chocolate has been dissolved. Stir all together over the fire until filling just boils. Stir it over ice until cool to touch and before it gets too thick, stir in 1 stiffly beaten egg white, 3 tbsp. whipped cream, and 1 tbsp. or more of dark rum or 1 tsp. vanilla. Pipe this through a pastry bag with plain tube into mounds in the bottom of the ring, and then make rosettes of the remainder of the pint of cream which has been whipped, between the peaks of the chocolate mounds. The rosettes are made by placing the whipped cream in a pastry bag with a star tube. Replace the top half of the baked ring and dust lightly with confectioner's sugar.

Spinach and Crab Casserole can be a whole meal in itself or the same recipe baked in a shallow pan may be cut into squares and served as hot hors d'oeuvres.

SPINACH AND CRAB CASSEROLE

Cook 2 boxes frozen chopped spinach, drain and season to taste with salt, pepper and butter.

Spoon into large buttered casserole. On top place ½ lb. grated Martin's New York Cheddar cheese (it will pay to get this cheese even if you have to search for it). On top of this place 1 pound of well picked crabmeat.

In a saucepan melt 2 tbsp. butter. Remove from fire and stir in 2 tbsp. flour and add salt and black pepper. Add 2 cans of tomato soup undiluted and put on fire until it comes to boil. Then add one cup sour cream. To prevent curdling put cream in center—a little at a time and always in the center—gradually stirring the hot mixture in around the edge of the cream. Add onion juice and shredded green onion to taste and pour mixture over crab. Place casserole in 300 degree oven and bake ½ hour.

CUCUMBER SALAD—

Place very thinly peeled cucumber slices in a bowl and scatter salt over them. Continue filling bowl with layers of cucumber slices and salt and, when it is full, put a plate that will fit into the bowl on top of the slices. Place on top of the plate an aluminum foil covered brick and put bowl in refrigerator to stand at least an hour. Remove and drain off all water through collander. Mix cucumber slices with your favorite French dressing, with some parsley and green onion.

HELPFUL HINTS

And here are a few more of those ever so helpful hints.

1. Measure dry ingredients on waxed paper to save washing bowls.

2. Definition of a pinch—what you can hold between thumb and forefinger — not two fingers.

3. Unused egg whites may be stored indefinitely in a covered glass in the refrigerator —even as long as two or three months, and they may also be kept frozen.

4. Trick for deep frying—use the new golden shortening. It will impart nice color.

5. Proper method of peeling tomatoes. Place not more than three at a time in boiling water (off the fire) for a moment. Remove on fork and with tip of very sharp knife cut skin around center of tomato. Each half of skin may then be removed with one motion. Place immediately in very cold water to stop cooking action of boiling water.

6. Baking powder — never keep it more than 3 months and, still better, buy it fresh for anything you want perfect. The small expense is worth while.

7. How to prepare garlic if you do not have a garlic press. Cut clove in slices and cover heavily with salt (being sure to reduce amount of salt called for in recipe). Mash with flat side of knife blade and continue chopping and mashing until fine as desired.

PRETTY AS AN EASTER EGG — Frosted with pink, this raised bread is a delightful Easter breakfast centerpiece, but it is also apropos for the coming season of bridal showers, either afternoon or evening.

After Easter Breakfast Comes The Season Of April Showers

When spring comes, brides can't be far behind. Make an April Shower Party that's pink and pretty. A yeast-raised bread filled with bright cherries and almonds is sure to appeal to the girls. And this Party Bread is pretty enough to use as a centerpiece too. Decorate it with a pale pink frosting with fruit and almond flowers that are good enough to eat. A fruit punch is a bright and refreshing accompaniment. A simple to make and decorative touch to add to your punch is an ice ring with sweetheart roses frozen in it. All you do is fill a metal ring mold with water. Add a few sweetheart roses or other flowers and freeze overnight in the freezer.

PARTY BREAD

½ cup milk
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup shortening
2 tablespoons warm, not hot, water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
1 package or cake yest, active dry or compressed
2¼ cups sifted enriched flour
¾ teaspoon ground cardamon
⅓ cup candied cherries
¼ cup chopped almonds

Scald milk. Stir in sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Measure water into a bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast, lukewarm for compressed yeast). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture. Stir in 1 cup of the flour. Beat thoroughly, and beat until smooth. Cover; let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 30 minutes. Stir down. Add cardamom, cherries and almonds. Stir in remaining 1¼ cups flour. Turn out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic.

Place in greased bowl; brush top with shortening. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 55 minutes. Punch down. Form into round ball and place in round greased cake pan. Cover. Let rise in warm place free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake at 350 degrees F about 35 minutes, When cool frost with Plain Icing* and decorate with candied cherry and almond flowers.

*Plain Icing: Combine 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar, 1 tablespoon milk and ¼ teaspoon of vanilla. Tint pink with vegetable coloring.

Rally 'Round A Big Tureen Of Shrimp, Green Pea Soup

Ingredients: 2½ tablespoons butter or margarine, 2½ tablespoons flour, 2 cups shrimp court bouillon, ¼ cup cooking liquid from green peas, ¼ cup heavy cream, ¾ teaspoon salt, white pepper, ⅛ teaspoon paprika, ½ to ¾ cup cooked drained frozen green peas.

Method: Melt butter in a 1-quart saucepan over low heat; stir in flour. Add court bouillon and green pea liquid; cook and stir constantly over moderately low heat until thickened and bubbly. Stir in cream, salt, pepper, paprika and peas; reheat but do not boil. Makes 3 servings.

Note: To make the court bouillon, bring just to boiling point 1 pound shrimp, 2¼ cups water, ¼ teaspoon peppercorns, ¼ teaspoon whole allspice, 2 whole cloves, ¼ teaspoon celery seed, 1 small bay leaf, 1 small onion (sliced) and a leafy celery rib; simmer 3 minutes or until shrimp are opaque through. Remove and shell shrimp; return shells to cooking liquid and seasonings in saucepan; simmer about 10 minutes; drain. Use court bouillon for soup and shrimp for salad on menu.

Birthday Cake

To make a cake that will long be remembered, bake cake layers in heart shaped pans, using a packaged mix. Stack the layers high with fluffy white icing, then outline the edge of the cake with pink mints.

HEAD FOR THE HILLS — If your Easter plans are full of fresh air and the tang of barbecue smoke, pack a pound or two of frankfurters, an assortment of relishes and be off! Ice packed in plastic containers keeps beverages cold, greens crisp. Portable barbecues are permitted in many places where open fires are not, on beaches of Tomales Bay State Park, for instance.

Kaffee Klatch Yeast Bread With Two Shortcut Twists

More people like sweet breads than cakes and pies for in-betweens. If yon don't believe it, just look around you the next time you stop for a mid-morning or mid-afternoon coffee break while shopping.

This recipe, which begins with a hot roll mix, calls for fig in a most unusual form—Fig Newtons. Make the batch hours or even a day or two earlier and bring out of the oven a couple of hours before oven time

What could be easier?

1 package hot roll mix
3 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup lukewarm water
1-lb. bag Fig Newtons

Combine hot roll mix, sugar and salt. Dissolve yeast from packet in mix in one cup lukewarm water. Stir into dry ingredients. Mix well. Grease top lightly. Cover tightly and store in refrigerator (not over two days). Punch down if necessary. Remove from refrigerator 2½ hours before baking. Divide into two equal parts. For each half,. cut one cellophane packet (8 oz.) Fig Newtons into small pieces. Knead into dough. Shape into braid or loaf, cover and allow to rise in warm place until double in size. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 25 minutes or until a rich brown. While still warm glaze with:

ORANGE GLAZE: Mix ¼ cup orange juice, 2 cups confectioners' sugar, and ¼ teaspoon grated orange rind. Brush on loaf while still warm.

Special Extras For Easter If You're Having Picnic

An Easter picnic calls for something special in the way of savory extras and desserts. The Kidney Bean from Mrs. Douglas Brighton and these different Brownies from Mrs. C. R. Leininger are quite out of the ordinary.

Both are members of the Church of Jesus Christ Church of Latter Day Saints.

KIDNEY BEAN SALAD
Mrs. Douglas Brighton

2 cans beans, rinsed
1 small onion, chopped fine
1 clove garlic
2 parts oil to 1 part wine vinegar—enough to cover ingredients
1 tsp. celery seed
1 tsp. parsley
½ tsp. salt

BROWNIES
Mrs. C. R. Leininger

325° — 30 minutes
2 cups sugar, sifted
4 oz. chocolate
½ cup butter
4 eggs
¼ tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup flour
1 cup chopped walnuts

Melt the chocolate and butter. Meanwhile, beat the eggs, with salt until very light. Add the sifted sugar gradually. Beat until creamy.

Sift and add 1 cup flour, gradually.

Add ½ cup chopped nuts.

Bake the brownies in a well-greased 9x13 inch pan. Pour in the batter and add remaining ½ cup of nuts by sprinkling over the top. Sprinkle lightly with a little sugar over the nuts.

TOUCH OF DILL — In this Stuffed Breast of Veal roast, the ingenuity is in the Sour Cream Dill Sauce. This bacon and cracker stuffing is just one of dozens of ways to complement the mild flavor of this lean budget cut.

Stuffed Breast Of Veal Invites Spice Experiments Ad Infinitum

Breast of veal is one of the more intriguing cuts in the butcher's repertoire. When boned (have the butcher do it for you), it rolls easily around stuffing of infinite variety. The flavor of veal itself is a perfect foil for experiments with herbs and spices. If your family likes stuffing, this one way to have it often without going so far as a big turkey.

STUFFED BREAST OF VEAL

4 lbs. boned veal breast
8 slices bacon
½ cup medium chopped onion
2 In-Er-Seal Packets saltine crackers, coarsely crumbled
¼ tsp. pepper
3 tbsp. finely chopped dill (or 1 tsp. dried dill)
¼ tsp. garlic powder
1 chicken bouillon cube
1 cup boiling water

Fry bacon till well done. Drain on paper towels. Crumble. In same skillet saute onion until golden brown. Add bacon and onion to cracker crumbs, then add pepper, dill, and garlic powder and blend well. Dissolve bouillon cube in water, add to crumb mixture. Fill cavity with stuffing. Bake uncovered in slow oven (300° F.) at least 2 hours (30 minutes to the pound). Serve with:

SOUR CREAM SAUCE

'Glamorous Goo!' Sigh Teeners (Otherwise It's 'Heavenly Hash')

Teenagers call this dessert "Glamorous Goo," but to most of us it's another version of the old favorite "Heavenly Hash." It's easy and simple and just the thing to serve after a rich holiday meal—or at a regular family meal, for that matter.

HEAVENLY HASH

1 No. 2 can fruits for salad
1 banana
1 cup miniature marshmallows
½ pint sour cream dressing
2 tablespoons chopped walnuts or pecans
Maraschino or candied cherries

Drain fruit and peel and slice banana. Combine fruits with marshmallows; stir into sour cream along with chopped nuts. Let stand 2 or 3 hours before serving. Spoon into dessert dishes or serve on slices of plain cake. Garnish with cherries. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

Off-Beat Snack For Late-Late TV

Here's a new idea for a snack to serve after an evening of bridge or TV: Grate 2 cups of Cheddar cheese, dice 4 slices of uncooked bacon and chop 4 green onions, tops and all. Mix together thoroughly with 1 cup of well-drained crushed pineapple. Arrange a thick layer over hamburger buns that have been cut in half, but not toasted. Broil until lightly browned and bubbly. This topping is enough for six buns, cut in half.

Zesty Accent

Color plays a big role in making your meals more appetizing. A touch of green in the guise of a sweet or tangy pickle is an easy way to add both color and zest to a meal.

Tutti-Frutti Sundae

Festive Pineapple Chocolate Frosting

Are you planning a special dessert for Sunday? Here's a festive frosting for your favorite loaf cake (made with a mix) that will finish the meal with a flourish. Mix ½ cup of undrained crushed pineapple, 1 cup of sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, and 2 tablespoons butter or margarine and bring to a boil. Boil for 5 minutes, stirring continuously.

Remove from heat and add ⅔ cup of semi-sweet chocolate bits, 1½ cups of miniature marshmallows and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Continue stirring until frosting is of spreading consistency. Pour frosting on cake all at one time and spread evenly over top.

Florentine Beef—Budget Secret From City Of Ornate Palaces

Simplicity is a characteristic of the food in the region of Italy around Florence. This is in marked contrast to the grandeur all around: the Pitti Palace, Medici Chapel, the Palazzo Vecchi.

This savory beef sauce served with piping hot rice is an example of the truly delicious Italian meat sauces. And the rice? It is a staple in Italy, as national as pasta and polenta.

This main dish is an easy one to prepare. The meat sauce could be prepared early in the day. The rice is quickly and easily cooked in 14 minutes. Then it's pressed in the custard cups. For fancy rice, fluted salad molds may be used.

FLORENTINE BEEF

1 tablespoon cooking fat
1 medium-sized onion, coarsely chopped
½ medium-sized green pepper, coarsely chopped
1 lb. ground beef (more if desired)
2 8-ounce cans tomato sauce
½ cup tomato catsup
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
2 teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon black pepper
1¼ cups uncooked white rice
2½ cups water

Melt the cooking fat in a 2-quart saucepan. Add the onions, green pepper and beef. Cook, stirring occasionally until the beef is browned and the onions and green pepper are tender. Add a small amount of fat if mixture begins to stick.

Stir in the tomato sauce, catsup, Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon of salt and the black pepper. Simmer about 15 minutes. Stir occasionally.

While the meat sauce cooks, put the rice, 1 teaspoon of salt and the water in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat down low. Cover with a lid and simmer over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on at least 10 minutes or until ready to serve.

Just before serving, press the hot rice into 5 ounce custard cups or fluted salad molds. Dip the molds in water before pressing in the rice. Unmold immediately onto serving platter.

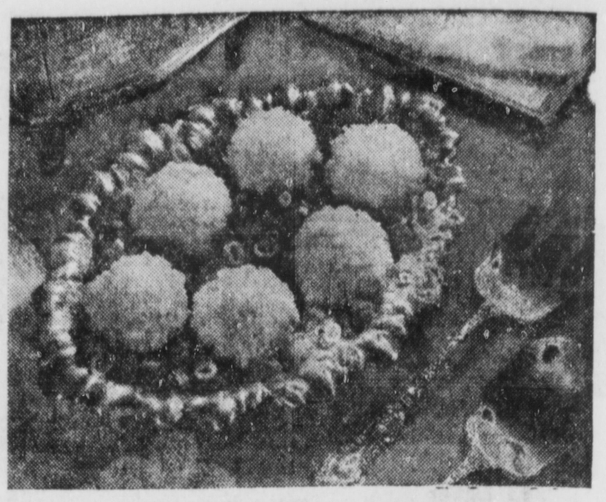
If desired, garnish with green pepper, parsley, watercress or celery leaves. Sprinkle with grated cheese if desired.

This recipe will make 6 to 7 mounds of rice, enough for 6 servings.

When stuffing flank steak be sure to roll up the meat parallel with the grain.



REGAL BEEF — The Florentines are noted not only for the grandeur of their architecture, but for their simple way with food. Florentine Beef puts this mastery to work with a flourish, notably a silver salver to set off a budget dish with regal aplomb.

Olive Etiquette

The only etiquette involved in eating olives, according to the experts, is that you do so gracefully. Take two bites from the large Spanish green stuffed olives and pop the tiny stuffed olives into your mouth whole. Olives with pits are eaten out of hand in two or three small bites and the stones set on your plate.

A DONATION

Improvement Club Benefits Hospital

A donation of $100 from the San Rafael Improvement Club will enable the Women's Auxiliary of San Rafael General Hospital to launch its first project, according to Mrs. Lawrence P. McNear, president.

The project, that of refurnishing the main waiting room at the hospital, was discussed by Auxiliary members at a meeting this week.

The check represents the bulk of the club's profits from participation in a February fashion lunch at Rickey's. Auxiliary members, clad in their red and white candy-striped uniforms, assisted as hostesses at the affair, which had one of the largest audiences in the current series.

At its meeting this week, the Auxiliary also welcomed two new members, Mrs. Victor M. Kagan and Mrs. John Kilsby. They will begin training as hospital volunteers on April 8.

Training sessions will be conducted on the second and fourth Mondays and Wednesdays of each month, with Mesdames McNear, Leiton J. Elder and Walter H. Lethbridge in charge.

Foreign Exchange Students To Speak At P-TA Meeting

On Thursday evening, April 16 at 8 o'clock, the regular meeting of the Redwood High School Parent-Teacher Assn. will be held in the Choral Room of Redwood High School.

A description of the American Field Service program whose area chairman is Mrs. Mortimer Weiss will be presented by Robert Mautner of Redwood, the faculty representative for the Field Service.

The foreign exchange students who are living with families in Marin county and attending the high schools will speak, telling of their homes and backgrounds as well as answering questions from the audience.

Native costumes will be worn by Kimiko Sogabe, from Takamatsu City, Japan, a student at the Katharine Branson School whose foster-parents are Mr. and Mrs. John C. Gilman of Ross, and by Ritva Hannonen from Finland who is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Richards of Corte Madera while attending Tamalpais High. Houshang Dezfulian from Iran who is attending Tamalpais High while living with the family of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dreyfus of Mill Valley will play the santour, a musical instrumust of his native country.

The foster parents will come to the meeting with their student guests. In addition to Kimiko, Houshang and Ritva there will be these others: From Novato High School, Gudrin Zschenderlein from West Berlin, Germany, who is staying with Mr. and Mrs. James Cuzner of Novato; from Sir Francis Drake, Bill Rayner of Opotiki, Auckland, New Zealand, who is living in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Murman of San Anselmo; from Redwood High School, Martina Jiminez of Santiago, Chile, whose foster parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tracy of Greenbrae, from San Rafael High School, Margarite Kasenke of Bonn, West Germany, who is with Mr. and Mrs. James W. McFarland of San Rafael.

There are also two students from Sir Francis Drake High School who represented this country abroad last year on an American Field Service summer trip. Fred Corson who stayed with a family in the Austrian Tyrol and Hale Prather who lived in Grenoble with a French family will also speak.

Robert Kuehnl, chairman of the Foreign Language faculty at Redwood High School will introduce members of his department and describe the courses now being offered and taught there. Mrs. Ida Tracy will present a demonstration showing use of some of the new Language Laboratory techniques of tape recording for which Redwood has made application under the National Defense grant.

After the general meeting the Foreign Language classrooms will be open to interested parents and refreshments will be served in the Homemaking Room by the Hospitality Committee from the Ross area.

All parents and friends of the school are invited to this meeting.

EXCITING CONCERT

Enthusiasm keynoted Marin Music Chest's kick-off tea Monday at the Ross home of Mrs. Norman B. Livermore when district chairmen and their workers were told of the outstanding artists to be presented during the summer concert series.

Judge Carlos R. Freitas, president of the chest, announced the series would open on Sunday afternoon, June 21, with the famous duo pianists, Luboschultz and Nemenoff. This announcement was made more dramatic as Mrs. Melville (Kitty) Oppenheimer, secretary of the chest and its concert manager, was called from the meeting to answer a telephone call from Los Angeles confirming the June 21 date. Dates for the concerts in July and August have not been set. In July the young violinist Michael Rabin, will be featured and the following month, the famous dramatic soprano, Eileen Farrell, will sing. The first three concerts will be in the afternoon and the fourth and concluding event will be in the evening. All will be at Forest Meadows on the Dominican campus, San Rafael. As an incentive to drive workers, Judge Freitas said that if sufficient money were raised by membership subscriptions, the San Francisco Ballet may be secured for the performance in September.

The music scholarships awarded to young people are also a big inducement for chest membership. Judge Freitas reported that during the 25 years the chest has been in existence, 72 scholarships have been awarded with an expenditure of more than $14,000. He expressed the chest's appreciation to Mrs. Livermore for opening her home for the kick-off tea, to Mrs. George Metcalfe, who is heading the annual drive for the third successive year, to Mrs. Oppenheimer, an ardent officer who has served ever since the chest was formed, to Mrs. Boyd Stewart, first vice president; Mrs. Samuel Archibald, second vice president; Mrs. Milton Esberg, third vice president, Ralph Mannella, treasurer and Mrs. Middleton, tea chairman.

Mrs. Metcalfe, introduced by Judge Freitas, announced that the membership drive would open on April 6 and conclude May 6 and that reports will be made at the tea to be held at Maple Lawn, San Rafael home of Miss Louise A. Boyd on May 27. She told of the many new chairmen and workers who have enlisted in the drive and gave these instructions. Mrs. Oppenheimer explained the types of subscriptions and then kits were distributed to the 125 drive chairmen. Nearly 200 women attended the meeting and tea. Taking turns at presiding at the tea table were Mesdames Archibald, Herbert Brainerd, Carl Riznik, Florence Donnelly, Natale Andreotti, Carlos Freitas, William Rattray and Wallace Scott. Table centerpiece was an arrangement of tulip tree blossoms ranging from light lavender to deep purple. Decorations were under the chairmanship of Mrs. Fred H. Sloat who was assisted by Mesdames Eugene Lloyd John Addington, Curtis Knowles, Homer Hood and John Toole.

HAWAIIAN TOUR

Gold Star Mothers Conclave Set For April In San Diego

President Ethel Jordan read the call to convention of the California-Arizona-Nevada Department, which will be held in San Diego at the U. S. Grant Hotel on April 26, 27, 28 and 29. An eight day Hawaiian tour is planned from San Diego immediately after the close of the convention. Other Mothers and friends may join the tour at Los Angeles or in Honolulu from a San Francisco departure. Mrs. Mabel Fine of the San Jose Chapter is tour chairman. She states that the round-trip tour via Pan American World Airways will include accomodations at the Hawaiian Village Hotel on Waikiki Beach, a native luau feast and entertainment, "Hawaii Calls" radio breakfast and luncheon; Mt. Tantalus-Honolulu scenic tour, Pearl Harbor cruise and a visit to Pacific National Cemetery with appropriate ceremonies honoring war heroes.

Arrangements may also be made for return to the Mainland via ship if preferred. It is hoped that several of the local Mothers will be able to take advantage of the tour.

The Marin Chapter will celebrate its 10th annual Birthday Dinner on April 7. Because of this meeting and the Convention occurring within the month, thre will be no stated meeting of the group on the usual meeting date of April 14, according to Mrs. Jordan, who is accepting reservations for the Birthday Dinner.

A theatre party is being planned as part of the evening's entertainment. Maude Francke, Hospital Chairman of the Chapter, announced that the group had received a citation of honor for having the best trimmed Christmas tree at the Yountville party during the holidays. The Chapter frequently visits the hospital.

Rainbow Mothers' Club Entertains For New Members

The Mother's Club of San Rafael Assembly, Order of Rainbow for Girls, held a recent "Get Acquainted" coffee at the Masonic Temple for new members.

A short business meeting was held, with Mrs. Kenneth Walkmeister presiding. Plans were made for a fashion show which will be held at the Masonic Temple, San Rafael on April 11. Clothes from the La Marie Shoppe in Kentfield will be modeled by the Rainbow Girls. Kay Frame, worthy associate advisor, is chairman

The Grand Assembly of the State of California, Order of Rainbow for Girls,, will be held in Fresno during Easter week, and several girls from the San Rafael Assembly will attend. Marilyn Beyer, past worthy advisor, and Marilyn Brown, worthy advisor, were given the honor of being chosen to act as pages during the Grand Assembly.

Lagunitas Parent-Teacher has given honor to one of its members, become publisher for the eighth grade, "Lagunitas Newsette," and nominated and elected its 1959-1960 officers. It also requested a committee of two teachers and the superintendent, Clifford Frye, to purchase with P-TA funds two phonographs for school use.

Mrs. Albert E. Larsen was honored with a life membership in California Congress of Parents and Teachers, particularly for her service to the school and its children and as a member of the governing board of the Lagunitas District School. Mrs. Larsen, a resident of Woodacre has been active in the P-TA and the San Geronimo Valley Youth Association.

Officers elected are Mesdames Robert Prather, president; Milton Johnson, vice president; Glenn Twitchell, recording secretary; Verne Gilstrap, corresponding secretary; William McConnell, treasurer; Norman Peace, financial secretary; John Bonner, auditor; Jack Barnes, historian; and William Simpson, parliamentarian. They will be installed at the meeting on April 2.

The Lagunitas Newsette, edited by the eighth graders and their teacher, Miss Ruth Smith, is being published monthly. News is gathered by Barbara Moyer, Jeff Harriman, Gerald Johnson, Louis Hightower, Joanne Christie, Tommy Kolbe, David Wilson, Hamish Tyler, Jack O'Brien, Rusty Borello, Brian Steen-Larsen and Don Burnham. The paper gives reports of all eight grades, special events and P-TA activities.

"Spring Is the Fashion" was the theme for the fashion show given by Lagunitas P-TA on Saturday in the newly completed community building of the San Geronimo Community Church. P-TA members and their children modeled. Mrs. William Ollenberger was commentator. Modeled were clothes ranging from formal gowns to play outfits which had been made by the members. It was the eleventh year of the fashion show.

Mrs. Vernon Gilstrap was in charge of the program. Mrs. Gilbert Freitas, who was formerly with the San Diego Light Opera Co. sang three songs, accompanied by her voice teacher, Mrs. Bella Resek of Mill Valley. Sue Bechtel, a third grader at the Lagunitas School, gave several acrobatic dances.

Mrs. Milton Johnson and Mrs. John Lindsey were co-chairman of the fashion show and Mrs. William McConnell and Mrs. Hillis Newcomb carried out the spring theme with the decorations.

IN MILL VALLEY

Spring Prints Are Predominant At Golf Club's Benefit Bridge

A capacity crowd of well over 100 members and guests made the Mill Valley Women's Golf Club's benefit bridge recent luncheon an outstanding success, thanks to the hard work of general chairman Mrs. G. F. Conzelman and her committee.

Mrs. A. E. Poarch, who wore an exceptionally lovely blue green flowered print, and her committee used spring flowers for decor, and tables were laid with pastel cloths centered with fascinating candy and nut cups that looked like blossoms.

Just the right kind of day it was for spring prints, but not too warm for a number of fur stoles.

Among those wearing spring prints were Mrs. Philip Dunuing in a predominantly royal blue with matching hat, Mrs. Philip Schafer in black and white with black hat, and Mrs. V. F. Thoney in green that contrasted pleasantly with a pink striped print worn by her guest, Mrs. Paul Cooley, a former member down from Sonoma for the occasion. Making a foursome with them were Mrs. John Garatte and Mrs. R. G. Cornelius.

Looking smart in black and white ensembles were Mrs. Richard Evans, whose guests were Mesdames W. E. Casterson and Joseph Bare; and Mrs. Frank Peters, who shared a table with Mesdames John Hurley, Donald Harper and Robert Lane.

A gay blue and white print and white picture hat were becoming to Mrs. Melvin Moore, whose guests were Mesdames William Weeks, Palmer Clark and L. R. Smith.

Other members with their guests respectively were Mesdames Robert Dean and George Bogel, C. G. Bird and Arthur Foster; J. C. Olson and Taylor Merriman, Wayne Bingham and J. Paul Hurd; Harry Diner and Max Blum, Russell Johnson and L. R. Sumpter.

James McGinnis and Hugh Corthell, James Sparks and Carroll McElroy; Bruno Maraccini and Arthur Doney, Rex Thompson, Donald Park and W. A. Van Buskirk; Howard Kemper and James Delaney, James Wickersham and M. V. O'Brien; W. B. Smillie and John Finn III, Vernt Hockett and Leslie Lowenthal.

Mrs. Conzelman entertained Mesdames G. E. Brennan, her mother and G. C. Gaspar, F. L. Christ, B. R. Crane, K. E. Chasse, Melanie Kliewe, V. S. Partridge and M. R. Wingburg.

Making up foursomes were Mesdames Glen Paulson and Mervyn Mazza with guests Mesdames Norman Tubbs and Spence Harvin; William F. Poole, Paul Brown, Robert Keast and Charles Doyle; E. J. Halm, Sanford Hill, Bill Damerow and Hugh Richardson.

Coordinated Colors Highlight Fashions At Club Luncheon

The Marin Catholic Women's Club's luncheon and fashion show held last week in the Marin Catholic High School auditorium featured some of the most beautiful styles seen in a long time, according to Mrs. John Fracchia and Edward Barry, co-chairmen.

Staged by Macy's with Miss Gay Le Joie, fashion coordinator for Macy's as commentator, the show consisted of a collection of costumes in coordinated colors rather than contrasting themes. They were displayed by professional models.

Casual wear costumes stressed velvety soft leathers in vivid lucious colors, and the spring costume look was carried out in much bold black and white in checks and plaids combined in fresh ways.

3 To Speak On Sandspit In Sausalito

Three qualified speakers, each well informed in his category, will participate in the panel discussion on "Sandspit: Recreation or Restaurant?" at the initial meeting of the newly formed Civics Section of the Sausalito Woman's Club tomorrow at 10:30 a.m.

Robert LaFontaine, chairman of the Recreation Committee in Sausalito, will present the facts on the converting of the sandspit into a recreation area. Sam Weinstein, speaking for the citizens' group to "Save the Waterfront" (not to be confused with the new Waterfront Group formed by the Ark Dwellers) will put forth that group's views on preserving and enhancing Sausalito's greatest asset, the waterfront. J. Herbert Madden, creator and lease holder of the Sandspit in question, will talk on the commercial development of the property.

The formation of the Civics Section is to inform the members of the Woman's Club of the facts involved in matters confronting the community of Sausalito and, thus, better educated members can help in the formation of plans and policies for the city.

Mrs. Charles Diller Ryan and Mrs. Walter Thomson are co-chairman of the new group and they emphasize the importance of becoming better acquainted with the facts pertaining to the civic welfare of the community and ask the members to attend this and all ensuing meetings.

New 'Y' Courses Set Eight Weeks

Women who want more healthy activity in their lives are urged to enroll in the new spring courses offered by the YWCA in Marin County. Starting the week of March 30, classes will be scheduled for eight weeks, during daytime hours.

Golf, tennis, bowling, ice skating, and trimnastics are the choice of spring sports enthusiasts. Classes for both beginners and those more proficient in the sports are available, with trained instructors ready to help each individual.

For those who wish to develop a hobby, a class in mosaics and mobiles will be held on Tuesday mornings, and a watercolor and oil painting class will meet on Thursday afternoons.

New friends and an enjoyable morning may be found in the bridge classes, for beginners on Tuesday, for more advanced players on Wednesday. Based on the Goren Point Count System, the "play-as-you-learn" method is used.

For class times, dates, and meeting places call the YWCA Office, 1010 "B" street, San Rafael, and the new spring folder will be sent upon request.

President Uses Patience, Reason To Lead Nation

During times of crisis, President Eisenhower has often been loudly assailed by critics for not taking strong-arm retaliatory action.

It always seemed to us that the President was able to bring the U.S.A. successfully and advantageously through each crisis by dint of patience and reason. He appeared always to avoid the course advocated by extremists.

Comes now James Marlow, the Associated Press analyst in Washington, to say what we have been thinking. And Marlow, as usual, backs his conclusions by citing the factual record. Here is the way he sees it:

History may show President Eisenhower's greatest contribution to the presidency was his restraint in time of danger and critical stress. Apparently, it has just paid off again.

In a week's time there has been a definite relaxing of tension over Berlin.

Eisenhower has shown restraint a number of times when, through emotionalism or aggressiveness, he could have precipitated unpredictable events, including war.

When the British, French and Israelis invaded Egypt in 1956—and the Soviet Union threatened retaliation that would have meant world war — Eisenhower cracked down on the Allies to stop and get out. They did.

The Red Chinese—bent on destroying Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese on Formosa — at various times have bombarded the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Eisenhower could have resorted to extreme steps.

He could have ordered American planes to bombard the Chinese mainland.

This would have been a good bet to bring on a war with Red China's ally, the U.S.S.R. Instead, Eisenhower used less drastic means to bolster the defense of the islands and sweat out the Red attacks until the Communists quieted down.

The same was true in Indochina when North Viet Nam was falling to rebel forces of Communist Ho Chi-minh and the French colonial masters of Indochina were disintegrating.

Eisenhower could have sent in American planes to bail out the French and smash the Communists. This could have meant war with Red China. Eisenhower didn't.

True, half of Viet Nam was lost to the Reds. But the rest of the country, freed of the French, began for the first time to have a democratic government of its own.

It can be argued that Eisenhower's restrains were a series of negative actions. But Eisenhower, responsible for the leadership not only of this country but of the Western world, used restraint to avoid catastrophes.

There have been other instances, most recently the Berlin crisis created by Premier Nikita Khrushchev who demanded last Nov. 27 that the Allies get their troops out of West Berlin. He appeared to be setting a six-months' deadline for it.

The West assumed he meant by May 27. The West stood firm in refusing to get out, although the Allies eyed each other carefully, wondering if any of them might weaken.

Since November Khrushchev has made puzzling statements, some belligerent, such as warning the West it faced war with the Soviet Union if the Allies, refusing to pull out their troops, attempted to force supplies through Communist East Germany to their Berlin garrisons.

At a couple of news conferences Eisenhower sounded a little heated when talking of Khrushchev and his Berlin demands. He even indicated that any Soviet attempt to throw out the Allies might mean nuclear war.

And he poked hard at Khrushchev, who kept insisting on a summit conference to settle things, that such a conference was useless until the Soviet leader began showing more signs of willingness to negotiate.

Whether or not Khrushchev took this as a real nudge, only he knows. But at least in recent weeks he has talked less belligerently, put more stress on the value of negotiations, and repeatedly said he wasn't setting a deadline or laying down an ultimatum.

Then 10 days ago, as if responding to increasing reasonableness from Khrushchev, Eisenhower in his nationwide broadcast carefully avoided any sign of belligerency or irritation.

He went further than he ever had before, although laying down some conditions, in suggesting not only that a summit conference was possible but that it could be held this summer.

Khrushchev subsequently called a giant news conference. He too sounded reasonable and praised Eisenhower for his reasonableness.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

'See And Know America First'

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Congratulations to Frank George of the Redwood Travel Advisors. The eight tours planned this summer for "young Americans" from 14 to 17 years of age deserve full support. During these times of world strife and communistic infiltrations, how better can we strengthen our youths to this country than to "see and know American first."

One month travel through 21 states stresses our historical background and traditions. I envy my son's opportunity who became No. 1 to sign up.

Women Voters Plead For Funds

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

We are writing to draw to your attention and, to that of your readers, the need for support of the supplemental appropriation of $225 million for economic aid for the Development Loan Fund. This is not a grant, but a loan, which is made on the basis of plans submitted and approved by the lending agency. Congress did not vote the full sum last year, but agreed to supplement it (in fiscal year 1959) if necessary. This has become very urgent, as President Eisenhower has indicated, particularly in view of India's need.

All of Asia is watching the struggles of China and India to raise their standard of living and bring about a better life for their people. In consideration of the Communist economic challenge to the West, it appears vitally necessary for India to succeed in her plans.

The Leagues of Women Voters of Marin County urge readers to address their expressions of support for this supplemental loan to the International Development Loan Fund to:

Berlin Crisis Will Plague Us For At Least Five More Months

WASHINGTON — Week after week, for at least the next five months, the biggest headline-news will revolve around the Berlin crisis. It isn't going to disappear soon. It isn't going to be settled quickly.

In the wake of Premier Khrushchev's effort to force the West out of West Berlin — as Stalin sought to do 10 years ago; in the wake of British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's reconnaissance tour to Moscow and the profitable conversations between President Eisenhower and Mr. Macmillan here last week, it seems to me we are entering a new phase in our relations with the Soviet Union.

HERE IS WHAT I think we need to keep in the front of our minds in order to read the news now in the making:

1 — For the first time since the beginning of the cold war 12 years ago, events are so in motion that significant negotiation between the Soviet Union and the Western allies seems attainable. By again threatening West Berlin Mr. Khrushchev has so stirred things up that they are not going to come to rest again the way they were before, no matter what happens. This means that some issues larger than Berlin are going to be in part resolved by negotiation or, failing, the cold war is going to become colder and tougher.

2 — A Big-Four heads-of-government summit meeting — Eisenhower, Macmillan, De Gaulle, and Khrushchev — is now a certainty. Mr. Macmillan became convinced in Moscow that Premier Khrushchev is the only Soviet official prepared to make decisions in foreign affairs and that he is not willing to negotiate through a mouthpiece. President Eisenhower has for all practical purposes embraced this view. You will recall that he used to talk about being willing to go to a summit conference only if advance preparation showed that some useful agreement could be reached. In his latest report to the nation he stated he hoped for a summit meeting "assuming developments justify." He did not say that advance developments would have to assure agreement.

3 — We need to see clearly the nature of the impasse over Berlin in order to see through to what kind of larger agreement with the Soviets could remove the impasse. The impasse is this: the Soviets want all of the occupying powers out of West Berlin even if Germany remains dismembered. We will not leave West Berlin until Germany is reunited, because the present East German regime is a creature of Moscow.

The West wants to guard against the resurgence of German militarism just as much as the Soviets do. So does Chancellor Adenauer. If this is Moscow's real purpose, then we may be at the point of productive negotiation.

REMEMBER WHEN

10 YEARS AGO

Arnold Forsman, owner of a push-button home near Los Ranchitos subdivision, was expected to appear before the county board of supervisors to protest a ruling which prevented him from charging persons to see his house.

District Atty. A. E. Bagshaw completed his office move to the new wing of the courthouse. He was the first occupant of the addition which was provided by a $300,000 remodeling project.

Marin anglers prepared for the season's first big weekend of striped bass fishing as reports from up and down county shores indicated a run had started.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

An intercollegiate track star invaded the dean's office to protest the behavior of the new coach. "His theories are sound enough," he admitted, "but isn't he supposed to point that old starting gun in the air? I haven't been able to sit down since he checked in here!"

A publicist for Boeing, the outfit that constructs many of those fantastic new jet airliners, has found a way to dramatize their speed. "At a normal rate of breathing," he points out, "a passenger on one of these jets will have traveled more than a mile by the time he has inhaled and exhaled twice!"

A Scotman was aboard the jet that broke commercial records between England and New York. "Describe your sensations," suggested a reporter. "I ha' no sensations," said the Scotsman sourly. "All I know is that five pounds wor' of travel insurance went down the drain."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By ROSS W. ASHLEY

Air Base Newspaper Was 'Scramble' Indeed (Toss That Ball, General Parker)

The "Scramble," post newspaper at Hamilton Air Force Base, lived up to its name last Friday.

The paper is usually published on Fridays, and its staff, in the base Office of Information Services, were relaxing Friday morning after delivering all copy, etc., to the printing company that prints the paper.

Came a phone call from the printers — "We've made a little mix up in a couple of pictures. Is that all right?" they said.

There was quite a scramble in the Scramble offices, with Sgt. Pierce W. Timberlake, editor, bellowing into the phone. "No, it's not all right! Stop the presses!" (they were already stopped, the whole press run having been completed.)

Timberlake blistered the telephone wire to the printers (NOT the I-J commercial printing department — (adv.), and informed them being skinned alive would be the best thing that would happen to them if that edition ever saw the light of day around Hamilton.

It may be O.K. to mix up a few odd volleyball players, but in the Air Force it is emphatically not O.K. to go around misplacing major generals.

Fast action got enough "Scrambles" printed by Saturday for distribution to the Air Force Academy cadets who were leaving Hamilton Sunday. Other subscribers had to wait until Monday for their copies.

A FEW OTHER random notes from Hamilton:

With accustomed resourcefulness, the clubs at AF bases the world over, got around that easy enough. Called 'em reservoirs.

Grab your trunks and let's go reservoiring.

THE AIR FORCE recruiting program undoubtedly got a big boost from the open house last week, and especially from the spectacular flying display of the famed "Thunderbirds."

It may take them a few years to cash in on it, though. Results should be apparent in about 1960 when many of the small fry who watched open-mouthed as the Thunderbirds swept past, reach recruitable age. Some of us old codgers also watched with jaws agape, but the recruiters merely yawn when they notice us.

HEADLINE OF THE WEEK in a San Francisco paper, next to a two-column picture of Sausalito's Sally Stanford — "Stanford To Continue Clinic Another Year."

This is a clinic? (Turns out they were talking about a certain university, rather widely known, but perhaps less so than Sally.)

WASHINGTON WINDOW

With Eye Still On White House, Stassen Runs Again

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Harold Edward Stassen has lowered his sights somewhat and comes up now as a Republican candidate for mayor of Philadelphia.

Stassen was governor of his native Minnesota 20 years ago and thereafter three times a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination.

If Stassen fails this time in his move for the mayoralty, your correspondent and others would not be astonished if he tried to seize a lower rung of the political ladder, county attorney maybe, municipal judge or councilman.

FIRMLY FIXED in Stassen's big, blond head is the idea that he will, sometime, be nominated and elected President of the United States. Others have had that idea before him and failed. Few, however, have pursued the rainbow with greater enthusiasm. Three times elected governor of Minnesota, Stassen resigned with most of a third term still to serve.

He resigned for Naval service, 1943-45 in World War II. Stassen's service was distinguished administratively and in combat.

The young governor had identified himself with the maverick, unbranded elements of the Republican party in 1940 when he floor-managed the National Convention forces which licked the party regulars and made the late Wendell L. Willkie the Republican Presidential nominee.

In 1944, aged 37, Stassen was a candidate for the nomination himself and again in 1948 and 1952. His great decision, however, was that which shifted his voting residence from Minnesota to the east where in 1948 he became president of the University of Pennsylvania.

PENNSYLVANIA is a big, industrial state, a power in the Republican party which Minnesota is not. Stassen's purpose in making Pennsylvania his base of political operations was clear, reasonable and hazardous.

Stassen did not figure much in the Republican politics of 1951-52 which was centered largely on draft-Ike, stop-Taft maneuvers. Appointive office in and about the White House and the State Department after 1952 failed to provide Stassen with the political springboard and identity which he craved and needed.

He achieved that identity in 1955-56, however, by heading up the public operation designed to prevent Vice President Richard M. Nixon from succeeding President Eisenhower in the White House or of being renominated if Eisenhower ran again. Stassen took a bruising beating on that one.

Last year Stassen bid for Pennsylvania's gubernatorial nomination. Pennsylvania's party leaders cut him down. Chose, instead, a political unknown named Arthur T. McGonigle. The Democrats all but ran the Republicans out of the state on election day. That was Stassen's good luck. If he can now be elected mayor of Philadelphia, the man from Minnesota will be on his way again and the party leaders will be tipping their hats.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Audrey Feels There Isn't Time To Do Everything She'd Like

NEW YORK (AP) — "I don't want to play Lady Macbeth or be a big fat star," said Audrey Meadows. "I just want to keep working.

"I'm a kind of slap-happy character. I've loved every show I've been on."

And titian-haired Audrey, the China-born daughter of an Episcopal missionary — she used to teach Sunday School — has been a standout in practically every branch of the entertainment field.

She started as a concert singer at 16. She sang and danced in Broadway musicals. She became known as television's brightest, breeziest young comedienne.

After a two-year layoff, she resumed her career as a quiz show performer and guest star. This Friday night she tries a new role, pinch-hitting for Edward R. Murrow.

"I'm glad they had a sinking spell and hired me for this job," she said, cheerfully. "I've always wanted to be a newspaper gal."

"I've been very fortunate in the shows I've been on and the people I've worked with," said Audrey, who has a nice trait of always speaking well of the other fellow.

She brings a great gusto to living and enjoys a varied life. Because the only musical instrument she can play is the piano — "with one finger" — she plans to take lessons on the guitar.

"I suffer from the feeling there isn't time to do everything I want to," she said. "But I guess if there were time, that would be complete boredom, wouldn't it? It would be frightening."

The only thing that bores her is "a closed mind." The think that attracts her most is "a curious mind."

"So many people today are negative," she said. "I believe in kindness and a faith in something or someone beyond ourselves. If we all practiced kindness on a larger scale, we'd have fewer misunderstandings on all levels.

"I don't believe much in anger or fear.

"THE ONLY thing that really makes me angry is the sight of injustice. The only thing that scares me is the elements — hurricanes, lightning, thunder.

"I don't have many social fears. If there is a job I know I can't do, I don't take it."

Asked what her epitaph would be if she could write it herself, Audrey grinned and said:

"She tried — poor soul!"

Beginning at the Northerly end of that certain course of "North 37° 01′ East 118 feet" in the above described parcel and running thence North 37° 01′ East 210.59 feet to the Southerly line of Laurel Grove Avenue; thence along said Avenue line North 53° 55′ West 25 feet; thence leaving Laurel Grove Avenue and running South 37° 01′ West 210.18 feet and South 52° 59′ East 25 feet to the point of beginning.

PARCEL TWO:

COMMENCING at a point in a creek bed, which point is distant South 59° 45′ East 324 feet, South 54° East 36 feet, North 37° 11′ East 356.4 feet and South 64° 48′ East 63.25 feet from the Easterly corner of that certain tract of land conveyed by David Porter to J. F. Geary by Deed dated April 19, 1871 and recorded in Book I of Deeds page 455, Marin County Records, running thence from said point of commencement along the said creek bed North 64° 48′ West 63.25 feet, thence leaving said creek bed and running thence North 52° 59′ West 65 feet to the Southeasterly line of a 25 foot right of way, thence along said right of way North 37° 01′ East 118 feet, thence leaving said right of way and running South 52° 59′ East to a point which is North 34° 35′ East from the point of commencement, thence South 34° 35′ West to the point of commencement.

COMMENCING at the most Westerly corner of the above described parcel of land running thence North 52° 59′ West 25 feet, thence North 37° 01′ East to the Southerly line of Laurel Grove Avenue, thence Easterly along the Southerly line of Laurel Grove Avenue to a point which is North 37° 01′ East from the point of commencement, thence South 37° 01′ West to the point of commencement.

It being understood, however, that the property to be sold does not include that portion of the hereinbefore described property, sometimes known as 4 Emlin Drive, situate in the County of Marin, State of California, and more particularly described as follows:

BEGINNING at the most Northerly corner of that certain parcel conveyed by Mina A. Lindsay to Wallace A. Smith, et ux, by Deed recorded May 21, 1947 in Liber 552 of Official Records at page 128, Marin County Records, and running thence along the Northeasterly line of said parcel, South 52° 59′ East 100.22 feet to a point on the Northwesterly line of a 25 foot right of way, thence along said right of way line North 37° 01′ East 76.24 feet, thence leaving said right of way line North 52° 59′ West 100.22 feet and thence South 37° 01′ West 76.24 feet to the point of beginning.

TOGETHER WITH a right of way over a parcel of land 25 feet in width lying, Southeasterly of and parallel and adjacent to the following described line: BEGINNING at a point distant South 52° 59′ East 100.22 feet from the most Northerly corner of that certain parcel conveyed by Mina A. Lindsay to Wallace A. Smith, et ux, by deed recorded May 21, 1947 in Liber 552 of Official Records at page 128, Marin County Records: and running thence North 37° 01′ East 236.42 feet more or less to the Southwesterly line of Laurel Grove Avenue.

Bids or offers are invited for said property and must be in writing and will be received at Crocker-Anglo National Bank, Trust Real Estate Department, 1 Montgomery Street, San Francisco, California, or may be filed with the Clerk of the said Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the City and County of San Francisco, or delivered to one of the undersigned executors personally at any time after the first publication of this notice and before the making of the sale.

Terms and conditions of sale: Cash in lawful money of the United States of America, ten per cent of the purchase price to be paid on day of sale, balance on confirmation of sale by the Court and delivery of the executors' deed. All prorations including taxes, rents, insurance premiums and operating and maintenance expenses to be prorated as of the date of recording said executors' deed. Escrow charges, title insurance and recordation of the deed to be paid by the purchaser.

Dated March 19, 1959.

NOTICE TO PAY ASSESSMENTS RED HILL SPECIAL ASSESSMENT DISTRICT NO. 4

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that all owners of real property liable to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses of the acquisitions and improvements described in Resolution of Intention No. 58-6 adopted by the Sanitary Board of Sanitary District No. 5 of Marin County on May 5, 1958, are hereby notified that on March 18, 1959, the assessment and diagram to pay the costs and expenses of said acquisitions and improvements was recorded in my office, and in the office of the County Surveyor of Marin County.

Said assessments are due and payable immediately at the 1st National Bank of San Rafael, Tiburon Branch, Tiburon, California, and must be paid within the period expiring April 20, 1959.

In the event of the failure to pay before the expiration of said period, serial bonds to represent the unpaid assessments and bear interest at the rate of not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum will be issued pursuant to the Improvement Bond Act of 1915, the last installment of which bonds shall mature fourteen (14) years from the second day of July next succeeding ten months from their date.

ADDED MEANING TO EASTER

Three persons, with reason to appreciate the current Easter Seal Drive by the Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., look toward Easter Sunday—the day the drive will end. They are Tim Cain, "Marin Easter Seal Child" of 1959; Harold Russell, president of the Amvets, and Pamela Schmidt, last year's Easter Seal Child, now able to walk.

Marinites Will Dance On TV

"Black and White and Read All Over" is the riddle-inspired newspaper theme of a program 32 Mill Valley dancers will stage on TV station KQED's hour-long Easter show at 7 p.m. tomorrow. The show is produced by dance instructor Dick Ford of Mill Valley.

Kentfield Man Fined For Drunken Driving

Julian Servain Jr. of 55 Quisisana drive, Kentfield, was fined $263 for drunken driving and placed on six months probation by Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. in Marin Municipal Court Monday.

Servain was fined an additional $25 for having no license in his possession when he was arrested March 2 on Highway 101.

Voters Given Chance To Quiz Hopefuls

Listeners to radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" tomorrow morning will have the opportunity to pop questions—via telephone—at five candidates for San Rafael Board of Education.

The five will be guests of moderator Kitty Oppenheimer on the hour-long broadcast starting at 9 a.m. They are Rex Silvernale, C. Paul Bettini and Roderick P. Martinelli, incumbents seeking re-election; C. Roy Calder, systems analyst for a San Francisco bank, and William G. Thompson, well known to KTIM listeners as newscaster Bill Thompson.

Questions telephoned during tomorrow's broadcast will be directed to the panelists. The program will be rebroadcast from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Park Commission Measure Passed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly yesterday passed 52-11 a bill to transfer the powers of the state Park Commission to the director of natural resources.

The bill by Assemblyman Pauline L. Davis (D-Portola) would make the commission an advisory group instead of a policy-making body.

"I think once and for all we'll have responsibility placed for the actions of Beaches and Parks," Mrs. Davis said.

A companion bill giving the power to appoint the chief of the Division of Beaches and Parks to the governor instead of the commission already has been approved by the Assembly.

Mill Valley Commuters Set Annual Dinner For April 3

German music, can-can dancers and movies of old-time Marin commuting will be features of the Mill Valley Commuters Club annual pot-luck dinner set for April 3 at 6:30 p.m. at the Mill Valley Outdoor Art Club, according to general chairman A. P. O'Neill.

With Bill Gavin of radio fame (and also former Commuters club president) as master of ceremonies, the 11th annual dinner is expected to continue the sell-out tradition of former years, O'Neill says.

Furnishing the "Gemutlich" atmosphere will be the Hambergers, a Mill Valley group led by Slade Rathbun, clarinet. Others in the sauerkraut combo are Lee Holman, trombone; Bob Cain, drums and Tommy Dodd, trumpet. Only "outlander" is Bruce Duncan from Larksur on the tuba.

The can-can line will be composed of members of the Dick Ford "Hop, Skip and Dance Theater," a group of Mill Valley girls who already have a number of TV and live performances to their credit.

The girls make their own sets and costumes and have choreographed several of the dances in their repertoire. Members are Wendy Philbrick, Arlene Okubara, Diana Carr, Julie Taylor, Jamie Norton and Joan Taylor.

Featuring a trip on the ferries and electric interurbans of Marin, the movies which commuters will see were taken in 1940. The film was shot by Fred A. Stindt, chairman of the Pacific Coast chapter of the Railway and Locomotive Historical Society.

Plans are also underway to give recognition to Mill Valley's senior commuter. A search is being made for the person who has commuted for the longest period of time—and is still commuting

Reservations for the dinner are being handled by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rhodes and Mr. and Mrs. George Wickham.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

Guidance Counsellor

There Are Subtle Ways To Help Youngsters Learn Love Of Study

Do you have children in the grades? Do you want them to learn to study? Do you want them to do well in their classes, get good report cards, enjoy school? Of course. We all want those things for our children. There are some important things you can do to help your youngsters succeed in school. Check yourself on the questions below

Do you encourage them in reading? Do you take a good children's magazine? Do your children have library cards? Do they use them? Do you sometimes bring interesting books home to them? You can do a lot to help them be good readers.

Do you encourage good handwriting? Many of us beef about bad penmanship. But we do nothing to encourage good handwriting. Do you have your little ones write letters to relatives? And invitations, and thank you notes? They need reasons for writing well.

Do you encourage good spelling? Do you play spelling games with them? Games they can understand and enjoy? When they write letters do you insist that the final copy contain no spelling mistakes? Do you have a simplified dictionary for them? Do they consult it frequently?

Do you encourage the use of arithmetic? Do your youngsters figure out their own expenses? Do they check the change they get at stores? If they don't use arithmetic they forget it fast.

This sort of learning can go on all the time. It's fun. You'll enjoy it, and so will they.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Should we get a children's encyclopedia for our two youngsters? They are 9 and 11."

R.D.

(A) Yes, if you can afford one. I recommend World Book, Compton's or Britannica Junior for children from the third or fourth grade up. Check them at the library and buy the one you like best.

Station KLX To Be Sold

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Tribune Building Co. has completed negotiations for the sale of its radio station KLX, Oakland, to Crowell Collier Publisher Co., Inc., it was announced today.

KLX operates on a frequency of 910 kilocycles and has a power output of 5,000 watts.

Confirmation of the sale is subject to approval by the Federal Communications Commission.

Theologian Cites Importance Of Christ's 'New' Sayings

HOLY WEEK SPEAKER — Dr. Oscar Cullman, Sorbonne professor, tells an assembly at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo this morning that the Book of Thomas, containing 114 sayings of Jesus, will occupy New Testament scholars for decades to come. (Independent-Journal photo)

Bible Expert Speaks At Hub Seminary

The 114 sayings of Jesus strung together in the newly discovered Book of Thomas "will undoubtedly occupy New Testament scholars . . . for decades," Dr. Oscar Cullman told a San Anselmo audience today.

Dr. Cullman, who has in his possession the papyrus book discovered by Egyptian peasants, spoke to some 450 San Francisco Theological Seminary students, faculty members, ministers and visitors at a special assembly at the Presbyterian seminary. His lecture today was the first of two during a visit to San Anselmo— reportedly the only two he will make in the United States away from Union Theological Seminary in New York, where he is a visiting professor.

The document containing the 114 sayings is the most important of several papyrus books which were found by peasants in an ancient jar about 60 miles from Luxor, Egypt, in 1945 or 1946, said Dr. Cullman. At any rate, it is the most important that was preserved. The peasants reportedly used one book to start a fire.

The manuscripts were written in Coptic about the Third or Fourth Century A.D., he said, but "surely go back to Greek originals which are much older—some probably

Hearings Ordered In Juvenile Cases

Strict adherence to state law requiring a hearing before a juvenile court judge whenever a child is detained 48 hours will begin in Marin County on April 1.

Announcement of a change in the current practice (legality of which is doubtful) was contained in a letter from Walter H. Busher, county probation officer, read yesterday to the county board of supervisors.

In Marin County and in most other counties, a probation officer has simply sent the juvenile court judge a written "request for order of detention," Busher said in his letter.

REVIEWS REASONS

The judge (in Marin County he is Superior Court Judge Thomas F. Keating) reviews the probation officer's reasons for continued detention of a child, and ordinarily will sign an order to authorize continued detention until the child's case is decided.

Section 729.5 of the state Welfare and Institutions Code requires that any time a child is kept at a juvenile hall 48 hours the judge of the juvenile court "shall conduct a hearing for the purpose of determining the reasons for the necessity of the detention of the minor."

Judge Keating last year questioned whether the Marin procedure constituted a "hearing," said Busher. In response to a request from Busher, County Counsel Leland H. Jordan prepared a written opinion.

INCLUDE NOTICE

Jordan concluded that Marin did not meet the requirements of the law and that a hearing should "include notice to parties affected (which would mean parent or guardian of the child), since a hearing contemplates an opportunity for parties involved to be heard."

Under the new arrangement starting April 1, Judge Keating will reserve Tuesday and Thursday mornings at 9:30

Juvenile Hall Expansion Upped 20 Beds

Room for 20 additional beds at an expanded Marin County Juvenile Hall was given a green light yesterday by the county board of supervisors, thereby adding $200,000 to the cost of the building now on an architect's drawing board.

Original plans called for 20 beds to be added to the present 20-bed juvenile hall. After the supervisors' action yesterday, the expanded juvenile hall will have a capacity of 60.

KIDS FLUCTUATE

County Administrator Donald A. Jensen told the supervisors that this week the number of children at juvenile hall had fluctuated between 34 and 38. By the time the proposed addition is completed in about a year and a half, he said, more than 40 beds will be needed.

Jensen was directed to pass along the change order to architect Rolland B. Hammond of San Rafael.

The juvenile hall construction had been estimated to cost about $200,000. Doubling the size of the addition will double its cost, estimated Jensen, to $400,000.

The propoced new 102-bed hospital for elderly indigent at Lucas Valley, plus a 76-bed wing for ambulatory patients, are estimated to cost $1,500,000. The twin projects are to be financed under a lease-purchase arrangement.

NUMBER OF PATIENTS

Jensen told the supervisors yesterday that the 76 beds for ambulatory patients was probably out of line with the

Trio Wrests Mother From Span Railing

A suicide-bent blonde was wrested from a Golden Gate Bridge railing early today after she screamed at would-be rescuers: "Go away! Don't come near me!"

Mrs. Ruth Mary O'Shaughnessy, 28-year-old mother of two children who works in a popcorn stand at Playland in San Francisco, was pulled from the railing by California Highway Patrol Officer Charles O. Woodworth while her attention was diverted by two unidentified Army sergeants and tow truck driver Harry D. Wolford, 35, of Fairfax.

It took all four men to subdue the kicking, screaming woman.

Estranged from her husband, Joseph, a hearing aid technician, Mrs. O'Shaughnessy was prevented from another suicide attempt from the bridge on March 3, according to the CHP.

She was taken to San Francisco Hospital psychiatric ward.

Lower Food Prices Nudge Living Cost Down Slightly

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Living costs dipped slightly in February because of some lower food prices, the government reported today.

The Labor Department's consumer price index slipped one-tenth of a point from its January reading of 123.8 to a February level of 123.7. The index is based on 100 as a 1947-49 average.

At this level the index was 1 per cent higher than a year ago, the smallest 12-month increase in three years but still the highest February reading ever.

Only small changes in the index, probably upward, were predicted for the next few months.

Food prices last month fell 0.7 per cent. Principal reductions were in pork, eggs and coffee.

Higher prices were reported for household fuels, some fresh vegetables, medical care, gasoline and barber and beauty shop services.

The department said take-home pay and purchasing power of factory workers set a February record, but was somewhat lower than January and below the all-time high of late 1956.

Babcock Trustees Would Give $1 Million To Marin Hospital

Half Sum Would Help Finance New Wing

Trustees of the William Babcock Memorial Endowment Fund asked court permission yesterday to make a million-dollar gift to Marin General Hospital.

In a petition filed in Marin Superior Court, trustees A. Crawford Greene and John W. Parker asked authority to donate $500,000 to the Marin County Hospital District to help finance construction of a new wing at Marin General.

They also asked permission to pledge $20,000 a year to the hospital to provide care for needy patients sent to the hospital by the Babcock Foundation. Greene and Foster explained that $20,000 is the annual income from $500,000, at 4 per cent, and thus is equivalent to a half-million-dollar grant.

The $500,000 construction grant would be contingent on the hospital district board qualifying again for state and federal fund allocations.

Hospital officials indicated today that a local bond issus still would be necessary in the amount of approximately $500,000, about half the amount of the bond issue which narrowly missed receiving the necessary two-thirds majority last November.

Greene headed the citizens committee that campaigned for passage of those bonds.

At that time a $950,000 bond issus was proposed to qualify for $1,436,830 in state and federal grants and build a 116-bed addition to Marin General Hospital.

In October, 1957, voters had turned down--also by a relatively narrow margin—a $2,652,000 bond issue for additions to the hospital.

Greene and Foster said the gifts are contingent on naming the new hospital addition "William Babcock Memorial Wing." If the hospital district were ever to change the name, they said, the $20,000 per year committment would be cancelled.

WELCOMES GIFTS

The proposed gifts were welcomed by president William P. Goddard of the hospital district board. "I am personally delighted that the Babcock trustees propose to assist Marin General Hospital to add a much-needed wing. There is perhaps no more pressing medical need in Marin County than to provide suitable hospital beds for its residents. Surely we will be able to pass a bond issue this year, with this additional financial assistance," Goddard said.

The hospital district directors will formally receive the

Funeral Rites Tomorrow For Thomas Kent

Funeral services for Thomas T. Kent, prominent member of Marin County's historic "first family," who died yesterday at 66, will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross.

Rev. Harold E. Hallett, rector, will officiate. Inurnment will be at Mt. Tamalpais Crematory.

Kent, whose family founded Kentfield, died while naping in his newly completed beach house in the exclusive Seadrift subdivision in Stinson Beach. He and his wife, Anne, moved into the house only a week ago.

HEART ATTACK

The death of Kent, who had been in failing health for some time, was attributed to a heart attack.

His home was at 131 Goodhill road, Kentfield.

A real estate man, Kent was perhaps best known for his many years of devoted service to Marin Municipal Water District. He became a district director in 1920 and served as president from 1947 until last Jan. 14, when ill health forced him to relinquish the post. He remained on the board, however, as representative of Division 3, which includes the Ross Valley and San Quentin areas.

RE-ELECTED

Last November, Kent was re-elected to the MMWD board without opposition. Robert Anderson of Sausalito succeeded him as president.

During Kent's presidency, the water district nearly doubled in size. Under his leadership, a water storage reservoir was developed near Lagunitas at the lower end of Lagunitas Creek. Completed in 1953, it was named Kent Lake in his honor.

Also during his presidency, plans were completed and a bond issue passed for construction of the district's Nicasio Dam and reservoir, on which work is scheduled to start soon.

Another accomplishment was installation of the district's North Marin water line from Kent Lake to the vicinity of Hamilton Air Force Base.

LEADERSHIP PRAISED

B. J. Brusatori, water district secretary, today described Kent's leadership as "exemplary."

"I don't think anyone could have done a better job," Brusatori said. "He was conscientious and certainly a fair man. He always acted in the best interests of the water district."

Kent's colleagues on the MMWD board last night instructed Samuel W. Gardiner, the district's attorney, to prepare a memorial resolution which will be spread across the board's minutes. After a brief session, the directors adjourned out of respect to the memory of Kent.

MISSED AS FRIEND

"I will certainly miss him as a personal friend of long stand-

HOLY WEEK RITES SET FOR DEVOUT

Observance of Holy Week in Christian churches of Marin will be intensified with special Spy Wednesday and Maundy Thursday rites at many places of worship tonight and tomorrow.

Good Friday will see many business places closed from noon to 3 p.m. when special services will include inter-denominational community services in San Rafael, San Anselmo, Fairfax and Novato.

A community Good Friday service will be held from 12:30 to 2 p.m. at the First Congregational Church of San Rafael.

Another union service will be held in two churches—the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo and the Fairfax Community Church. The San Anselmo service will begin at noon, that in Fairfax at 12:45 p.m. Seven ministers will speak on the Seven Last Words of Christ, first in San Anselmo and then in Fairfax.

In Novato at the Bethel Baptist Church, a union service will be conducted from 1 to 3 p.m.

RAIN HEADING HERE, SAYS WEATHER MAN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A storm appeared headed for California today and the Weather Bureau said rain probably would spread as far south as Monterey and Stockton tonight.

Scattered showers or light rain were predicted for Northern and Central California tomorrow.

There will be snow down to the 2,000-foot level in the Siskiyous and northern Sierra, and down to 4,500 feet in the southern ranges of the Sierra.

Northwesterly winds up to 40 miles an hour were predicted for the San Francisco Bay Area.

Picard Gets Probation In Fatal Bridge Crash

Instead, Judge Lenore Underwood of San Francisco Municipal Court found him guilty of misdemeanor manslaughter and gave him a six-month suspended jail sentence in Jan. 8 death of Emrys Williams, 52, of Sonoma.

EVIDENCE INSUFFICIENT

In a five-page opinion, the court ruled the evidence was insufficient to hold the brewery head on the felony counts.

In passing sentence, Judge Underwood said: "A person of this age and condition has been punished by a terrible experience. No fine or jail sentence would add to the punishment."

Picard, who has heart trouble, broke down at his March 11 preliminary hearing. Today he was instructed to sit down midway through the reading of the long opinion.

The court opinion held "It is not a sound predicate to reach the conclusion he (Picard) was intoxicated" since the only evidence was based on officers' testimony that they smelled liquor on his breath and that his walk was unsteady.

MARKINGS OBSCURE

In addition, Judge Underwood pointed out that witnesses driving the bridge at the same time as the accident testified the markings were obscure because of the rain.

However, she felt that a person "who has been driving the bridge for more than 20 years" should have been driving in the slow lane under the bad weather conditions.

Blind Woman With Dog Hit By Car

Victim was Mrs. Irene I. Clark, 53, of Spokane, Wash., a student at the Guide Dogs for the Blind north of San Rafael. Doctors at San Rafael General Hospital took six stitches to close the wound.

Driver of the car, Miss Dorothea Phillips, in her 70s, of Inverness, was not cited. She told Officer John Rosentangle she was headed east on Fourth street and did not see the blind woman crossing north at D street. She said the blind woman walked into the right side of her car. Officer Rosentangle said the victim was apparently hit by a pointed bracket on the side view mirror.

Tibet Revolt Spreads, India Paper Claims

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Tibetan revolt against Chinese Communist rule has spread throughout the mountain land, an Indian newspaper close to the Nehru government reported today.

Reports persisted fighting had subsided in the capital of Lhasa, with the Reds still in command. But the pro-government Hindustan Times said the rebellion had spread to all corners of Tibet and that the Dalai Lama was "not in Chinese hands."

There was no official confirmation of the Hindustan Times report.

The whereabouts of the 23-year-old Asian monarch, worshipped by Tibetans as the reincarnation of Buddha, and his role in the rebellion still were vague.

"According to one version he went underground before the fighting started in Lhasa five days ago," the Times said, "and his palace is now guarded by Chinese pickets."

The more general theory, however, was that the youthful god-king was still in his 1,000-room hillside palace under Communist surveillance.

A spokesman for the Indian government, which has the only foreign diplomatic mission in Lhasa, said he had "no correct information" on the latest developements in Tibet.

On Formosa, Chinese Nationalist officials, cheered by the revolt, said that Red China was rushing strong reinforcements to Tibet, where the occupation force has been estimated at 50,000 troops.

Boy, 4, Dragged Under Car, Escapes Serious Injuries

A 4-year-old Mill Valley boy narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday at 3:50 p.m. when he was dragged under the front wheel of a car rolling down a driveway.

Douglas Forsythe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Forsythe of 20 Serra drive, was playing in the driveway of the J. R. Melbostad home at 355 Vista Linda, when a group of children in the car apparently released its brakes, said Mill Valley police.

As the car rolled down the driveway, the boy was caught by a door handle and dragged. When the car stopped he was pinned to the pavement by a wheel.

Police jacked up the car and the boy was taken to Marin General Hospital by Mill Valley Fire Department ambulance. He was found to be suffering from possible chest and back injuries but apparently with no broken bones. Attendants today described his condition as good.

Apartment Zoning Allows But 32 Units

A apartment project for the Balzarini-Moats property in Corte Madera's Meadowsweet area, scaled down to 32 units, won 3-1 approval of the Marin County Board of Supervisors last night.

"Planned residential" zoning for the property, which keeps architectural control in the hands of the county, was approved on motion of Supervisor William D. Fusselman. Supervisor Vera Schultz cast the dissenting vote.

DELAY DEFEATED

Fusselman moved the approval after his motion to postpone decision until all members of the board of supervisors were present lost on a 2-2 split. Supervisor James A. Marshall joined Fusselman in voting for delay. Supervisor William Gnoss was the absentee.

The action came after a three-hour hearing during which opponents and proponents of the zoning re-plowed much of the ground gone over in 10 months of hearings on zoning of the 3.45-acre parcel, and turned up a few new nuggets of dirt.

Before the board was a request by the Meadowsweet Improvement Assn. for return of the property to zoning for one-family homes on 10,000-square foot lots. That was the restriction before it was rezoned "planned residential" last summer.

DOWN SHE GOES

During the 10 months, attrition at a series of hearings had worn down the number of units to be permitted from 72 to 64, then 55, then 44, then 35. Last night Fusselman, who insisted on the 35-unit restriction at a Jan. 6 hearing, said he'd meant 32—which would make the density exactly the same as with duplexes. Adjoining property on two sides is duplex-zoned.

One developer, Frederick C. Rowley, dropped out of the picture when the 35-unit limit was imposed, declaring it was uneconomical to develop property for so few units. If any other developer has appeared, he was not mentioned last night.

But the owners, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Balzarini and Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan C. Moats, still wanted the multiple zoning. They were represented by attorney Phillip A. Kennedy.

OPPONENTS SPEAK

W. W. Nichols of 1065 Meadowsweet drive, who did most of the speaking for the embattled anti-apartment group, reminded that Fusselman had promised Jan. 6 he would move to restore the one-family zoning if an opinion from County Counsel Leland H. Jordan said the county would face no threat of suit by so doing. He tossed in an implied threat of a suit "by 35 property owners" if multiple zoning were allowed to stand.

Fusselman pointed out that an opinion by Jordan warned the board must find there had been material change in character of the neighborhood to warrant rezoning back to the former status. There was no evidence of change away from the multiple dwellings, he contended.

Nichols claimed the multiple zoning last summer "as got by falsehoods," therefore, "I claim the whole zoning was illegal."

'PIG PENS'

His bitterness was matched by Norman H. McCollom, school teacher of 990 Meadowsweet drive who was one of a string of pro-apartment speakers. McCollam referred to fenced back yards of homes that might be built on the highway-side property as giving hillside dwellers "a view of a bunch of pig pens."

When Nichols objected, and chairman Walter R. Castro cautioned about his langueg, McCollom retorted: " I didn't know there were any pigs present."

Fusselman said he deemed the property, which fronts the Highway 101 service road, unsuitable for one-family homes. Mrs. Schultz, on the other hand, said she felt granting multiple zoning would be "a break in the dike" and alter the neighborhood.

Medic Building Granted Permit In Mill Valley

The Mill Valley Planning Commission last night granted a use permit for the construction of a building for Dr. William H. Pemberton, at Miller avenue and Millwood street for the use of three psychologists and three psychiatrists.

Dr. Pemberton said that the building would be designed by Mill Valley designer Michael Wornum, chairman of the city's architectural advisory subcommittee.

The planners also granted a variance to the First Baptist Church which will permit expansion of the church's facilities, provided five offstreet parking spaces are included.

The planners will submit the names of Sim Van Der Ryn and Robert C. Mountjoy, both architects, to Mayor Robert D. Huber as candidates for appointment to the architecural advisory subcommittee to replace Mario Corbett, resigned.

Committee Chairman Wornum recommended the committee be increased from seven to eight members.

The subcommittee also changed its meeting time from the first Thursday in the month to the second and fourth Mondays.

Nave's Garage To Move To New Novato Site

Nave's Garage, a Novato landmark at Grant avenue and Highway 101 for four decades, will move next Monday to larger quarters.

John J. Angeloni, owner, said all operations of the firm, now spread over several locations, will be combined in one place at the new location. This includes sales of Dodge and Plymouth automobiles, Dodge trucks and a newly acquired auto line — the Studebaker Lark, used car sales, garage and body shop.

A new 80-foot building will be constructed at the new location to permit expansion, Angeloni said.

Complex Hopps Trial Ends; Briefs To Be Filed

Attorney Calvin Rampton of Salt Lake City yesterday characterized Belvedere financier Stewart B. Hopps in a San Francisco Federal Court trial as a man whom British insurance syndicates "wouldn't touch with a 10-foot pole."

Judge Louis E. Goodman gave Rampton 80 days to produce briefs supporting his contentions that Hopps sold Inland Empire Insurance Co. of Salt Lake City "down the river" by financial shenanigans. Rampton claimed Hopps controlled Inland through dummy directors.

Hopps' attorney, J. W. Ehrlich of Corte Madera, was given 80 days to produce his own set of briefs, to support Hopps' claim that he was simply a reinsurance broker and couldn't be blamed if Inland went broke.

ATTORNEY'S TASK

The burden of proof, however, was placed on Rampton, attorney for Continental National Bank and Trust Co. of Salt Lake City. Judge Goodman told him: Because Hopps was termed a scalawag "doesn't mean I am going to take money away from him . . . It doesn't entitle you take a bucket and brush big red paint all over. You have to produce evidence to collect two million dollars."

Rampton, who is seeking to collect $2,459,701 damages for his client, wound up his closing argument in the trial by labeling Hopps a man "traveling under false colors" and blackballed by Lloyds of London.

HOPPS' DENIAL

Hopps, wholly unperturbed, denied everything. He has friends in London insurance circles, he said—and enemies.

As the 11-day trial reached its end, Judge Goodman commented:

"It is the most complex situation I have ever come into contact with. The defendant is a man of prodigious multiplicity of acts in the insurance field. But that doesn't necessarily make him a fraudulent character."

Judge Sentences 2 Drunk Drivers

Two drunken drivers were sentenced yesterday by Judge Richard M. Sims in Marin Municipal Court.

Robert Michael Stafford, 20, of 140 Greenwood avenue, San Rafael, must pay a $250 fine for drunken driving on Panoramic Highway last Saturday. The fine must be paid after he completes a jail term which he is already serving for another crime. On Feb. 2, he was jailed for petty theft and was sentenced to 90 days in jail.

Robert Walter Wilcox, 22, of 47 Brookwood lane, Ross, drew a $200 fine and one year probation. He must make restitution for damages caused last Saturday when his car hit two parked vehicles and tossed a tree onto a rooftop on San Rafael's Lincoln avenue.

STOCKS TODAY

Volume for the day was estimated at 3,200,000 shares compared with 3,000,000 yesterday.

Steels, motors and aircrafts trended slightly lower.

American Agricultural Chemical was seven points ahead. Philadelphia and Reading halted its recent decline and recouped three points or so.

Gains of around a point were made by Zenith, Thiokol, Minute Maid, Texas Instrument, Anaconda and Lorillard.

Losses of about a point were taken by U.S. Steel and Jones and Laughlin.

Fractionally lower were the big three motors, United Aircraft, Boeing, American Telephone, Westinghouse Electric, American Tobacco and Pan American World Airways.

Gains of fractions were posted for Texas Co., Southern Pacific, General Dynamics, Philco, Phelps Dodge, Kennecott, International Telephone, Merck and Johns. Manville.

U.S. government bonds were steady.

House Votes Foreign Aid Funds; Ike Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bipartisan House vote for increased spending has given President Eisenhower a major legislative victory but may cost Republicans in Congress some 1960 campaign ammunition.

With heavy Democratic and Republican support, the House late yesterday shouted approval of a $2,657,402,944 supplemental appropriation bill after handing its Appropriations Committee one of its worst setbacks in years.

The principal victory for Eisenhower lay in inclusion of 100 million dollars for the foreign aid development loan program. He had asked 225 million but the committee had allowed nothing.

In addition, the House increased funds for eight other agencies for the remaining three months of the present fiscal year, although not as much as Eisenhower had asked.

None of the spending will directly affect the 77-billion-dollar budget Eisenhower has proposed for next year.

As the bill went to the Senate, it allotted $177,880,500 more than the committee had approved but still was $207,551,532 below the total requested by the President.

Rep. John J. Rooney (D-N.Y.), offered the amendment giving the foreign aid development fund 100 million dollars. Only a handful of Midwestern Republicans and a bloc of Southern Democrats opposed it on the final 183-59 standing vote.

The heavy backing from Republicans was viewed by some Democratic leaders as having taken away much of the momentum from the current GOP drive to label Democrats as big spenders in next year's political wars. Republicans not only heavily supported the loan fund amendment but offered no organized opposition to the other increases.

Corte Madera Center Ups Retail Sales

First indication of the effect of the opening of the Corte Madera Center was reported upon today by the Marin Development Foundation.

The evidence is contained in the report by the state Board of Equalization on taxable retail sales for the third quarter of 1958. Corte Madera's retail sales in that quarter were $960,000, which is up 124 per cent over the $429,000 done by the community's retail merchants in the third quarter of 1957.

Countywide, comparing the same two periods, retail merchants enjoyed an increase in business amounting to 6.6 per cent. Total taxable retail transactions in the county jumped 11.7 per cent, of which the manufacturing, wholesaling and contracting group accounted for the largest increase, amounting to 39.5 per cent.

Fusselman Denies He's 'Most Abusive' Of Supervisors

Supervisor William D. Fusselman yesterday branded as "completely untrue" a colleague's charge that he is the "most abusive" member of the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

It started when the board received a letter from Eugene Neuschwander of Greenbrae, who asked that the question of a special election on the civic center be taken up at yesterday's meeting.

Neuschwander also requested the names of all board members opposed to letting Marin voters express themselves on the multi-million-dollar project. He is one of the three co-chairmen of a newly formed organization of taxpayers opposed to the civic center.

Fusselman said he would be willing to submit a civic center bond issue to the voters, "but I'm not making a formal motion or anything of that kind."

He said the Santa Venetia project will remove the center of government from San Rafael, the county seat, and force the county to abandon its investment in existing government buildings.

Fusselman told his colleagues he was entitled to his "honest opinion" and should not be subjected to attack for expressing it. The reply to Neuschwander's letter, he said, should contain "no attack on any individual member of this board."

HIGHLY IRRITATED

He became highly irritated when Mrs. Schultz began questioning him about 1952 proposals for a county civic center and for additions to the courthouse, both of which proposals were rejected by the voters.

But the big blow-up came when he criticized a six-page memorandum written by Asst. County Administrator Alan Bruce in answer to charges made by the anti-civic center organization. Fusselman said the memo, prepared for the board of supervisors was "colored with evasion."

"We shouldn't ask a member of our staff to explain why we do things," Fusselman snapped.

'STOP FUSSING'

"Oh, Bill, why don't you stop fussing so much!" retorted Mrs. Schultz.

Angered, Fusselman said he was getting sick and tired of taking abuse fom her.

"You," shot back Mrs. Schultz, "are the most abusive member of this board, not only to me but to the public."

Fusselman called this "completely untrue," then warned Mrs. Schultz, "If you start it, you're going to get it back . . . I defy you or anybody else to show where I have taken on anybody unless they asked for it!"

By that time the board already had decided to refer Neuschwander's letter to County Counsel Leland H. Jordan.

Opposition Mounting To Summer Camp Plan

Harold Gregg of Forest Knolls faces increasingly stiff opposition in his effort to secure a county use permit for a children's summer camp near Nicasio.

The delay was asked by attorney Bryan McCarthy, retained by a group of Nicasio Valley property owners bitterly opposed to Gregg's intention of renting the camp to private organizations on weekends during the off-season. This was not mentioned in the permit application.

Last week, the county planning commission voted 4-0 to approve Gregg's application and allow off-season rental to "reputable groups." Two members were absent.

"In my opinion," McCarthy said yesterday, "the face of the application and what came out are two entirely different things."

McCarthy said the opponents aren't against a summer camp, as such, but they don't want the use permit to include approval of a "commercial venture" that would turn the 114-acre site into a picnic ground on off-season weekends.

In other action yesterday, the board of supervisors:

1. Set a public hearing for April 28 at 3 p.m. on annexation of Marinwood Unit 6 to the Marinwood County Services Area.

2. Passed an ordinance to prohibit parking on the north side of San Pedro road between Meadow drive and a point 600 feet southwest of Stetson drive.

3. Authorized hiring a Fels Institute of Pennsylvania government trainee for a six-month period under County Administrator Donald A. Jensen at $150 a month, beginning July 1.

4. Set for April 14 at 11 a.m. the opening of bids for completion of the Gallinas Village sewer treatment plant and construction of valley gutters on Novato's Front street at Elm avenue. The public works department has estimated the treatment plant job should cost slightly less than $14,000 and the Novato work about $3,700.

5. Passed a resolution of intention to add minor work costing $2,987 to a Dillon Beach street improvement project being performed under special assessment district proceedings and set a public hearing on the matter for April 14 at 3 p.m.

6. Postponed until Tuesday at 2 p.m. consideration of developer Gerald P. Hoytt's plans for the initial construction phase of a shopping center proposed for the 15-acre Patterson ranch on Novato's Grant avenue.

7. Approved construction of an above-ground burial vault in Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery and agreed with the county planning commission that additional vaults should be allowed there without a use permit if shown on the cemetery master plan.

8. Set for April 14 at 2 p.m. a hearing on Samuel Neider's petition for commercial zoning of a four-acre hillside parcel in Strawberry.

9. Set for 2 p.m., April 14, a hearing on a proposal to rezone a number of lots in Marin Golf and Country Club Estates Unit 1, near Loma Verde in North Marin, from planned residential to one-family residential district.

10. Appointed the following: Stuart H. Rogers and Mario Gianetti as appraisers in the assessor's office at $436 per month, replacing Harold Payton and Jon Thompson, resigned; Florence Fontez, intermediate typist clerk in the tax collector-treasurer's office at $295 per month, replacing Almea Randle, resigned; George H. Tsegeletos, deputy sheriff, at $376 per month, replacing Bruce A. McLeod, resigned; Robert F. Bertrand, fire warden (Grade 1) in county fire department at $325 per month, to fill a vacancy; Barbara Jones, junior typist clerk in the welfare department at $243 per month, replacing Janice Boe, resigned; Gertrude Hessler, senior stenographer clerk in medical department at $325 per month, to fill new position; Georgianna Sevuiewski, practical nurse at county hospital and farm at $220 per month, filling a vacancy; Jane Curtis, intermediate typist clerk in probation department at $295 per month, replacing Wanda Shaffer, resigned, and Margaret Roberts, group supervisor at juvenile hall at $376 per month, replacing Shirley Maley, resigned

Absentee Ballots Available

San Rafael voters who will be out of the county on April 13—city election day—may apply now for absentee ballots at the city clerk's office.

Absentees may go to the clerk's office and cast sealed ballots now, or turn in written applications for the ballots to be mailed to out-of-county addresses. Applications for absentee ballots must be made with City Clerk W. L. Morgan before 5 p.m. April 8.

The city council met briefly yesterday morning to certify the list of candidates seeking offices in the coming election.

Mayor—Incumbent John F. McInnis, unopposed.

City council — Incumbents Charles W. Aby and Fred E. Jensen, and newcomer Michael McLean. Two to be elected.

Police chief — Incumbent Frank Kelly vs. Charles J. Chiesa.

Park-Recreation Group To Meet

The Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission will welcome two new members and discuss a proposed sprinkling system for the town tree nursery at its meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the town hall.

William M. Ford, chairman, said the meeting will be the first for Morton J. Simon of 21 Lakeside drive and Charles W. Garrison of 8 Echo avenue. The two were appointed to replace Clement W. Miller, Marin's new congressman, and Robert Troppmann, coach at Redwood High School, who both resigned.

Ford said the $150 sprinkling system is being considered to save labor in watering of the several thousand small trees in the nursery.

Retired Teachers Schedule Luncheon

The Marin division of the California State Retired Teachers Assn. will meet Saturday at 12:30 p.m. for a spring luncheon at the Woodlands restaurant in Kentfield.

The program will be under direction of Lyman Mitchell of Kentfield. Mrs. Orpha Farmer is in charge of reservations.

Installation of officers is to be held in May.

BANK BELIEVED THEM

Prank 'Holdup' Backfires On Two Boys, 9 And 13

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two little boys who invaded a branch of the world's largest bank with a holdup note are hoping to be cleared of attempted robbery charges today.

Dan McKay, 9, and Danny Husk, 13, school boys on Easter vacation, said today it was all just a prank to get some play money.

Danny's mother, Mrs. Wilma Husk, said "The boys meant no harm, although they shouldn't have done it."

The boys were en route to a movie when they stopped at the Bank of America Mission branch. The bank had issued some play money as a promotion campaign. The boys said they had lost theirs and wanted more.

Dan marched to the teller's window and placed a slip of paper on the counter. It said (in Danny's handwriting) "Put $100 in sack or we'll blow up the bank. Dan Husk."

"Who gave you this?" demanded Filamine Miller, the teller.

Dan fidgeted and pointed to his buddy. Miss Miller scolded them and said "Get out of here." Danny said he told her it was a joke and apologized. The boys left.

Miss Miller reported the incident to J. C. Bonzani, branch manager, who called police. they traced the Husk boy's address through his school records.

Sheriff Acts To Aid Jr. Rifle Team

The Marin County Sheriff's Office Junior Rifle Team has won the full backing of Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, who assured it the use of the county's pistol range and facilities.

Deputy Sheriff Arthur Wiggins is directing the program, which consists of use, care and safe handling of firearms in conjunction with the state hunter safety program, along with the forming of a rifle team. All instructors are certified by the National Rifle Assn. and the state hunter safety program.

Any boy in Marin between 12 and 16 years old may participate in a period of training and qualification in small bore rifle marksmanship. A rifle team will then be chosen to represent the sheriff's office at local matches. A continuous course in hunter safety will be held together with other activities.

Said Sheriff Mountanos, "I feel that any boy interested in this type of sport should have the benefit of proper training and instruction."

Since this activity cannot be included in the sheriff's budget, Deputy Wiggins said he hopes individuals and organizations will contribute to get supplies and equipment. Contributions may be mailed to Junior Rifle Team, c/o Sheriff's Office, San Rafael.

Sanitary District To Be Discussed

A meeting of Paradise drive property owners to consider forming a sanitary district will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the Reed School auditorium.

The Independent-Journal yesterday mistakenly announced the meeting for last night. Residents who went to Reed School in response to the announcement found a square dance party under way instead of a mass meeting, reported Jack Weber, president of the Paradise Property Owners Assn.

The meeting has been called by the association because of development of Paradise Cay with plans for a sewer line down Paradise drive.

BIG DIFFERENCE

IN WAGONS

BIG DIFFERENCE IN FEATURES

Here's a wagon that's really easy to live with! The 1959 Plymouth offers you ingenious rear-facing third seat and roll-down rear window. And, in addition, you get low-extra-cost comfort and convenience features like new Swivel Seats, push-button heating and transmission. These wonderful new features—plus clean, progressive styling—help explain the peak popularity that Plymouth station wagons are enjoying today.

BIG DIFFERENCE IN RIDE AND PERFORMANCE

No other low-price wagon can match Plymouth's Torsion-Aire Ride, yours at no extra cost. You enjoy superb handling ease with no roll or sway on turns, no front-end dive on stops. Or you can choose optional Constant Level Torsion-Aire to keep your wagon level no matter the load or the road. And you can thrill to V-8 power, including optional New Golden Commando 395, biggest engine in the low-price field.

BIG DIFFERENCE IN SPACE

Plymouth boasts the longest wheelbase (a full 122 inches) in its field, plus a loading deck almost 10 feet long. This means you get 95 cubic feet of cargo capacity—more than you'll find in any other low-price wagon. You simply can't buy a bigger, more useful wagon for the money!

BIG DIFFERENCE IN ECONOMY

Plymouth won the Mobilgas Economy Run in the low-price class two years in a row. And only Plymouth offers a Fuel-Saver Choke and new 3-stage carburetor for maximum gas savings. What's more, all Plymouth standard V-8 and 6 engines perform at peak efficiency on regular gas.

BUT...YOU DON'T PAY FOR THE DIFFERENCE

The three top-selling 1959 station wagons are all priced within a very few dollars of each other. But only the Plymouth gives you the Big Difference for your money...and you get high trade-in value, too!

COME IN FOR YOUR "TWO-MILE TRY-OUT" NOW!

Get behind the wheel of a Plymouth. Prove to yourself that Plymouth wagons deliver the Big Difference in features, ride, performance, economy, space. Ask your Plymouth dealer for your "Two-Mile Try-Out."

So much the same in price...so different on the road!

JIMMY FRENCH TAKES BRIDE

The St. Patrick's Day marriage of James E. French III and Jocelyn Ludditt was announced yesterday by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Ludditt of 8 Gregory drive, Fairfax. The quiet ceremony, with only a few friends and relatives present, was at St. Rita's Church in Fairfax. The young couple, shown above, will make their home in the apartment the 22-year-old French, son of wealthy auto dealer James E. French Jr., recently rented at 292½ Butterfield road, San Anselmo. Young French is recovering from an attack of the "bends" suffered when he rose to the surface too quickly after setting a new skin-diving record off the Monterey coast.

Bad Debts Charge Against 2 Dropped

Two Bolinas men, accused of failing to pay rent and grocery bills last November, were freed in Marin Municipal Court yesterday because they have made full restitution of money owed.

Deputy Dist. Atty. P. Roy Vallarino moved for dismissal of charges against William Porter, 64, who says he is a retired college professor, and Robert A. McDonald, 38, who claims to be Porter's secretary. Judge Richard M. Sims dismissed the petty theft charge.

Vallarino said the men made full restitution of $82 which they owed. He decided to ask for dismissal because he felt there was not enough evidence to hold them for trial. The two were suspected of running up bills for rent, telephone and groceries.

DRIVER CONVICTED

Jury Unimpressed By Cough Medicine Alibi

A drunken driver's argument that he became tipsy more from cough medicine than from Scotch whisky failed to impress a jury in Marin Municipal Court last night.

A jury of seven women and five men took just 40 minutes to convict George Donald Currie, 40, partner in the Old Spaghetti Factory restaurant in San Francisco, of drunken driving.

Sausalito police arrested Currie on Second street last Aug. 7. A subsequent blood test showed Currie had an alcohol content of .298, much too high for anyone to be driving.

Currie's attorney Richard Gladstein, contended his client was influenced more by elixir of terpin hydrate, a cough medicine, than by liquor. But the prosecutor, Deputy Dist. Atty. Bruce Bales, convinced the jury that alcohol is alcohol, whether it comes from Scotch, wine or elixir.

Judge Albert F. Scheidecker of Sebastopol, sitting in Marin Municipal Court, set April 14 at 3:30 p.m. for a report from the probation office and sentencing of Currie.

Congress passed an act in April, 1848, establishing a regular mounted mail route from San Diego to San Francisco.

State Farm Wages Total $892 Yearly

NEW YORK (UPI)—The importation of Mexican farm workers has so depressed wages in California and other areas that it is a wonder that there still are domestic farm workers, a report of the National Sharecroppers Fund said today.

"But there are," the report said, and they averaged an annual income of $892 in 1957, according to Department of Agriculture figures.

Square Dance Party

The Charm - N - Farmers Square Dance Club will hold a party night April 4 at 8 p.m. in Davidson School, San Rafael, to the music of the Westernaires of San Jose and the voice of caller Larry Twist of San Rafael, according to Mrs. Milton Adams, general chairman.

Nick's Cove Bid Study Postponed

Consideration of bids for expanding and improving Miller Park boating facilities at Nick's Cove on Tomales Bay was postponed by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday until 2 p.m. Tuesday.

The delay was requested by Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham, who said all five bids opened last week are over the estimate. Low bidder was Carey Brothers Construction Co. of Greenbrae at $43,287.

On the strength of an estimate by Brigham two years ago, the state Wildlife Conservation Board last year allocated $33,092 for the project. The county is required to pay any cost beyond that figure.

Brigham said yesterday he plans to take up the matter with state officials this week in hopes of obtaining an additional allocation for the project. He noted that construction costs have risen since the estimate was made.

Novato Firemen To Stage Egg Hunt

Weather permitting, the Novato Volunteer Firemen's Assn. will stage its fifth annual Easter egg hunt starting at noon Saturday.

Firemen will color 180 dozen eggs this week for the event, which is open to all children through age 8.

The egg hunt will be staged on the Safeway Stores property on Diablo avenue, near Highway 101.

Marin GOP Supports Un-American Committee

The Un-American Activities Committee should be retained by Congress, the Marin County Republican Central Committee decided unanimously at its monthly meeting in the courthouse last night.

The committee's views will be sent to Rep. Clement W. Miller and Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, announced chairman Elmer S. Worlund.

Mrs. Robert D. Irwin of San Rafael was elected to fill a vacancy in the 1st District, and Richard Grant of Inverness was made an associate member. Mrs. Irwin is a teacher and a member of the GOP State Central Committee.

Edward Grundstrom of Novato was made chairman of the 4th District precinct committee. William H. MacKay of Kentfield was appointed chairman of a special committee to work with volunteer organizations to arrange fund-raising events, first of which will probably be a "Hawaiian Night" dance and entertainment marking the admission of the 50th state. Edward P. Ward of Corte Madera and John H. Davis of Belvedere will serve as advisers to MacKay.

Chairman Worlund also named a program committee for "Victory in 1960" headed by George Thierbach of Corte Madera, with Russ Lauterwasser of Larkspur, Sidney Howard of Sausalito, John H. Davis of Belvedere, Nat Williams and Harry Butterworth Jr. of San Rafael as members. This committee is to set up a program of work to help elect a Republican slate in the general election next year.

Worlund announced at least 25 Marin residents will attend a dinner at the Whitcomb Hotel in San Francisco Saturday to hear Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield.

Serve On Transport

Serving aboard the Navy attack transport Paul Revere operating out of San Diego are Jack B. Skinner, electronics technician third class, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Skinner of 14 Ridgewood drive, San Rafael, and Wesley G. Meyer, dental technician second class, of 51 Elm avenue, San Anselmo.

Big Share Of Flood Assessment Raised

Property owners in the newly formed Tamalpais Valley Flood Control Assessment District already have raised 42.13 per cent of the district's total assessment of $24,750.

Eugene K. Sturgis, the district's attorney, jubilantly announced to the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday that cash payments of assessment bills amount to $10,426.28. The average assessment is $71.44.

Sturgis said this leaves a balance of $14,323.72 to be raised by a 15-year bond issue under the Improvement Bond Act of 1915. The high percentage of cash payments "amazed us all," he told the board.

The special district was formed last month to raise local funds needed for a $630,000 flood control project on Coyote Creek. The project will be undertaken by the Army Corps of Engineers. Anticipated federal and state allocations are $400,000 and $215,000, respectively.

Sturgis said Stone and Youngberg, San Francisco investment brokerage firm, has offered to purchase district bonds at par, with an interest rate of 5½ per cent. In view of this, he said he could see no reason to advertise for bids.

The attorney said it would cost about $35 to advertise. He added with a smile that word of Stone and Youngberg's offer "will be on Montgomery street tomorow."

Chairman Walter R. Castro said he favored advertising for bids. But Supervisor William D. Fusselman suggested the matter be continued one week, giving the board an opportunity to "just listen and see what happens." His view prevailed.

Emergency Medical Help Authorized

Emergency help for the county medical department was authorized yesterday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, after a full report of the medical department's services was submitted by County Administrator Donald A. Jensen.

The authorized appropriation of $2,650 for April 1 to July 1 would allow for addition of a general practitioner, a surgeon, a medical social worker and a typist clerk to the staff of Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy Jr., county physician.

Jensen's analysis showed that the 13 doctors on the medical department staff cost the county an average of $4.16 an hour exclusive of call time, compared to the flat rate of $6.66 per hour which is paid by the county health department for private doctors who participate in child welfare conferences.

In Jensen's letter of recommendation, he included a recommendation "that the board of supervisors compliment the county physician and the doctors working for him for the excellent care they are giving county patients at minimum cost to the taxpayers."

Granting the emergency appropriation was moved by Supervisor William D. Fusselman and unanimously approved. (Supervisor William A. Gnoss, ill with a cold, was absent.)

Dr. Dufficy had requested the emergency aid on Feb. 25 but action was postponed until a report was made on the medical department's current activities.

Fireman's Fund Elects Marinite

Louis W. Niggeman of San Anselmo has been elected executive vice president and board member of Fireman's Fund Insurance Co. and its affiliates, it was announced today.

The company also revealed appointment of Claudius A. DesChamps of Sausalito as a vice president and controller, and of Myron DuBain of Kentfield as assistant vice president.

DesChamps earlier this month was named co-chairman of a group of Marin residents opposed to the multi-million-dollar Marin County Civic Center.

A second high school for San Rafael, south of Terra Linda, should be ready for 700 students by September, 1960, the board of education said last night in calling for bids on the $1,400,000 plant.

Bids on the new high school will be opened at a special meeting set for 7:30 p.m. May 5. The bid opening date was set far ahead because the school officials are trying to get in under a federal law that provides financial help on the basis of the number of federally connected children in the school district.

ANNOUNCEMENT PENDS

The contract must be awarded after the federal government announces a date for allocation of funds under Public Law 815. The announcement is expected about May 1.

The new high school will go up on a 30-acre site west of Hartzell School, about one-third of a mile south of the Freitas ranch house.

SWEEPING REVIEW

In a sweeping review of improvements in elementary schools, the board of education took these actions:

1. Appointed architect Gromme to draw up rough sketches for possible expansion of Coleman School in the Dominican area. Some of the students in the Coleman area are being transported to E Street School and San Pedro School. School board members want to know whether it would be more advantageous to expand Coleman School, where land is limited, or to build a new elementary school on open land opposite the present San Rafael High School.

SCHOOL REMODELING

2. Approved remodeling the Davidson School office at a cost not to exceed $3,000. The alterations will provide an office for the principal of Laurel Dell Intermediate School and make better use of the existing office space. The school district's own crews will make the changes.

3. Set April 28 as opening date for bids on dressing room lockers for Santa Venetia School.

4. Authorized placing 3,000 yards of additional fill at McPhail School to eliminate puddles in the playground area. Cost of fill is 71 cents per yard for moving and spreading.

HONORED—A/2c Archie L. Marcum of San Rafael has been named "Crew Chief of the Month" for February by the 78th Organizational Maintenance Squadron of the 78th Fighter Group at Hamilton Air Force Base. Marcum was chosen (on the basis of performance upon T33 jet trainer which he services) on his neatness, job knowledge and leadership. (Air Force photo)

Talent Show Slated At San Quentin

Even inmates at San Quentin Prison will take part in the "Easter Parade" on Sunday. Only instead of the usual sporting of new finery, the prisoners' parade will be one of talent.

Known as "Esque's Easter Parade," a variety show will be staged on the outdoor handball courts at 10:30 a. m. The 20 acts are expected to last two and one-half hours, said Associate Warden W. D. Achuff.

Carrying out the traditional Easter style show, 30 prisoners will display their new handmade spring hats. Two men dressed as bunnies will do a novelty song and dance routine.

Other musical selections, skits and tumbling acts will round out the entertainment. The San Quentin Band will provide music.

Land Trade Agreement Seen Feasible

The proposed land swap and joint financing of Union street improvement, tentatively agreed between the San Rafael City Council and school district, can probably be resolved without too much difficulty, board of education member C. Paul Bettini declared last night.

On March 10, three members of the city council met with the school board and agreed the city would close High street if the school district would pay $12,000 to help improve Union street from Third to Mission. The city would then give up its rights on Fourth street extension from Union to High street in exchange for a strip of school land along San Pedro road.

But on March 16, the city council decided to take another look at the swap because Councilman Fred E. Jensen said he thought the city got the short end of the deal.

Last night Bettini said he feels he can talk to "certain members" of the city council and work out a solution along the lines of the original swapping agreement. The board of education appointed Bettini and Roderick P. Martinelli to contact councilmen.

In other action last night, the board:

1. Set April 7 as a date to discuss budget policies for the coming fiscal year.
2. Postponed appointment of a director for the summer school. Both Webster D. Wilson, director of instruction and guidance, and Robert Royal, vice principal of Davidson School, were mentioned as possibilities.
3. Approved a bereavement leave policy for classified personnel. Administrators and teachers already have bereavement leave. Hereafter, classified personnel will also get three days bereavement leave and two additional days at the discretion of the school board.

Fire Protection Topic Of Mayors

A continuing discussion of the county fire protection situation is scheduled for consideration at tonight's meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors to be held at the Blue Rock Inn in Larkspur at 7 p.m.

Also on the agenda will be open burning ordinances, pedestrian safety and the organizational structure of the mayors' council.

Carried over from the February meeting will be the proposed one-cent state gas tax increase for local street improvements and cost of police protection and distribution of the resulting tax burden.

Investment Series Starts Monday

Charles C. Clarke of Kentfield, partner in a San Francisco investment banking and brokerage firm, will start his 23rd annual series of lectures and discussions on investments next Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the College of Marin.

Part of the adult education program of the college, the series will consist of 10 meetings on successive Monday nights.

ANOTHER FERRY LINE DISAPPEARS

Its decks loaded with last day commuters from New Jersey, the New York Central's ferryboat Weehawken heads into its Hudson River slip at 42nd street yesterday. Looking at the approaching ferry is bridgeman Daniel Jaeger ,who has been on the job for 14 years. Service, started in 1829 by a company using paddlewheel boats and taken over by the New York Central in 1885, ended last night. Central officials said huge losses in running the ferries forced them to close the service. The 5,000 commuters using it daily will have to find other means of transportation. (AP Wirephoto)

ANOTHER HONEST MAN DISCOVERED

The Kentucky fair and exposition center has received an unsigned postcard with a dime taped to it saying:

"This 10 cents is for use of pay toilet during Shrine circus when I had no change."

Wife Slayer Sentenced To Prison

Prince Sam Davis, 34, who shot his common-law wife to death Christmas Eve, must spend from one to 10 years in state prison.

He was sentenced yesterday for manslaughter by Judge Jordan L. Martinelli in Marin Superior Court.

The garbage man said he shot Viola Baker, 32, at their apartment because he feared she would grab a kitchen knife and attack him and their 9-month-old boy.

A jury of 10 women and two men had the job of deciding whether Davis was guilty of murder in the first or second degree, murder or manslaughter, or innocent. They deliberated for more than eight hours Monday night and found him guilty of manslaughter.

Income Tax Forms Available At Bank

Income tax forms, both state and federal, are available to the public at the main office and all branch offices of the First National Bank of San Rafael, it was announced today by Fred Brylka, chief clerk.

Branches are located in Novato, Belvedere. Kentfield, Corte Madera and Mill Valley. Deadline for filing the tax returns is April 15.

GOP Charges Brown With 'Dictatorship'

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Republican leaders said today the Brown administration was "degenerating into a total dictatorship" by pressuring legislators to vote for its water and tax program.

The chairman of the GOP caucus, Assemblyman Walter I. Dahl of Oakland, said, "I regret to see the governor resorting to what appears to be blackjack policies with the Legislature."

Assemblyman Harold K. Levering (R-Los Angeles), a leader of the economy bloc, said "The administration has moved in and tried to usurp the prerogatives of the legislators from our obligation to vote on issues as we see fit. This is degenerating into a total dictatorship."

BROWN STATEMENT

Gov. Edmund G. Brown said yesterday that legislators "who come in with additional appropriation items and refuse to vote for taxes are going to be disclosed . . ."

Brown made that statement after newsmen had asked him why a $3,560,000 aqueduct right of way from Avenal to Santa Maria Valley had been deleted from his budget in an Assembly committee. The proposed aqueduct would serve Santa Barbara County.

Brown replied that it might have been deleted because he was investigating the possibility of getting federal aid for the project.

MAY BE THE REASON

"Maybe that's the reason for it," Brown said, "or it might have been that Mr. Holmes is against a water project."

Assemblyman James Holmes, a Republican from Santa Barbara, spoke and voted against Brown's plan to earmark the 170-million-dollar investment fund for water project construction on Monday.

Holmes charged the administration had cut out his aqueduct to punish him for his vote.

COUNT US OUT—George P. Anderson of Ukiah, a director of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, rises to answer a question about his testimony yesterday before a Senate interim committee meeting in Sacramento on the proposed Golden Gate Authority. Anderson told the Committee on Bay Area Problems that the bridge and highway district should not be put into the nine-county agency which would manage bridges, seaports and airports in the area. (AP Wirephoto)

Secretary Admits Drunk Charge

Novato legal secretary Gladys C. Crawford, 50 who allegedly slapped and kicked a deputy sheriff on March 6, switched her plea to guilty of drunkenness yesterday.

Charges of disturbing the peace and resisting arrest were dismissed. Judge Richard M. Sims set 3:30 p.m. tomorrow for judgment.

Mrs. Crawford, who lives at 1530 Indian Valley road in Novato, was arrested at the Tiburon Playhouse parking lot. Bystanders reported she was slapping her daughter. Deputy Sheriff Edward Klementovich said he went to investigate and was greeted with a volley of abusive language from the secretary.

When three officers tried to get her into her husband's car, Klementovich said, the woman kicked him in the chest.

28 Amendments Put On Bay Authority Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill to create a nine-county Golden Gate Authority to promote trade, travel and commerce in the Bay Area today headed for its first legislative test with 28 amendments tacked on.

The Senate Interim Committee on Bay Area Problems heard arguments for and against the bill yesterday, wrote in the amendments and sent it on to the transportation committee.

The bill by Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) would give the agency power to acquire and manage sea terminals, airports and bridges in the Bay Area.

McCarthy submitted an amendment to bar local elected officials from serving on the authority.

Other amendments require that the sea ports and airports of San Francisco and Oakland be taken into the authority at the same time, and set down numerous technical provisions.

Backers of the proposed authority told the committee it would give "true, meaningful home rule" by people most familiar with the area's problems.

Opponents denied it.

"We have home rule now," said Dudley W. Frost, executive director of the Port of Oakland. "Our future development would be transferred to others."

Owners of sea terminals and spokesmen for the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District joined Frost in asking exclusion from the bill.

U.S. Planning Radiation Satellite

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Proposals for a radiation satellite that will climb 25,000 miles and a stepped-up Navy-military space campaign were the highlights of the American Rocket Society's flight testing conference that ended today.

The society members—790 missile scientists and engineers—wound up their three-day-session with a classified briefing and tour of the Cape Canaveral launching site.

Dr. Homer J. Stewart, director of planning and evaluation for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, told newsmen yesterday that the satellite will be launched soon by a four-stage version of the Thor-Able rocket.

He said the satellite, weighing several hundred pounds, would seek a radical orbit ranging from 25,000 to 150 miles above the earth to gather more complete information on two doughnut-shaped radiation fields.

The chief of Navy missile planning, Rear Adm. John T. Hayward, outlined plans for firing 50-pound communications and navigational satellites, possibly before the end of the year.

The admiral reaffirmed that the intermediate range Polaris missile will be ready for launching from nuclear-powered submarines next year.

Mill Valley Group Backs Bond Issue

Mill Valley's newly formed Voters Information Group today announced its membership has "unanimously" endorsed the $600,000 school building bond issue to be voted on May 19.

The organization plans to conduct a citywide campaign in behalf of the bond issue, said Arne R. Anderson, chairman.

He said plans are being made to "organize a door-to-door campaign to bring information on the bond issue to all voters in the elementary school district."

The group was started by parents whose children attend Old Mill School, Anderson said, with the objective of stimulating interest in maintaining school standards.

He said the group has now broadened and has opened its membership to all Mill Valley residents interested in community affairs.

Other officers include Mrs. Edmond Gross and Eugene E. Crawford.

N.Y. City Considers Seceding From State

The suggestion that the city might become a sovereign state caused the state Senate to rock with laughter. But the city fathers maintained they are serious.

Demands for separation of the city from the rest of the state go back almost 100 years. But how to do it legally has always been a question.

A move calling for a committee to study the possibility was introduced in the city council yesterday and referred to the rules committee for study.

The move came in the wake of a bitter fight between the city and the state over money. The city government, which is Democratic, said it must have new taxes this year to balance its budget. Permission was needed from the Legislature, which is Republican.

The city leaders claimed they had to go "hat in hand" to Albany. They didn't get all the taxing power they wanted.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner's immediate response was to lop 32 million dollars off the budget, announcing that the pinch would be felt by 80,000 city employees who would get smaller pay raises, or none at all.

The mayor's austerity program brought a wave of protest from city employees. Resignations and work stoppages were threatened.

HAPPY ENDING

Friendly Milkman Haled Into Court: It's All A Joke

CHICAGO (AP) — Edward T. Wesolowski, 47, who thought he had made many friends during his 15 years as a milkman in suburban Northlake, wasn't too sure for a while yesterday.

But there was a happy ending to two surprising events arranged for the milkman.

The first surprise stemmed from a practical joke and left him quaking with fear as police took him to jail. He was photographed, handcuffed and taken to the crowded courtroom of Police Magistrate Thomas J. Maloney.

As Maloney read the charges against Wesolowski, he brightened and got his second shocker of the day.

One of the charges read: "He did wilfully and unlawfully distribute and give away many gallons of milk and an equal amount of human kindness without reservation, not accepting gratuities in return, and did promote happiness among unfortunate residents of our community."

Many of his customers among the 75 persons in the courtroom knew he didn't press for payment of a bill if a family was having trouble. Often he gave fuel oil to customers who couldn't heat their homes, much less pay a milk bill.

As the court session broke up in cheers for Wesolowski, the spectators brought out coffee and cake for a little party. Wesolowski shook hands with customers, officials of the dairy company from which he buys milk and officials of the west suburban village of some 12,000 residents. He knew for sure he had friends.

Chevy makes one for you...
and you'll want it for all its worth

Fewer and fewer people, we're happy to say, think it's necessary to look over different makes of cars to find the one automobile that offers exactly what they want.

There's really no reason to look further than your Chevrolet dealer's. For the plain fact is that Chevrolet builds so many different kinds of cars there's one to please just about everyone.

Say you want a stylish, spacious car that combines low initial cost with rock-bottom operating expense. You'll find what you want in the Biscayne 2-Door Sedan—one of the lowest priced Chevy models. You can have Chevrolet's new Hi-Thrift 6 under the hood to stretch out the distance between gas stops.

If, on the other hand, you're looking for a car of utmost elegance, there's the Chevrolet Impala 4-Door Sport Sedan. And, to go with it, Chevy's velvety V8 power teamed with triple-turbine Turboglide*—one of the finest, smoothest automatic drives offered on any car.

These are just two examples of the dozens of different kinds of Chevrolets you can choose from. One of them may be just what you want. It's almost certain—with models ranging from five beautiful, dutiful station wagons to the unique Corvette—that Chevrolet builds your kind of car. Stop by your dealer's and he'll be happy to help you pick it out.

*Optional at extra cost

TAX FACTS

Education Expenses Deductible

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Expenses for education are now deductible if you can qualify and you can claim them for the years 1955 and 1956 as well as 1957 and 1958.

Peter J. Wikel

How do you go about getting a refund when the return has already been filed?

You should file either a claim for refund on form 843 or an amended return on form 1040. A separate claim or amended return should be filed for each year, and you should attach a statement of the facts which you think entitle you to deduct your educational expenditures.

Claims for refund or amended returns must be filed within three years from the date the return was due. A claim for refund of taxes for the year 1955 must be filed on or before April 15, 1959.

How do you claim the deduction for allowable expenditures for education in filing your return?

Unreimbursed expenditures for such things as tuition, books, laboratory fees, and similar items should be deducted on page two of the return, form 1040. However, these expenses may not be deducted if you use the standard deduction. Expenses for travel, meals and lodging while away from home overnight in pursuing allowable educational activities are also deductible on page one of the return. A brief statement should be attached in explanation of the deduction, use form 2106.

One important fact that always should be included is the relationship of the education to the duties of your employment when the educational expense was incurred.

The regulations apply to self-employed persons as well as to teachers and other employees.

Expenses for education are deductible if such education is undertaken primarily for the purpose of (a) maintaining or improving skills required by the taxpayer in the performance of the duties of his employment when the educational expense was incurred, or (b) meeting express requirements of the taxpayer's employer, or the requirements of applicable law or regulations, imposed as a condition for the retention by the taxpayer of his salary, status or employment.

On the other hand, expenditures for education are not deductible if the primary purpose for which the education is undertaken is to obtain a new position or a substantial advancement in position.

$140,000 Nursing Home Receives Approval Of San Rafael Planners

A $140,000 nursing home with 55 beds won the approval of the San Rafael Planning Commission last night.

Fairfax contractor Arthur Nicolaisen asked for a use permit for the nursing home in behalf of Hillhaven, Inc., of Tacoma, Wash., which operates a chain of such homes.

The project will be built on West End avenue between Sentinel court and Dunand avenue. The plan calls for 26 rooms, some with single beds and others with two and three beds. The first floor will have 11,492 square feet, and the basement 2,440 square feet. The date of completion is not known.

In other actions last night, the city planning commissioners:

1. Approved a use permit for a body and fender shop for Travis W. Key at 31 Bay street.

2. Approved the recommendation of the traffic advisory committee that Second and Third streets be made one-way streets and extended. Under the plan, Second street would cut straight across the Hess Lumber Co. land, past Ames Ford and United Markets, and out to San Pedro road. Third street would extend through E Street School, to Latham, and out to Second street at Ida.

3. Discussed possible rezoning of the East San Rafael Assessment District behind the Francisco boulevard frontage. The area is now zoned industrial. Since so many apartment houses are going up, the land owners want to rezone it for apartment zoning to prevent a hodge-podge of residential buildings mixed with factories. Planning commissioners decided further study is needed before a public hearing is set.

from the first half of the second century."

"The Gospel of Thomas," said the visiting theologian, who is professor of early Christianity at the Sorbonne in Paris, "is actually not a gospel, but a collection of words of Jesus without a narrative framework. . . . One hundred fourteen sayings of Jesus are simply strung one after another with no more connection than the simple formula, 'Jesus said.'

"The order is based on such external considerations as catch-words without any essential bearing. Until now we had only known 14 of these sayings, and now we have suddenly the complete collection."

The book includes four kinds of sayings, he went on: "Those which are word-for-word the same as in our gospels; those which provide independent variants of the sayings in our gospels; those which are not found in our gospels in any form, but which were known from citations in the church fathers, and those which were formerly completely unknown."

Several of the well-known parables of Jesus are included among the 114 sayings. But, he noted, those sayings which vary from the form in the accepted gospels may be "more original" than those in the Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John.

Dr. Cullman quoted a few of the hitherto-unknown sayings of Jesus found in the ancient manuscript:

"Jesus said: If those who lead you say to you: Behold, the kingdom is in heaven, then the birds of heaven will precede you; if they say to you that it is in the sea, then the fish will precede you. But the kingdom is within you and it is outside of you."

And a parable: "Mary said to Jesus: Whom are your disciples like? He said: They are like small children who have settled in a field which is not theirs. When the owners of the field come, they will say: Leave our field to us. They are completely naked in their presence, and so they will leave it to them and give them their field."

The European scholar opened his remarks by calling the discovery of 44 treatises in the Coptic languages—of which the "Book of Thomas" is one — more important than the finding of the Dead Sea Scrolls. But he made it plain he considers the works to be the province only of Bible scholars.

It was "through an indiscretion," he declared, that it became known in America that words of Jesus had been found.

All the Coptic manuscripts show the influence of the Gnostic movement prevalent in Egypt shortly after Christ, which sought to synthesize Christianity with ancient mystical religions, he said.

"Our four canonic gospels are the only ones on which we can rely," he declared.

Dr. Neill Hamilton of the seminary faculty introduced the speaker and offered the invocation and benediction.

At 10 a.m. tomorrow, Dr. Cullman will address another assembly at the seminary on "A New Approach to Understanding the Fourth Gospel."

Man Due In Court In Accident Case

Joseph Bayer Loewy, 30, of Fairfax is scheduled to appear in Marin traffic court at 11:15 a. m. on April 7 for allegedly leaving the scene of a property damage traffic accident last Sunday.

San Rafael police gave him a citation, but did not arrest him. Contrary to a report published in the Independent-Journal on Monday, Loewy was not booked at the county jail. He merely got a tag.

JUVENILES

o'clock for detention hearings with juveniles and their parents.

After Busher's letter had been read, County Administrator Donald A. Jensen noted that a juvenile may be held without bail and is not entitled to a jury trial as an adult is. He said that bills introduced in the current legislature reflected concern about possible abuses of individual liberties in handling of juvenile cases.

Busher said that the new procedure would add up to one hour to Judge Keating's work week, and would require a deputy probation officer to transport children between the courthouse in San Rafael and the juvenile hall in Lucas Valley.

County Demos Back Ban On Cross-Filing

The Marin County Democratic Central Committee last night gave unanimous endorsement to an Assembly bill to abolish cross-filing in California.

But the endorsing resolution, to be sent to all state legislators in the 1st Congressional District, opposed the passage of any amendments which would ban pre-primary endorsement of candidates.

The measure (AB118) was passed by the Assembly in its original form and sent to the Senate.

The central committee, which met in the county courthouse, also went on record in favor of fair employment practices legislation and a bill to ban discrimination in publicly assisted housing.

Charles M. Geller of San Anselmo was appointed the committee's legislative chairman.

Gordon W. Strawbridge was recommended to Gov. Edmund G. Brown for appointment to the state Small Craft Harbors Commission.

The committee also made plans for an April 2 luncheon meeting with Congressman Clement W. Miller. The session also will be attended by directors of the Marin Democratic Assembly and local members of the state Democratic Central Committee.

A letter of condolence was sent to Roger Kent, Northern California chairman of the state central committee, on the death yesterday of his brother, Thomas T. Kent of Kentfield.

county's needs. The number of county welfare patients in this category had decreased from 42 in 1955, to 39 last year, to 30 now.

The supervisors said to tell architect Eugene E. Crawford of San Rafael to revise his plans so half of the ambulatory wing could be used for bed-ridden patients.

Fire Extinguished At Trailorboat

Fire broke out in the fiberglass boat-building shop of Trailorboat Engineering Co. at 923 Francisco boulevard, San Rafael this afternoon.

Two trucks of the San Rafael Fire Department responded to a 1:28 p.m. alarm. The fire was out 10 minutes later. Cause or extent of damage could not be immediately determined.

Recreation Meeting Canceled; No Quorum

There was no regular meeting of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Recreation Commission last night due to lack of a quorum. Chairman Albert Kogler said no date was set yet for the next meeting.

He said the three members present tentatively agreed to appoint Sandra Whitney of Mill Valley as new "Art for Fun" teacher.

Work Starts On Novato Ball Park; Named McIntosh Field

A groundbreaking ceremony yesterday marked the start of construction of Novato's new baseball park and recreation field at the end of Simmons lane.

The field will be known as McIntosh Field, named for C. H. McIntosh, who with his wife owns the two-and-one-half acre ballpark site. The McIntoshes have leased the site to the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce and Novato Merchants softball team for four years at $1 a year plus taxes.

Stuart McCulloch, manager of the softball team and recreation director of the field, said today the park will be completed in time for a grand opening May 8, with the merchants to play a March of Dimes benefit game.

The field will be used for softball games of the California Independent Softball League, which includes Novato and teams from Santa Rosa, Sonoma, Napa, Sacramento, Oakland, Redwood City and San Francisco.

Also playing at McIntosh Field will be teams of Marin's Pony League.

McCulloch said plans for the field include construction of the baseball field, tennis and handball courts and a girls' clubhouse this year.

A long list of Novato and Petaluma persons and firms have contributed money or materials toward the project.

Participating in the groundbreaking were Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh, McCulloch, junior chamber president George Harrison and Bob Robertson, chairman of the junior chamber committee which has planned the park.

ing," Gardiner said today. "He has been of tremendous importance and value to the water district because of his extensive experience and background and will be sorely missed by everyone connected with the district."

The four remaining directors will name Kent's successor on the district board. The appointee, who must reside in the same sub-district represented by Kent, will serve the remainder of his four-year term.

CONSERVATIONIST

Kent was a longtime member of the Marin Conservation League, whose president, Mrs. Norman B. Livermore of Ross, mourned his loss today.

Mrs. Livermore said his father, the late William Kent, "set the high peak for conservation in this county, and Tom Kent continued this by following through on all the family traditions. He did wonderful things for the water district, and was always very helpful and sympathetic with the conservation league's work in connection with beaches and parks."

Kent's grandfather, Albert Emmett Kent, migrated to San Francisco from Chicago in the 1860s and settled in Marin County in 1871. Albert Kent acquired extensive property holdings in Marin, including the area now known as Kentfield. The old family mansion at 200 Woodland road, Kent Woodlands, still stands.

MUIR WOODS

The Kent family worked almost without ceasing to preserve Marin County's natural beauty. In 1908, Thomas's father purchased the original 294 acres of what is now Muir Woods National Monument, Marin's greatest tourist attraction.

William Kent made the purchase to keep private interests from spoiling the area, which he later gave to the federal government with a request that it be named after his friend, John Muir, the famed naturalist. The Kent family also donated much of the wild land in the vicinity of Mt. Tamalpais to the state for enjoyment by the public.

Thomas Kent was born in Chicago and spent much of his early youth in Washington, D.C., where his father served three terms in the House of Representatives. The senior Kent was a Bull Moose Republican and, in 1916, California chairman of the Independents for Woodrow Wilson.

A 1915 graduate of Yale University, Thomas Kent was married the following year in Long Island, N.Y., to the former Anne Thompson.

IN AIR CORPS

During World War I he served in the Army Air Corps, flying in squadrons with the late, famed Gen. Billy Mitchell. He did not see combat. After the war, he studied at the University of California's school of mines, then entered the real estate business. He served for a time as a land appraiser for the state Division of Parks.

When the U.S. entered World War II, Kent tried to enlist for military service but was rejected because of his age. Failing this, he took a job as a welder for the Bechtel Corporation, wartime builder of cargo ships at the Marinship yards in Sausalito.

Besides his wife, he is survived by twin daughters, Mrs. Richard Erskine of Kentfield and Mrs. Robert Danielson of San Anselmo; three brothers, Roger of Kentfield, prominent attorney who is Northern California chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, William Jr. of San Francisco and Sherman, with the Central Intelligence Agency in Washington, D.C., and five grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by Keaton's, San Rafael.

The trustees' legal petition is set for hearing in Department 1 of Marin Superior Court on April 6.

The William Babcock Memorial Endowment Fund was established under the terms of the will of Babcock's widow, Julia May Babcock. Mrs. Babcock, a resident of San Rafael for more than 50 years, died in 1954 at the age of 93. She left more than two million dollars to be used to provide medical care for Marin County residents in need of assistance.

After a long and careful study, the endowment fund trustees, with approval of the courts, determined that middle class "white collar" families were most in need of assistance, since well-to-do persons can afford to pay for their own care while indigents qualify for public assistance. More than 300 persons have been helped by the fund since it became operative three years ago.

"We believe this proposal for grants to Marin General is specifically in line with Mrs. Babcock's wishes," Greene and Parker agreed yesterday.

Marin County has two principal needs in the medical field today, they said. First they cited the need for additional hospital beds and facilities. Second they cited continuing need for assistance to middle income groups "to prevent pauperization when they become subject to the high costs of caring for catastrophic illnesses."

The Babcocks came to San Rafael about 1900 and lived at their estate, Edge Hill which after Babcock's death was disposed of to Dominican Convent. Mrs. Babcock subsequently maintained her home in Culloden Park, San Rafael.

Cornelius Sullivan Rites Tomorrow

Graveside services will be held tomorrow at 11:30 a.m. at Mt. Olivet Cemetery for Cornelius Sullivan, Stinson Beach ranch worker who was found dead in a pig-feeding trough last Sunday.

A native of Ireland, he lived in California for 50 years and ni Marin for 20 years. He was caretaker for the White Gate Ranch near Stinson Beach.

Charles H. Ulfkott Succumbs At 94

Charles Henry Ulfkott, a retired Sausalito house painter who reached California around Cape Horn in a German sailing ship, died yesterday at a local convalescent hospital after long illness at the age of 94.

A native of Germany, he had lived for 14 years at 816 Spring street in Sausalito. He is survived by his wife, Roxy, and stepson, Herrick Morgan, at that address.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at Russell and Gooch chapel in Mill Valley. Interment will be in Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Film Heroine Due Here

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Gladys Aylward, whose life as a missionary in China was the basis for Ingrid Bergman's film "The Inn of the Sixth Happiness," left for Hong Kong today on her way to Britain and the United States

Miss Aylward, a onetime London parlormaid, is now over 60 and a Chinese citizen. Although she has never seen the film version of her life, she has complained bitterly because the producers worked a romance into it.

"There have never been any love scenes in my life—never," she told newsmen.

Roz Sues Government

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Rosalind Russell is suing to recover $15,476 which she says the government collected in overpaid taxes.

She contended in her suit, filed yesterday, that maintaining residences in both California and New York was a legitimate business expense in 1953. She was appearing at the time in the Broadway stage production, "Wonderful Town."

Her taxable income that year was $275,000, she said.

But The Noise Ended

HONG KONG (UPI)—Cheung Kun Kui, 20, today began a three-year jail sentence for stabbing his roommate who made sipping noises while drinking water.

Cheung said he stabbed his roommate because the sipping noises kept him awake.

Envoy Expenses Hiked

The foreign service budget, just published, lists Sir Harold's salary at $16,800 a year. But his tax-free expense allowance goes up $9,464 to $94,785 a year, due to price increases in the U.S. capital.

Dog Kills Boy, 5

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—An 80-pound Siberian husky yesterday attacked and killed a 5-year-old boy who had climbed through a hole into a shed where the dog was chained.

Billy Stillions died of a slashed jugular vein and other injuries.

The dog was shot.

Snows Hit Rockies

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The snowstorm began last night in the Central Rockies, dumping one to three-inch accumulations over southern Wyoming and northern Colorado.

Sea 'Conversion' Near

NEW YORK (UPI) — Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton said last night that he felt certain an economical method would be found soon to produce fresh water from sea water.

In a speech at Long Island University's scholarship fund dinner at the Hotel Astor, Seaton said his department was pressing forward with five projects for the conversion of salt water.

When a technique is perfected, he said, it would transform arid lands into rich, fertile areas.

Killed By Firecrackers

PAHOKEE, Fla. (AP)— A farmhand scaring blackbirds from a cornfield with powerful firecrackers was killed yesterday when a box of "giant salutes" exploded under his arm.

Deputy Sheriff Frank O'Connell said Lawson Wilkes lived about five minutes after the blast. A spark from Wilkes' pipe apparently blew into the box, setting off all the explosives at once.

Oversight Was Costly

Texans Handicapped

EL PASO (UPI)—There are times when even Texans have to admit it's a handicap to be too big.

College men at Texas Western squirmed and squeezed but could put only 19 men into a telephone booth.

That was far short of the record set by Modesto (Calif.) Junior College where 32 students sardined themselves into a booth.

It was four short of the 23 sophomores who squeezed themselves into a booth at St. Mary's College, Moraga, Calif.

But it tied the mark set by Hatfield College of England.

Cancer Wins Reported

NEW YORK (AP)—Cancer kills 75,000 Americans each year—needlessly.

The American Cancer Society reported yesterday that 45,000 Americans develop cancer each year.

Last year 150,000 were saved. The report said 75,000 more would have been saved by earlier diagnosis and treatment.

The two most rapidly increasing forms of cancer in older persons are leukemia (cancer of the blood) and lung cancer.

Man Kidnaps Police Chief, Wounds 2nd

BROWNSVILLE, Ore. (AP)—Armed possemen searched today for a gunman who abducted one police chief, then shot another before hiding in the timbered Cascade Mountain foothills.

Sheriff George Miller said the gunman was Richard Allen Hunt, 27, a Harrisburg, Ore., dairy worker.

McPhee was taken prisoner at gun point. He was released 10 miles out of town.

McPhee, picked up by another motorist, then phoned to Brownsville, alerting Police Chief Robert Kemnow.

Kemnow spotted Hunt's car and gave chase. Hunt's auto went out of control into a ditch and he leaped out and exchanged gunfire. Kemnow fell with a bullet in the head. He is expected to recover.

Hunt vanished up a timbered ridge.

Britain To Arm Iraq Despite Pact Pullout

LONDON (AP)—Britain's policy of supplying arms to Iraq will remain unaffected by the decision of the Iraqi government to withdraw from the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact, a Foreign Office spokesman said today.

Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem yesterday announced the decision to pull out of the alliance. His move may have been intended to mollify both the pan-Arab followers of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic and the Communist bloc.

AIR BASE

The Foreign Office spokesman said Iraq has not asked Britain to abandon its air staging base at Habbaniyah, west of Baghdad, where about 600 Royal Air Force personnel and several planes are stationed. But he said its position "and various other bilateral arrangements between ourselves and the Iraqis are under discussion."

As to arms for Iraq, Britain has been reported considering resuming shipments which were stopped when Kassem's revolt last July overthrew the pro-Western monarchy and government.

PULLOUT EXPECTED

Iraq's withdrawal from the Baghdad Pact had been expected since last July.

The alliance took its name from the Iraqi capital, where the pact was signed in 1955 by Iraq, Iran, Pakistan, Turkey and Britain. The other four governments and the United States already had written off Iraq as a military ally.

The first reaction from the United Arab Republic was one of disdain. The semi-official Middle East News Agency, repeating the old charge that the pact sought to destroy Arab nationalism, said this also was the aim of "Kassem's policy as well as the penetration of Communist imperialism into Iraq."

Russ Warned On Berlin By De Gaulle

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle served notice on Russia today that if passage to West Berlin is blocked "the Soviet troops stationed in Germany would have the Western powers to deal with."

De Gaulle, speaking at the first press conference ever held by a French chief of state, plunged directly into the question of Berlin.

De Gaulle confirmed he would attend an East-West summit conference, which he said "must be prepared and could only operate in an atmosphere of calm."

He said the Moscow diplomatic offensive posed three major questions:

1. The possibility of measures which would obstruct the movements of American, British and French military elements between West Berlin and the western zone of Germany.

2. Division of the German people which would be posed by the separation of Germany into two states.

3. The disarmament in Europe of a zone essentially enveloping Germany.

Mrs. Duncan Thinks Chances For Appeal 'Are Just Fine'

VENTURA (AP)—"I think my chances for an appeal are just fine," says condemned murderess Elizabeth Duncan.

She made that statement yesterday after being declared sane and subject to the death sentence for hiring the murder of her daughter-in-law.

Earlier she had been convicted of first degree murder and her punishment set at execution in the gas chamber.

Immediately after Superior Court Judge Charles F. Blackstock accepted the conclusions of two psychiatrists that Mrs. Duncan was sane, defense attorney S. Ward Sullivan filed a motion for a new trial and asked that Mrs. Duncan's son Frank, 30, a Santa Barbara attorney, be associated with him.

Judge Blackstock said he would consider the motion April 3. If he denies it, he is expected to sentence Mrs. Duncan at that time.

Sullivan has said he would carry an appeal from the conviction to the higher courts.

Mrs. Duncan, jealous of Frank's bride, Olga, 30, was convicted of hiring two men to kill her daughter-in-law on the promise of paying $6,000. Augustine Baldonado, 26, and Luis Moya, 20, confessed kidnaping and strangling Olga. They are awaiting trial.

Allies Won't Be Blackmailed Into Summit Conference, Ike Declares

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he believes the Western allies will have to meet at the summit with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to get any sort of valid agreement on German problems.

But no one is going to command the United States and the other Western powers to show up at a top level conference, the President told a news conference emphatically.

The West will not be bluffed or blackmailed into going to the summit, he said

Eisenhower thus said again, although indirectly, that his attendance at any summit meeting will be contingent on progress at an earlier conference of East-West foreign ministers.

The President was asked specifically whether he attaches any conditions to meeting at the summit with Khrushchev and this country's Western Allies.

EARLIER REPORTS

At the time of Eisenhower's talk with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan there were reports from British quarters that Eisenhower had agreed unconditionally to go to a summit meeting.

Today the President noted that the reply of the Western Allies to a March 2 Soviet note regarding a summit conference has now been coordinated with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. That reply, he added, will be made public soon, and the answer to the matter of any conditions in connection with a summit meeting will be disclosed in that note.

CONVICTIONS KNOWN

But he went on to say that his convictions concerning a summit conference have been known for years and that he never has changed them.

He added he doesn't expect to change them unless something cataclysmic develops.

That was an obvious allusion to his statements, as recently as a week ago, that he would go to a summit meeting if developments in the meantime should warrant it.

Hawaiian Statehood Leader Dies

HONOLULU (AP) — Samuel Wilder King, a leader in Hawaii's long fight for statehood, died last night. He was 72.

King, a Republican member of the territory's House of Representatives, was a retired Navy captain, former delegate to Congress and a former governor of the islands.

King was elected delegate to Congress in 1934 and was re-elected three times. He gave up his congressional seat in 1942 to return to active duty in the Navy at the age of 56.

King was the unanimous choice for president of the islands' constitutional convention in 1950. He was chairman of the Hawaii statehood commission for four years.

His death was attributed to heart failure.

Mountain Lion Hunt Postponed

A hunt for a mountain lion reported in Sleepy Hollow's wooded area has been postponed for several days because of illness of Beveridge Franklyn, the county's animal hunter, Agricultural Commissioner Thomas W. Peryam said today.

The county is also trying to track down another mountain lion which has been reported knocking over garbage cans at Ft. Baker.

Last week Franklyn killed a bobcat at Stinson Beach which had been slaughtering sheep, said Peryam.

NAVY'S CHIEF SAYS RUSSIA HAS 450 SUBS

LONDON (AP)—U.S. Navy Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. said today the Soviet Union has about 450 submarines compared with the 125 the United States could put into action, "but numbers aren't everything."

The United States has 33 nuclear-powered submarines actually in service or being completed, Gates told a news conference.

Striking San Jose Newspaper Unions Reject Arbitration

SAN JOSE (UPI)—Representatives of the striking Pressmen and Stereotypers Unions have rejected an offer to arbitrate the dispute that has closed the San Jose Mercury and News for 40 days.

The offer was made yesterday by Joseph B. Ridder, publisher of the papers, after the Downtown Merchants Assn. published an open letter asking that both sides submit the dispute to arbitration.

Ridder told the association in a telegram that he was willing to resume publication pending settlement by arbitration.

But a statement from the striking unions replied that although arbitration was the answer before the strike, the dispute could now be settled "thoroughly and justly when the publisher will sit in on negotiations and consider the genuine issues."

MARIN FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

8:45 a.m., San Rafael—Sofa-bed at Capri Apartments, 79 Woodland avenue, burned in Apartment 29 occupied by Maj. Glen Perryman; a cigarette, probable cause; damage to sofa-bed and smoke damage in apartment estimated at $1,500.

1:47 p.m., Santa Venetia — Two bales of hay used as targets at Santa Venetia archery range set afire by children; no other damage.

9:03 p.m., Hamilton Air Force Base—Fire truck and ambulance stood for landing of T33 aircraft which lost pressure on one fuel line because of lost fuel tank cap; no trouble.

Golf Club Has 2 New Directors

There are two new faces on the board of directors of the Indian Valley Golf Club, Dr. David Rosehill, president, announced today.

Directors Robert Nyberg and Nate Rosenberg have been replaced by Dr. Albert Buckwald and Fred Volz.

Bill Would Bar Kids From Mexico

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A youth who "habitually" frequents Mexican border towns would be presumed to be misbehaving under the terms of a bill introduced in the state senate.

The measure, authored by Sen. Nelson Dilworth (R-Hemet), declares that persons under 21 who make a habit of crossing into Mexico without an adult chaperon are "in danger of leading an idle, dissolute, lewd or immoral life."

The bill would permit juvenile courts to send youths to reform schools for making several unaccompanied border crossings. No evidence of actual immoral activities would be required.

It Was Respectable Society Which Condemned Christ

By LOUIS CASSELS
U.P. International

Jesus of Nazareth was one of thousands of Jewish pilgrims who came to the holy city of Jerusalem to celebrate the Feast of the Passover in the spring of the year 30 A.D.

Five days after he arrived, he was seized and slain.

Why?

The young teacher's reputation had reached Jerusalem long before he did. For at least a year, and probably two years, he had been attracting huge crowds in his travels through his home province of Galilee.

The religious leaders in the capital had heard that he healed the sick, that he associated freely with publicans and sinners, that he broke many of the strict rules they had laid down about such things as fasting and keeping the Sabbath.

Most shocking of all, he claimed the power to forgive sins. This, to the guardians of orthodoxy, was a blasphemous usurpation of the authority of God.

Soon after he arrived in Jerusalem, Jesus went to the temple. He found its courtyard filled with the booths of money-changers, pigeon-merchants and other concessionaires who were charging fraudulent prices for items which pilgrims required to make the prescribed sacrifices in the temple.

Seizing a whip of knotted cords, Jesus drove them out and overturned their tables. He said they were turning his Father's house into a den of thieves.

Powerful members of the religious hierarchy had an interest in the temple rackets. They were now convinced that this troublemaker had to go.

While they were plotting how to seize him without creating an uproar among the general populace, they were approached by one of Jesus' disciples, a man named Judas Iscariot.

For reasons that can only be guessed—perhaps he was disillusioned with Jesus' refusal to become the political liberator that many devout Jews expected the Messiah to be — Judas offered to betray his master.

The chief priests sealed the deal with 30 pieces of silver.

On Thursday evening, Jesus took his disciples to the upper room of a Jerusalem home for what proved to be their last supper together. It was then 24 hours before the start of the Passover Feast.

Mark's Gospel indicates that Jesus, knowing what lay ahead of him the next day, decided to celebrate the Passover one day in advance.

But recent discoveries, including the Dead Sea scrolls, suggest another explanation. It was customary in those days for rabbis and their pupils to meet on the eve of a great feast day to share a simple "fellowship meal" of bread and wine.

Jesus invested this meal with a special significance for his followers, and its re-enactment later became the central feature of Christian worship.

The earliest account of the simple rite which Jesus performed and commended to his disciples is given in the 11th chapter of Paul's first letter to the Corinthians:

"The Lord Jesus on the night when he was betrayed took bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it, and said, 'This is my body which is broken for you. Do this in remembrance of me.' In the same way also the cup, after supper, saying 'this cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me.'"

Jesus remained with his disciples in the upper room for several hours. He repeated many of His teachings, urging them to prove their discipleship by loving one another and by serving others with humility and unselfishness. He told them what was going to happen to him, and sought to explain why it was necessary. But they could not understand then, so he gave them a simple prescription of faith that has come ringing down the ages:

"Let not your hearts be troubled; believe in God; believe also in me."

Late that night, Jesus and the 11 disciples still with him went to an olive grove called the Garden of Gethsemane. Drawing a little apart from the rest, Jesus fell down and prayed in words that bear witness to his own tortured humanity, as well as to the spirit of perfect obedience which the church has always regarded as one of the hallmarks of his Divinity.

"Oh my father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me. Nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt."

It was there that Judas found him, and betrayed him with a kiss on the cheek. Armed men seized him and carried him away to be tried.

Actually, there were two trials, one during the waning hours of the night before an illegal rump session of the Jewish Sanhedrin, and the other early in the morning before the Roman procurator, Pontius Pilate. Both were travesties of justice, the first because the jury had reached a verdict before the prisoner was brought in, and the second because the judge reversed his ruling in order to appease a mob.

Scholars have made many attempts to apportion the blame for Jesus' condemnation between the Pharisees and Pilate. To the modern reader, however, the fact that stands out is that Jesus was condemned by the most respectable elements of society — the duly constituted representatives of established religion and of Roman civilization.

He was rejected, not by the little people of his own nation, but by the custodians of the status quo who rightly regarded him as one who was "turning the world upside down by his teachings."

Mill Valley Adopts School 'Guideline'

Trustees of the Mill Valley Elementary School District have formally adopted a seven-point "educational program guideline" which will be the district's declaration of school operation.

The program, according to Supt. G. R. McConnell, represents two years intensive study by the Mill Valley Advisory Education Council, plus six months discussion by the trustees.

O. W. BENNETT
To speak twice here

First point in the outline states: "The primary purpose of the Mill Valley elementary schools is the intellectual development of the child. This shall be achieved by emphasis on the fundamental or academic subjects."

Its second point states: "The educational program shall be so organized that children learn the fundamental or academic subjects in an understandable and useful manner."

Point 3: Children shall learn to use skills and knowledge through creative and independent thinking.

Point 4: The schools shall emphasize the value of intellectual effort.

Point 6: The key to a good educational program is the quality of the teaching staff.

Point 7: Children should learn to understand the world in which they live and to contribute to the welfare of mankind.

The trustees, meeting Monday night, also:

1. Put over until the April 6 meeting a request by Lee C. Megan of Tiburon to exchange pieces of property adjacent to the Strawberry Point School.
2. Indicated their desire to support a Parent-Teacher Council proposal for a future academic fair patterned after the popular science and music fairs.
3. Agreed to designate a representative to meet with representatives of other Southern Marin school districts to discuss district unification as suggested by former Trustee Ralph A. Groves.
4. Set for March 30 an executive session for the annual review of personnel.

National Cub Chief Will Speak Here

Adult workers in Marin Cub Scouting will have two opportunities next week to hear O. W. Bennett, national director of Cub Scouting service for the Boy Scouts of America, it was announced today by Richard M. Sims, Marin Scout Council president.

Bennett will be featured speaker Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at a council-wide roundtable at Scout Hall in San Rafael, and again Thursday at 2 p.m. at a tea honoring den mothers of Marin at the San Rafael Improvement Club.

The meetings are open to Cub leaders, committeemen and parents, said Sims.

Bennett developed and promoted the Cub Scout program for boys 8 to 10 years of age. He began as a career Scout executive in 1941 and had been a volunteer for several years before that. He has held his present post since 1952 and for several years was national director of Explorer Service for Boy Scouts.

Youth Arrested For Vagrancy

An 18-year-old San Anselmo youth, caught in San Rafael yesterday with a model pistol and a batch of mail in his pockets, was arrested on suspicion of vagrancy.

He is Eric Dryden Thompson, of 37 Barber avenue, unemployed. Police Officers Leon A. de Lisle and Ray Bleasdale confiscated the model pistol, a metal replica of a single action revolver. The youth told officers he had found the letters, many of them addressed to the county assessor.

The letters were postmarked March 19 and 20 and were mailed from the following addresses: 48 Loma Linda, 180 Sturdivant, 80 Baywood, 14 Baywood, and 210 East Redwood, all of San Anselmo, and 209 Locust avenue, San Rafael.

Thieves, Vandals Hit At 2 Schools

Thieves broke into Silveira School in Marinwood and stole seven cases of soft drinks, the custodian reported to Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos Monday.

And in Reed School District, windows were smashed and a six-foot stick tossed like a javelin into the Bel Aire School. Rocks broke three skylights.

Sheriff's deputies found the double doors on the west side of Silveira School had been forced. Seven cases of soft drinks and seven cases of empty bottles are missing.

Strep Infection Still Prevalent

Streptococcic infections continued to lead the communicable disease parade in Marin County last week, Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, reported today.

Nineteen "strep" cases were reported to the county health department during the week. Seven were in San Rafael, six in San Anselmo, two in Novato, and one each in Sausalito, Marin City, Larkspur and a rural area.

Six measles cases were reported, of which five were in San Rafael and one in Marin City, and four mumps cases, with two in San Rafael and one each in San Anselmo and a rural area. There were three cases of gonorrhea and one of syphilis.

Almonte Sanitary Director Quits

Joseph King has submitted his resignation from the Almonte Sanitary District board, citing ill health. He is a retired postal service employee.

The board accepted the resignation with regret. The term expires in September, 1960, according to Chairman Jerome F. Downs.

Giants Get Sam Jones; Give Cards White, Jablonski

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—The St. Louis Cardinals today traded Sam Jones, the major leagues' strikeout king in 1958, and a young pitcher to the San Francisco Giants for outfielder-first baseman Bill White and third baseman Ray Jablonski.

The rookie pitcher who was sent to the Giants with Jones was Don Choate, a 21-year-old right-hander who had a 7-7 record for Omaha in the American Association last season. Choate promptly was assigned to the Giants' Phoenix farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

General Manager Bing Devine of the Cardinals, who announced the deal, said there was no cash involved. He said he and Chub Feeney, vice-president of the Giants, had been negotiating the trade for several weeks.

"We need power as the Giants need pitching," Devine said. "They feel they got pitching in Jones and we got power in White, who will play the outfield for us."

Jones' sidearm fastball and curve are rated among the best in the National League, but he has a reputation for being erratic. He led major league pitchers in strikeouts with 225 last season, but also led the National League in walks with 107.

Jones, who is listed in the record books as 33 years old but actually is suspected as being 35, had a 14-13 record for the Cards and an earned run average of 2.88, second lowest in N. L. The Giants' Stu Miller had the best ERA mark—2.47.

Jones, the tall Negro right-hander, has had a checkered major league career. He broke into the majors with the Cleveland Indians in 1951, and was traded to the Chicago Cubs at the end of the 1954 season, which he spent at Indianapolis.

He pitched a no-hit, no-run game for the Cubs against the Pittsburgh Pirates on May 12, 1955. Following the 1956 campaign, he was sent to the Cards in a 10-player deal.

White, 25, is rated an excellent prospect. He is a left-handed hitter and standout defensive first baseman. However, after he was discharged from a two-year Army hitch last season, the Giants played him in the outfield. He batted .241 in 26 games last year. In 1956, when he broke in with the Giants, he hit 23 homers.

In Phoenix, Manager Bill Rigney of the Giants said:

"To get a man like Jones you have to give up equal value. White was a surplus man at first base because of Orlando Cepeda."

Jablonski, 32, returns to the club with which he broke into the majors in 1953. He is a long-ball hitting right-handed swinger but slow afoot and weak defensively. Last season, he batted .230 with 12 homers and 46 runs batted in. He appeared in 86 games, many as a pinch-hitter.

'RED' HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Hurlers Highlight N.L. Tilts; Spahn, Sanford Strong

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The 37-year-old southpaw who has had nine 20-victory seasons highlighted another day of brilliant all-around Grapefruit League pitching yesterday when he went the distance in a 3-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. Spahn thereby took the play away from Los Angeles' Don Drysdale and Pittsburgh's Vern Law, each of whom also hurled nine innings, as well as San Francisco's Jack Sanford who turned in a powerful seven-inning performance.

Joe Schaffernoth, a 21-year-old rookie, rounded out the string of fine mound jobs when he pitched seven shutout innings in the Chicago Cubs' 4-2 decision over the Cleveland Indians.

BLANKS PHILS

Drysdale, the comeback kid of the Dodger camp, pitched a six-hitter and beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 1-0, when Jim Gentile tripled across a run in the fourth inning. Drysdale, who has given up two runs, walked five and struck out 17 batters in 24 innings this spring, used 109 pitches and faced only 31 batters yesterday.

Law, who had a 14-12 record last season, pitched a four-hitter as the Pittsburgh Pirates scored a 3-1 win over the Detroit Tigers. Gail Harris' second-inning homer produced the only run for Detroit. Hank Foiles had a homer and two singles and Rocky Nelson also homered for the Pirates.

SANFORD STRONG

Sanford, who the Giants hope will approximate his 19-win total of 1957, pitched seven innings and was touched for five hits to lead San Francisco to a 10-4 decision over the Boston Red Sox. Andre Rodgers hit a double and a 400-foot homer to knock in four runs and pace the Giant attack. Rodgers had collected 14 hits in his last 21 tries.

The New York Yankees beat the Chicago White Sox, 6-4, the Baltimore Orioles walloped the Kansas City Athletics, 11-3, and the Washington Senators edged out the Cincinnati Reds, 7-6 ,in other exhibition activity.

THOMAS TO BE SIDELINED 8-12 WEEKS

BOSTON (AP)—Boston University freshman John Thomas, the world high jump record holder, will be sidelined eight to 12 weeks with a foot injury suffered in an elevator mishap.

The track career of the 18-year-old sensation was nearly ended yesterday when his left foot got caught between an elevator and the shaft in a BU building where he is employed part time.

Thomas, who became the first athlete to jump seven feet indoors before registering his world mark of 7 feet, 1¼ inches, suffered three cuts and bruises, but escaped broken bones.

Dr. Chester W. Howe operated on Thomas at Massachusetts Memorial Hospital and said the young Negro star will be confined for several days.

The Long And Short

LINCOLN, England (UPI) — Josey Short, 5 feet 2 inches tall, plays on the same soccer team here as Ray Long, 6 feet 3 inches.

Nats, Celtics Vie Tonight; Hawks Defeat Lakers

If the home court advantage holds up—and it's batting a perfect 6-for-6 so far—the Syracuse Nationals will square their Eastern division series with the Boston Celtics in the National Basketball Assn. playoffs tonight.

The Nats trail 2-1 in the best-of-seven scuffling to determine an Eastern (NBA) champion. But they're the home team tonight and—east and west—narry a visitor has won a game yet.

The St. Louis Hawks followed the pattern in taking a 2-1 lead over the Minneapolis Lakers in the Western division finals last night with a 127-97 romp as Bob Pettit rammed in 39 points. The three games in the West have followed the "home team" trend without a hitch.

If they keep it up, both will go seven games and Boston will nail the Eastern title at home April1 and St. Louis will wrap up Minneapolis 4 games to 3 on March 31 at St. Louis.

Tam District Schools Vie In Marin Tourney Finals

The three members of the Tamalpais High School District advanced undefeated through the first round of the annual Marin County Baseball Tournament yesterday and will fight it out among themselves today for the 1959 championship.

Redwood's Giants, getting a grand slam home run from Eddie Vigno Jr., downed San Rafael Bulldogs, 8-3; Drake, with Keith Chapman cracking a home run, defeated Marin Catholic, 8-4; and the defending champion Tamalpais Indians advanced to the semi-finals with a first round bye. The Indians played George Washington of San Francisco in a practice game last night and lost, 5-1.

Tam and Drake were scheduled to clash at 4 o'clock today for the right to meet Redwood in the finals. Redwood, drawing a bye with Washington at 6:15, automatically advances to the finals.

Vigno, son of a veteran Tiburon semi-professional star, provided the big blow in yesterday's opening game. After Bulldog pitcher Tom Ingram, suffering a bad case of wildness, walked the bases loaded, Vigno cleared them with a blast over the 350-foot mark in left field. That iced the game.

Vigno also had a single. Other Giants hitting safely were Don Simon, Ernie Bray and Bob Anderson.

Tom Leps went the distance on the mound for Redwood, giving up five hits, including sharp singles by Bulldogs John Spadoni and Al Lamperti.

Drake broke open its game with Marin Catholic with a six-run explosion in the third inning, featuring consecutive singles by Pete Dardis, John Larkin, Dave Christian and Dick Llewellyn.

Christian pitched for the Pirates, giving Marin Catholic six hits, including a pair of solid singles by John Boccabella. He drove in two runs.

Marin Catholic was playing San Rafael early this afternoon in the consolation bracket.

In the Tam-Washington practice game that concluded yesterday's schedule, Washington's ace pitcher Al Groza limited Tam to three singles and an unearned run as his mates copped the 5-1 decision

Gilliam Not For Sale, Dodgers Tell Milwaukee

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers brass intimates that another offer has been made for utility infielder Jim Gilliam, but that he is not for sale.

The Milwaukee Braves made overtures earlier for Gilliam in a move to plug the gap at second base caused by Red Schoendienst's absence.

Dodger General Manager Buzzie Bavasi says he isn't making a deal for Gilliam, but Los Angeles could use a front line pitcher and has Don Zimmer, a capable infielder who hit 17 homers last season, riding the bench.

Bavasi and Braves' General Manager John McHale will go over the situation before their teams meet today.

Lewis Ousted As Attorney For Players

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—J. Norman Lewis became the legal representative for the major league baseball players six years ago despite the belligerent opposition of the club owners. Today, the New York attorney has lost the job because of his own belligerence toward the owners.

Lewis was given the ax here yesterday at a meeting of the 16 player representatives. They announced they now have more need for a public relations representative—an agency man to handle endorsements and similar matters—than an attorney.

The representatives, after a day-long meeting, took back to their respective clubs a proposal to set up a central office in New York with Frank Scott to act as their representative. Scott already has served as an agent for numerous players.

Lewis himself made the announcement that his contract, which calls for $20,000 a year and expires March 31, had not been renewed.

"We felt," said one representative, who declined use of his name "that he had become too belligerent toward the owners."

Two recent moves by Lewis led to his dismissal.

One was an attempt to gain a pension fund for International League players. That plan died aborning when players in the Triple A minor league called off a proposed strike in the face of owner insistence that no money was available for such a fund.

The other was Lewis' threatened court action against baseball as an outgrowth of the International League pension plan. Such action would attack the reserve clause which binds a player to one club and a contract requirement repeatedly approved by the players.

The players' major achievements with Lewis' aid were a hike in minimum salaries from $5,000 to the present $7,000, and a more expanded and rewarding pension and insurance plan which collects 60 per cent of television fees from the All-Star game and World Series.

BOWLING ROUNDUP

Marin Kegler Hits 714 Series, 279 Game

Les Colombo of the Marin Bowl Coffee Shop team set two records in the latest edition of the Marin Bowl's 860 Scratch League—marks that will be hard to beat.

Colombo's sensational 714 series and 279 game were the league's highest efforts of the season. He also had games of 223 and 212 as he paced the Coffee Shoppers to a 2-1 decision over Host Liquors and its high scorer, Ed Baranski, 545.

Other results and high scorers: Jimmie and Van's Associated Service (Walt Carter, 600, including games of 232 and 229) d. Archie's Mobil Service (Spencer Ward, 563) by 3-0; Marin Drive-In Liquors (Sam Gilliland, 533) d. Filippo Construction (Zeno Gelatti, 575) by 2-1; Wentworth Painting (Dick Treadway, 560) d. Bermuda Palms (Elbie Bean, 540) by 2-1.

WALT SILVA of Sausalito again led the Marin Bowl's Handicap League scoring last night when he put together games of 219, 207 and 183 for a 609 series for Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. team.

SAM PILLUS led the way Monday night with a 577 series in the Koch Luggage Mixed Handicap League at new Greenbrae Lanes. Following him were Nick Nacca 547, Dick Endy 530 and Herman Salkin 523.

ALSO MONDAY at Greenbrae the Drake Market edged Littleman's in a warmup for a new league scheduled to start next month.

Santa Clara Returns To Grid—On A Minor Scale

SANTA CLARA (AP)—Santa Clara, once a major football power, will resume the game next fall with a program described as simple, inexpensive and for fun.

The Broncos will renew their rivalry with the San Francisco Dons who replaced their big time teams with a minor program in which they play junior varsity and service teams.

Santa Clara announced yesterday that its program will be fashioned after that at USF and the high point of the season probably will come when the two teams meet.

The Rev. James E. Sweeters S.J., vicep resident for student services for Santa Clara, emphasized, "In no way does this minor return to the game of football imply that Santa Clara will again be playing major football teams."

Named as coach was Pat Malley, co-captain of the last major Santa Clara team in 1952 and for the past three years the grid head man at St. Ignatius High School which won two San Francisco city titles.

Father Sweeters explained, "Santa Clara's program is to be simple and inexpensive. There will be no scholarships, no cross country travel, no solicitation of high schol athletes and no spring training . . . There is no intention of the Santa Clara program developing beyond that of attracting normal student interest during the otherwise inactive fall months."

After abandoning football and its big expenses in 1952, Santa Clara kept its equipment.

Malley was appointed officially as assistant to Father Sweeters in administration of student organization with coaching to be one of his jobs.

While in the big time, Santa Clara beat Louisiana State in the Sugar Bowl twice, by 21-14 in 1936 and by 6-0 in 1937, and dumped Kentucky in the Orange Bowl by 21-13 in 1950.

Rams Sign Guzik, Pitt All-American

LOS ANGELES (AP)—John Guzik, 233-pound linebacker from the University of Pittsburgh, returned his signed contract to the Los Angeles Rams yesterday.

He will join a linebacking corps that includes Les Richter, Jack Pardee, Bill Jobko, Roy Wilkins and Jim Jones. Guzik's addition compensates numerically for the retirement of Dick Daugherty, who has entered private business.

Guzik was selected by the Rams on the fourth round of the 1958 National Football League draft although he then had one year of eligibility left at Pitt.

Mrs. Garatti Winner Of Novato Tourney

Mrs. John Garatti compiled 41 points to win the Indian Valley Women's Golf Club's "Stableford" tournament yesterday at the Novato links. Mrs. Jerry Evans was second with 38 points and Mrs. Charles Coleman third with 36.

THAT'S NO PLACE FOR BUNNY EGGS

Rigney Says Squad In Better Shape Now Than In 1958

By SCOTT BAILLIE

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Take a walk through sick bay and you'll see most of the San Francisco Giants' opening day lineup for this season.

That guy with 35 stitches in his shin is Willie Mays. The husky Puerto Rican with the racking cough is Orlando Cepeda, the National League rookie of the year in 1958. Daryl Spencer, slated to play second base, is the one with the sore foot and sore arm. Jackie Brandt, who rates as the left fielder, is recovering from a nose operation. And the man with the wired-up jaw and battered teeth is manager Bill Rigney, who drove into a lamp post last month.

So far this year, the harried manager has not been able to field much resembling the club which finished a surprise third last season. But although he bawled out his charges last week for laxness, Rigney declares that the squad seems to be in a slightly better position than at this time last year.

"I feel good about shortstop," Rigney says. "Andre Rogers is playing with a lot more confidence and we're banking on him to make it this time."

This is the biggest change on the club so far. Rigney moved Spencer from shortstop to second so that the hard-throwing, six-foot three Rodgers could play short. Andre, a light hitter in two previous shots with the Giants, won the Pacific Coast League batting championship last year with a .354 average.

Spencer, who is trying to "fix up my hitting" slid to .256 last season after a good start.

There could be another change in the infield and an even more important one. Rigney is mulling over the idea of shifting Cepeda over from first base to third and giving Bill White Orlando's old position. The addition of left-handed White would put more power into a lineup that already is heavy hitting but consists predominantly of right-handed batters.

Rigney says that he will have "one of the most exciting outifelds in the business" with Brandt in left, Mays in center and Felipe Alou in right. All three are fine fielders and exceptionally fast.

If Cepeda remains at first base, it will be Jim Davenport again at third. The quiet Alabaman, Cepeda and catcher Bob Schmidt were three rookies who came through big last year.

The pitching muddle, Rigney's biggest headache, cleared somewhat recently when Al Worthington (11-7) finally signed and Ramon Monzant (8-11) said he might not retire after all.

"We need another man in the bullpen to go with Billy Muffett (4-6 at St. Louis) and Gordon Jones (3-1)," Rigney says. "Joe Shipley could help us a lot if he got over his stage fright."

Shipley, the wild owner of a fast sinker, had a 5-2 record at Phoenix last year and an earned run average of 2.45 in relief. The batters are reported to be just as scared as he is.

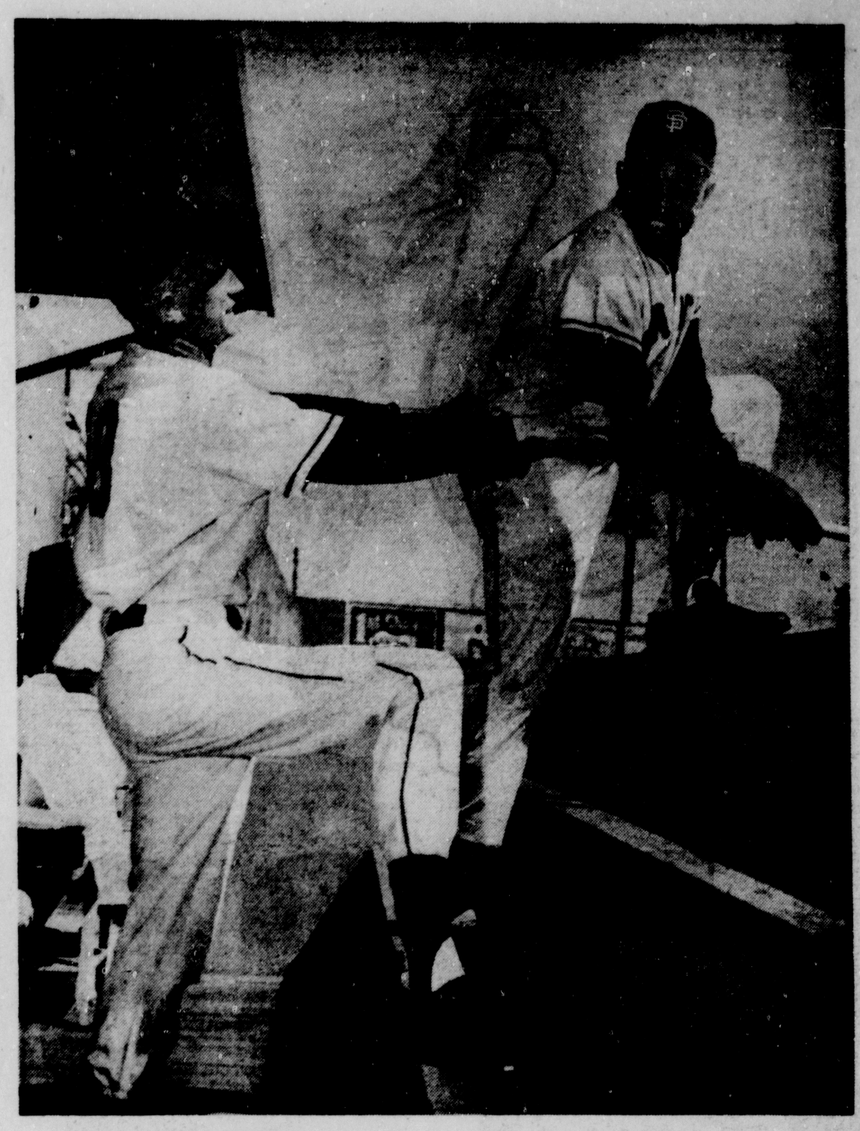
The mainline pitchers are led by southpaw Johnny Antonelli (16-13), Jack Sanford (10-13) who was obtained from Philadelphia, Stu Miller (6-9) whose 2.47 earned run average led the league in 1958, and Mike McCormick 11-8). McCormick, a left-hander, may get an extra day's rest this season. Curt Barclay, who was a starting pitcher when the Giants were still part of New York, is making a comeback from a sore arm. He suffered it during winter bowling and was shipped to Phoenix last year where he had a 12-8 record.

Rigney continues to dicker with the Cardinals for another pitcher.

Schmidt is set again as the No. 1 catcher with Hobie Landrith, another Cardinal acquisition, behind him. Smitty can belt the long ball but Rigney would like to see him tack about 10 or 15 points to his .244 average.

Rookies who have a chance of staying up are Al Stieglitz, another catcher who batted .290 at Corpus Christi, and pitcher Dick Sovde. He is a 6-8½ basketball player from Los Angeles who had a 12-12 record for Corpus Christi and fires the ball from the general vicinity of third base, a la Ewell Blackwell.

"The race will be a scramble all year with no time to let up," says Rigney.



RARING TO GO—Manager Bill Rigney of the San Francisco Giants who suited up for the first time since an auto accident, tries to restrain an eager Willie Mays, who also donned uniform for first time in 10 days. Willie, who suffered a spiked leg and has just recovered, is just raring to get to the batter's cage. (UPI photo)

CONNOLLY

The hot potato has been dropped into the laps of club owners of the American and National Leagues . . . the umpire's pension plan.

And you can thank Frank Lane of Cleveland, the mouthpiece of the umps, for it. Because it was Lane who practically stated he thought the umps should be rated along with the baseball players as pensioners. The player group want no part of the umps, so I am told. But the umps in my book, deservedly so, are entitled to every bit of consideration any ball player gets. Without the umps where would baseball and the players be?

It is Lane's contention that the player and the ump are part of the same family in organized baseball. To be sure players get more money and pay more into the pension plan. But why couldn't the Umps be placed in the same category? Let them pay according to their salary and get what the pension calls for upon retirement.

IT DOESN'T make much sense, I'll grant, but what right has the players to say the umps are outside of baseball?

Ball players and umps are one and the same part of the National pastime. And one of the nicest things about organized baseball that while the players have been convicted and ostracisized from the game for conduct unbecoming professional players, the umps NEVER HAVE BEEN.

In my book, if Frank Lane of Cleveland and his committee can unravel a delicate operation like the umps in the pension plan, they'll earn my undying gratitude.

Think it over and if it doesn't make sense, then tell me what crusader ever did, in the beginning.

INTEREST in the 1959 baseball season presents the brightest picture in organized baseball in many seasons. It is loaded with high spots and players, young and old, who might write a new history for the sport.

What will happen to Mike McCormick, the $80,000 bonus baby and lefthander with the San Francisco Giants?

How about Orlando Cepada, the Puerto Rican who in his first year became the rookie of the year?

Can Stu Miller, the fidgety slow ball flinger with the Giants, continue to baffle the bubble busters of the National League?

How will Milwaukee get along without Red Schoendist?

Willie Mays? Can he keep going or is he reaching the peak?

Can Felipe Alou, Jackie Brandt, Jack Sanford and others, bright in the firmanent of baseball a few years ago, regain their heights?

HAVING KICKED around a matter of 25 years in baseball, I'm inclined to string along with the late Charley Graham, beloved owner of the San Francisco Seals.

It was Graham's fervent contention that baseball's prosperous years traveled in cycles.

"There are seven fat years and seven lean years," Charley used to say.

"The seven fat years follow a war or a catastrophe."

My guess is baseball is starting on its second "fat" year of the seven.

I can't remember when I have ever seen so much interest in spring training.

Hoad's Earnings Near 10 Gs Mark In Pro Net Tour

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Lew Hoad's earnings are approaching the $10,000 mark on the Jack Kramer professional tennis tour.

Hoad boosted his win-loss mark to 14-4 and his income to $9,850 with a 6-2, 6-1 victory last night over Mal Anderson.

Pancho Gonzales outpowered Ashley Cooper, 6-2, 7-5 with a pair of service aces for a $600 win in the featured singles.

Snead Sets Pace In Seminole Golf

Snead, of Boca Raton, was operating from a first-day 34-36—70, two strokes below par on the windy, 6,850-yard Seashore course.

A stroke behind were Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., Cary Middlecoff and Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg.

Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., was among those carding 73s. Ben Hogan was out of the top 20 at 75.

Few Changes Urged In '59 Hunting Rules

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Seth Gordon has submitted two of his last official statements as Director of Fish and Game — recommendations for 1959 hunting regulations, and a preliminary analysis of the $100,000 investigation of his operations.

Both were mild and had between-the-lines emphasis on the fact his "lame duck" leadership of the department is nearing an end. The new director, William E. Warne, was expected to assume the directorship by April 1.

The recommendations for 1959 hunting regulations contained few substantive changes from 1958. Another 15-day pheasant hunting season was recommended, which no doubt will cause some stir among the conservation and land owner interests who object to a season longer than 10 days.

The department declined to ask for one hen in the bag in the north, even though its management experts have advocated the taking of one hen by each hunter. This was in effect for three seasons, 1955-57, but was dropped for 1958 because of heavy protests.

Some changes may be suggested when the recommendations, as well as those from the public, are presented to the Fish and Game Commission in Los Angeles April 3. The regulations will be adopted finally in Sacramento May 29.

SAFE BOATING

By HARRY HEIFETZ, Commander
U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, Flotilla 14

BOATS AND LIQUOR

This is another subject that was not originally scheduled for this series, but I think you will agree with me, after reading the letter sent to me, that it needs some discussion. The letter follows:

Dear Mr. Heifetz:

We bought a new cruiser and suddenly I find myself entertaining on board like mad. My husband struts around with a glass in his hand constantly. I would have no objection if he just felt that the glass gave him a certain air, but unfortunately he is constantly refilling it with hard liquor and he never was a heavy drinker before.

When I try to tell him it's not right and is even dangerous taking a boat out with him under the influence, he just laughs it off and tells me that's how it is with yachting people and you have to stay in the swim. I am distracted. Not only am I in fear of physical harm, but we simply can't afford to spend this much money on liquor. Is this really part of boating?

Please say something about this and for goodness sake, don't use my name.

WELL, THAT'S the letter. And with a deep sigh, here is my answer:

Dear Madam:

Letters like yours make me and all other people who love the safe sport of boating both sad and a little sick.

Your husband's entire concept of boating is cockeyed.

Owning a boat does not impose an obligation either to become a lush or use up the grocery money for whiskey for yourself or visitors.

Furthermore, your husband, and in fact all boaters, should know that taking passengers out imposes a legal and moral obligation to get them safely back. No man can carry out that obligation if he is carrying a full load. We would not want you to think that we are against drinking. On the contrary, we like whiskey. But we do not run our boats when we are drinking, any more than we run our cars.

The United States Coast Guard Auxiliary, being dedicated to teaching safety to the boating public, is deeply concerned with situations such as yours. The problem of economics, whether your husband drinks up the food and rent money is yours, although there too you have our sympathy. But the safety factor; that's our concern.

YOUR HUSBAND should know that yachting is no longer a sport of millionaires. Nor is it confined to movie stars. The picture today is quite different. Boating today is a family sport.

On boats large and small, you will find mothers and fathers and children of all sizes, and grandpa and grandma, too.

So let's not spoil the fun.

Your husband should think of a boat as a second home; guests are welcome and a sociable drink is fine, but you have no obligation to send them home staggering under the load.

Finally, if your husband does not change his attitude, then all I can suggest is that you nail your boat to the dock. And maybe your husband too. Good luck!

SYMBOLIC

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

As Easter draws near and attention turns to new chapeaux and the like—why not also give some thought to preparing for your Easter dinner guests a dessert that is not only delicious and different but symbolic of the day as well?

Ideal for the purpose is the Crown of Thorns or Gateau Favorite, made recently by chef Paul Mayer for the Outdoor Art Club's L'Ecole de Cuisine. This is how it is made.

CROWN OF THORNS

Put into a pan ½ cup of water, 2 tbsp. butter and bring to boil slowly. When bubbling, throw in a little under ½ cup of flour. Reduce the flame, and stir briskly over the fire until the mixture forms a shiny ball and leaves the sides of the pan. Beat in 1 at a time 2 whole eggs, beating well between each addition. Mark a circle about 6 inches across on an ungreased flat cookie sheet. Fill the paste into a pastry bag fitted with a plain tube about the size of a quarter and pipe a circle around the outline of the ring on the sheet. Brush the top of the dough with beaten egg, and scatter blanched, shredded almonds about the top of the circle. Bake 10 minutes in a 425 degree oven, shut off the heat, and allow to remain in the oven for another 15 minutes. Cut in half crosswise, remove top of ring and fill bottom half with the following:

PASTRY CREAM

Beat together in a saucepan with wire whisk until light and fluffy, 1 egg, 1 egg yolk, 3 tbsp. flour and 3 tbsp. sugar. Switch to wooden spoon and stir in 2 tsp. gelatine. Pour on ¾ cup hot milk in which 4 ounces of dark sweet chocolate has been dissolved. Stir all together over the fire until filling just boils. Stir it over ice until cool to touch and before it gets too thick, stir in 1 stiffly beaten egg white, 3 tbsp. whipped cream, and 1 tbsp. or more of dark rum or 1 tsp. vanilla. Pipe this through a pastry bag with plain tube into mounds in the bottom of the ring, and then make rosettes of the remainder of the pint of cream which has been whipped, between the peaks of the chocolate mounds. The rosettes are made by placing the whipped cream in a pastry bag with a star tube. Replace the top half of the baked ring and dust lightly with confectioner's sugar.

Of course, until Easter, anything new to spark Lenten menus is welcome.

Spinach and Crab Casserole can be a whole meal in itself or the same recipe baked in a shallow pan may be cut into squares and served as hot hors d'oeuvres.

SPINACH AND CRAB CASSEROLE

Cook 2 boxes frozen chopped spinach, drain and season to taste with salt, pepper and butter.

Spoon into large buttered casserole. On top place ½ lb. grated Martin's New York Cheddar cheese (it will pay to get this cheese even if you have to search for it). On top of this place 1 pound of well picked crabmeat.

In a saucepan melt 2 tbsp. butter. Remove from fire and stir in 2 tbsp. flour and add salt and black pepper. Add 2 cans of tomato soup undiluted and put on fire until it comes to boil. Then add one cup sour cream. To prevent curdling put cream in center—a little at a time and always in the center—gradually stirring the hot mixture in around the edge of the cream. Add onion juice and shredded green onion to taste and pour mixture over crab. Place casserole in 300 degree oven and bake ½ hour.

CUCUMBER SALAD—

Place very thinly peeled cucumber slices in a bowl and scatter salt over them. Continue filling bowl with layers of cucumber slices and salt and, when it is full, put a plate that will fit into the bowl on top of the slices. Place on top of the plate an aluminum foil covered brick and put bowl in refrigerator to stand at least an hour. Remove and drain off all water through collander. Mix cucumber slices with your favorite French dressing, with some parsley and green onion.

HELPFUL HINTS

And here are a few more of those ever so helpful hints.

1. Measure dry ingredients on waxed paper to save washing bowls.

2. Definition of a pinch—what you can hold between thumb and forefinger — not two fingers.

3. Unused egg whites may be stored indefinitely in a covered glass in the refrigerator —even as long as two or three months, and they may also be kept frozen.

4. Trick for deep frying—use the new golden shortening. It will impart nice color.

5. Proper method of peeling tomatoes. Place not more than three at a time in boiling water (off the fire) for a moment. Remove on fork and with tip of very sharp knife cut skin around center of tomato. Each half of skin may then be removed with one motion. Place immediately in very cold water to stop cooking action of boiling water.

6. Baking powder — never keep it more than 3 months and, still better, buy it fresh for anything you want perfect. The small expense is worth while.

7. How to prepare garlic if you do not have a garlic press. Cut clove in slices and cover heavily with salt (being sure to reduce amount of salt called for in recipe). Mash with flat side of knife blade and continue chopping and mashing until fine as desired.

PRETTY AS AN EASTER EGG — Frosted with pink, this raised bread is a delightful Easter breakfast centerpiece, but it is also apropos for the coming season of bridal showers, either afternoon or evening.

After Easter Breakfast Comes The Season Of April Showers

When spring comes, brides can't be far behind. Make an April Shower Party that's pink and pretty. A yeast-raised bread filled with bright cherries and almonds is sure to appeal to the girls. And this Party Bread is pretty enough to use as a centerpiece too. Decorate it with a pale pink frosting with fruit and almond flowers that are good enough to eat. A fruit punch is a bright and refreshing accompaniment. A simple to make and decorative touch to add to your punch is an ice ring with sweetheart roses frozen in it. All you do is fill a metal ring mold with water. Add a few sweetheart roses or other flowers and freeze overnight in the freezer.

PARTY BREAD

½ cup milk
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup shortening
2 tablespoons warm, not hot, water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
1 package or cake yest, active dry or compressed
2¼ cups sifted enriched flour
¾ teaspoon ground cardamon
½ cup candied cherries
¼ cup chopped almonds

Scald milk. Stir in sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Measure water into a bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast, lukewarm for compressed yeast). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture. Stir in 1 cup of the flour. Beat thoroughly, and beat until smooth. Cover; let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 30 minutes. Stir down. Add cardamom, cherries and almonds. Stir in remaining 1¼ cups flour. Turn out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic.

Place in greased bowl; brush top with shortening. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 55 minutes. Punch down. Form into round ball and place in round greased cake pan. Cover. Let rise in warm place free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake at 350 degrees F about 35 minutes, When cool frost with Plain Icing* and decorate with candied cherry and almond flowers.

*Plain Icing: Combine 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar, 1 tablespoon milk and ¼ teaspoon of vanilla. Tint pink with vegetable coloring.

Ingredients: 2½ tablespoons butter or margarine, 2½ tablespoons flour, 2 cups shrimp court bouillon, ¼ cup cooking liquid from green peas, ¼ cup heavy cream, ¾ teaspoon salt, white pepper, ⅛ teaspoon paprika, ½ to ¾ cup cooked drained frozen green peas.

Method: Melt butter in a 1-quart saucepan over low heat; stir in flour. Add court bouillon and green pea liquid; cook and stir constantly over moderately low heat until thickened and bubbly. Stir in cream, salt, pepper, paprika and peas; reheat but do not boil. Makes 3 servings.

Note: To make the court bouillon, bring just to boiling point 1 pound shrimp, 2¼ cups water, ¼ teaspoon peppercorns, ¼ teaspoon whole allspice, 2 whole cloves, ¼ teaspoon celery seed, 1 small bay leaf, 1 small onion (sliced) and a leafy celery rib; simmer 3 minutes or until shrimp are opaque through. Remove and shell shrimp; return shells to cooking liquid and seasonings in saucepan; simmer about 10 minutes; drain. Use court bouillon for soup and shrimp for salad on menu.

Birthday Cake

To make a cake that will long be remembered, bake cake layers in heart shaped pans, using a packaged mix. Stack the layers high with fluffy white icing, then outline the edge of the cake with pink mints.

HEAD FOR THE HILLS — If your Easter plans are full of fresh air and the tang of barbecue smoke, pack a pound or two of frankfurters, an assortment of relishes and be off! Ice packed in plastic containers keeps beverages cold, greens crisp. Portable barbecues are permitted in many places where open fires are not, on beaches of Tomales Bay State Park, for instance.

Kaffee Klatch Yeast Bread With Two Shortcut Twists

More people like sweet breads than cakes and pies for in-betweens. If yon don't believe it, just look around you the next time you stop for a mid-morning or mid-afternoon coffee break while shopping.

This recipe, which begins with a hot roll mix, calls for fig in a most unusual form—Fig Newtons. Make the batch hours or even a day or two earlier and bring out of the oven a couple of hours before oven time

What could be easier?

1 package hot roll mix
3 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup lukewarm water
1-lb. bag Fig Newtons

Combine hot roll mix, sugar and salt. Dissolve yeast from packet in mix in one cup lukewarm water. Stir into dry ingredients. Mix well. Grease top lightly. Cover tightly and store in refrigerator (not over two days). Punch down if necessary. Remove from refrigerator 2½ hours before baking. Divide into two equal parts. For each half, cut one cellophane packet (8 oz.) Fig Newtons into small pieces. Knead into dough. Shape into braid or loaf, cover and allow to rise in warm place until double in size. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 25 minutes or until a rich brown. While still warm glaze with:

ORANGE GLAZE: Mix ¼ cup orange juice, 2 cups confectioners' sugar, and ¼ teaspoon grated orange rind. Brush on loaf while still warm.

Special Extras For Easter If You're Having Picnic

An Easter picnic calls for something special in the way of savory extras and desserts. The Kidney Bean from Mrs. Douglas Brighton and these different Brownies from Mrs. C. R. Leininger are quite out of the ordinary.

Both are members of the Church of Jesus Christ Church of Latter Day Saints.

KIDNEY BEAN SALAD
Mrs. Douglas Brighton

2 cans beans, rinsed
1 small onion, chopped fine
1 clove garlic
2 parts oil to 1 part wine vinegar—enough to cover ingredients
1 tsp. celery seed
1 tsp. parsley
½ tsp. salt

BROWNIES
Mrs. C. R. Leininger

325° — 30 minutes
2 cups sugar, sifted
4 oz. chocolate
½ cup butter
4 eggs
¼ tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup flour
1 cup chopped walnuts

Melt the chocolate and butter. Meanwhile, beat the eggs, with salt until very light. Add the sifted sugar gradually. Beat until creamy.

Sift and add 1 cup flour, gradually.

Add ½ cup chopped nuts.

Bake the brownies in a well-greased 9x13 inch pan. Pour in the batter and add remaining ½ cup of nuts by sprinkling over the top. Sprinkle lightly with a little sugar over the nuts.

TOUCH OF DILL — In this Stuffed Breast of Veal roast, the ingenuity is in the Sour Cream Dill Sauce. This bacon and cracker stuffing is just one of dozens of ways to complement the mild flavor of this lean budget cut.

Stuffed Breast Of Veal Invites Spice Experiments Ad Infinitum

Breast of veal is one of the more intriguing cuts in the butcher's repertoire. When boned (have the butcher do it for you), it rolls easily around stuffing of infinite variety. The flavor of veal itself is a perfect foil for experiments with herbs and spices. If your family likes stuffing, this one way to have it often without going so far as a big turkey.

STUFFED BREAST OF VEAL

- 4 lbs. boned veal breast
- 8 slices bacon
- ½ cup medium chopped onion
- 2 In-Er-Seal Packets saltine crackers, coarsely crumbled
- ¼ tsp. pepper
- 3 tbsp. finely chopped dill (or 1 tsp. dried dill)
- ¼ tsp. garlic powder
- 1 chicken bouillon cube
- 1 cup boiling water

Fry bacon till well done. Drain on paper towels. Crumble. In same skillet saute onion until golden brown. Add bacon and onion to cracker crumbs, then add pepper, dill, and garlic powder and blend well. Dissolve bouillon cube in water, add to crumb mixture. Fill cavity with stuffing. Bake uncovered in slow oven (300° F.) at least 2 hours (30 minutes to the pound). Serve with:

SOUR CREAM SAUCE

'Glamorous Goo!' Sigh Teeners (Otherwise It's 'Heavenly Hash')

Teenagers call this dessert "Glamorous Goo," but to most of us it's another version of the old favorite "Heavenly Hash." It's easy and simple and just the thing to serve after a rich holiday meal—or at a regular family meal, for that matter.

HEAVENLY HASH

- 1 No. 2 can fruits for salad
- 1 banana
- 1 cup miniature marshmallows
- ½ pint sour cream dressing
- 2 tablespoons chopped walnuts or pecans
- Maraschino or candied cherries

Drain fruit and peel and slice banana. Combine fruits with marshmallows; stir into sour cream along with chopped nuts. Let stand 2 or 3 hours before serving. Spoon into dessert dishes or serve on slices of plain cake. Garnish with cherries. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

Off-Beat Snack For Late-Late TV

Here's a new idea for a snack to serve after an evening of bridge or TV: Grate 2 cups of Cheddar cheese, dice 4 slices of uncooked bacon and chop 4 green onions, tops and all. Mix together thoroughly with 1 cup of well-drained crushed pineapple. Arrange a thick layer over hamburger buns that have been cut in half, but not toasted. Broil until lightly browned and bubbly. This topping is enough for six buns, cut in half.

Zesty Accent

Color plays a big role in making your meals more appetizing. A touch of green in the guise of a sweet or tangy pickle is an easy way to add both color and zest to a meal.

Tutti-Frutti Sundae

Festive Pineapple Chocolate Frosting

Are you planning a special dessert for Sunday? Here's a festive frosting for your favorite loaf cake (made with a mix) that will finish the meal with a flourish. Mix ½ cup of undrained crushed pineapple, 1 cup of sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, and 2 tablespoons butter or margarine and bring to a boil. Boil for 5 minutes, stirring continuously.

Remove from heat and add ⅔ cup of semi-sweet chocolate bits, 1½ cups of miniature marshmallows and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Continue stirring until frosting is of spreading consistency. Pour frosting on cake all at one time and spread evenly over top.

Florentine Beef—Budget Secret From City Of Ornate Palaces

Simplicity is a characteristic of the food in the region of Italy around Florence. This is in marked contrast to the grandeur all around: the Pitti Palace, Medici Chapel, the Palazzo Vecchi.

This savory beef sauce served with piping hot rice is an example of the truly delicious Italian meat sauces. And the rice? It is a staple in Italy, as national as pasta and polenta.

This main dish is an easy one to prepare. The meat sauce could be prepared early in the day. The rice is quickly and easily cooked in 14 minutes. Then it's pressed in the custard cups. For fancy rice, fluted salad molds may be used.

FLORENTINE BEEF

- 1 tablespoon cooking fat
- 1 medium-sized onion, coarsely chopped
- ½ medium-sized green pepper, coarsely chopped
- 1 lb. ground beef (more if desired)
- 2 8-ounce cans tomato sauce
- ½ cup tomato catsup
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ⅛ teaspoon black pepper
- 1¼ cups uncooked white rice
- 2½ cups water

Melt the cooking fat in a 2-quart saucepan. Add the onions, green pepper and beef. Cook, stirring occasionally until the beef is browned and the onions and green pepper are tender. Add a small amount of fat if mixture begins to stick.

Stir in the tomato sauce, catsup, Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon of salt and the black pepper. Simmer about 15 minutes. Stir occasionally.

While the meat sauce cooks, put the rice, 1 teaspoon of salt and the water in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat down low. Cover with a lid and simmer over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on at least 10 minutes or until ready to serve.

Just before serving, press the hot rice into 5 ounce custard cups or fluted salad molds. Dip the molds in water before pressing in the rice. Unmold immediately onto serving platter.

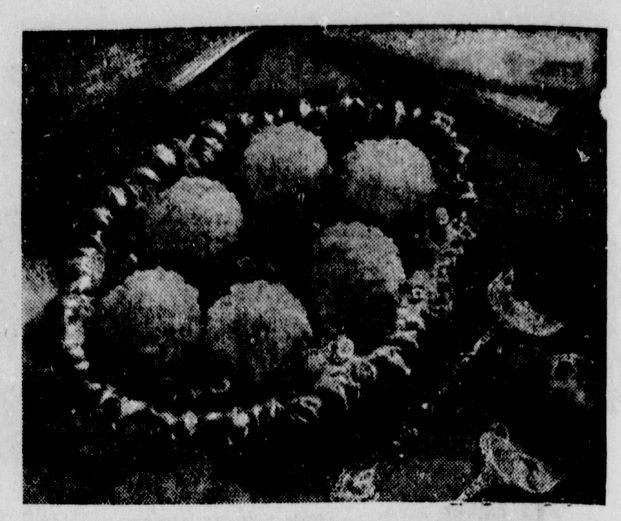
If desired, garnish with green pepper, parsley, watercress or celery leaves. Sprinkle with grated cheese if desired.

This recipe will make 6 to 7 mounds of rice, enough for 6 servings.

When stuffing flank steak be sure to roll up the meat parallel with the grain.



REGAL BEEF — The Florentines are noted not only for the grandeur of their architecture, but for their simple way with food. Florentine Beef puts this mastery to work with a flourish, notably a silver salver to set off a budget dish with regal aplomb.

Olive Etiquette

The only etiquette involved in eating olives, according to the experts, is that you do so gracefully. Take two bites from the large Spanish green stuffed olives and pop the tiny stuffed olives into your mouth whole. Olives with pits are eaten out of hand in two or three small bites and the stones set on your plate.

A DONATION

Improvement Club Benefits Hospital

A donation of $100 from the San Rafael Improvement Club will enable the Women's Auxiliary of San Rafael General Hospital to launch its first project, according to Mrs. Lawrence P. McNear, president.

The project, that of refurnishing the main waiting room at the hospital, was discussed by Auxiliary members at a meeting this week.

The check represents the bulk of the club's profits from participation in a February fashion lunch at Rickey's. Auxiliary members, clad in their red and white candy-striped uniforms, assisted as hostesses at the affair, which had one of the largest audiences in the current series.

At its meeting this week, the Auxiliary also welcomed two new members, Mrs. Victor M. Kagan and Mrs. John Kilsby. They will begin training as hospital volunteers on April 8.

Training sessions will be conducted on the second and fourth Mondays and Wednesdays of each month, with Mesdames McNear, Leiton J. Elder and Walter H. Lethbridge in charge.

EXCITING CONCERT

Enthusiasm keynoted Marin Music Chest's kick-off tea Monday at the Ross home of Mrs. Norman B. Livermore when district chairmen and their workers were told of the outstanding artists to be presented during the summer concert series.

Judge Carlos R. Freitas, president of the chest, announced the series would open on Sunday afternoon, June 21, with the famous duo pianists, Luboschultz and Nemenoff. This announcement was made more dramatic as Mrs. Melville (Kitty) Oppenheimer, secretary of the chest and its concert manager, was called from the meeting to answer a telephone call from Los Angeles confirming the June 21 date. Dates for the concerts in July and August have not been set. In July the young violinist Michael Rabin, will be featured and the following month, the famous dramatic soprano, Eileen Farrell, will sing. The first three concerts will be in the afternoon and the fourth and concluding event will be in the evening. All will be at Forest Meadows on the Dominican campus, San Rafael. As an incentive to drive workers, Judge Freitas said that if sufficient money were raised by membership subscriptions, the San Francisco Ballet may be secured for the performance in September.

The music scholarships awarded to young people are also a big inducement for chest membership. Judge Freitas reported that during the 25 years the chest has been in existence, 72 scholarships have been awarded with an expenditure of more than $14,000. He expressed the chest's appreciation to Mrs. Livermore for opening her home for the kick-off tea, to Mrs. George Metcalfe, who is heading the annual drive for the third successive year, to Mrs. Oppenheimer, an ardent officer who has served ever since the chest was formed, to Mrs. Boyd Stewart, first vice president; Mrs. Samuel Archibald, second vice president; Mrs. Milton Esberg, third vice president, Ralph Mannella, treasurer and Mrs. Middleton, tea chairman.

Mrs. Metcalfe, introduced by Judge Freitas, announced that the membership drive would open on April 6 and conclude May 6 and that reports will be made at the tea to be held at Maple Lawn, San Rafael home of Miss Louise A. Boyd on May 27. She told of the many new chairmen and workers who have enlisted in the drive and gave these instructions. Mrs. Oppenheimer explained the types of subscriptions and then kits were distributed to the 125 drive chairmen. Nearly 200 women attended the meeting and tea. Taking turns at presiding at the tea table were Mesdames Archibald, Herbert Brainerd, Carl Riznik, Florence Donnelly, Natale Andreotti, Carlos Freitas, William Rattray and Wallace Scott. Table centerpiece was an arrangement of tulip tree blossoms ranging from light lavender to deep purple. Decorations were under the chairmanship of Mrs. Fred H. Sloat who was assisted by Mesdames Eugene Lloyd John Addington, Curtis Knowles, Homer Hood and John Toole.

Rainbow Mothers' Club Entertains For New Members

The Mother's Club of San Rafael Assembly, Order of Rainbow for Girls, held a recent "Get Acquainted" coffee at the Masonic Temple for new members.

A short business meeting was held, with Mrs. Kenneth Walkmeister presiding. Plans were made for a fashion show which will be held at the Masonic Temple, San Rafael on April 11. Clothes from the La Marie Shoppe in Kentfield will be modeled by the Rainbow Girls. Kay Frame, worthy associate advisor, is chairman

The Grand Assembly of the State of California, Order of Rainbow for Girls,, will be held in Fresno during Easter week, and several girls from the San Rafael Assembly will attend. Marilyn Beyer, past worthy advisor, and Marilyn Brown, worthy advisor, were given the honor of being chosen to act as pages during the Grand Assembly.

Knits Of Note

Mill Valley Student Honorary Official

Barbara Boates, a freshman at Pacific University in Forest Grove, Ore., has been elected chaplain of the Baxerettes, freshman-sophmore women's honorary organization.

Barbara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Boates of Mill Valley, was graduated from Tamalpais High School. She is majoring in religious education and is a member of Phi Lambda Omicron Sorority as well as of the Campus Religious Council and is treasurer of the Freshman class.

A member of the First Congregational Church in San Rafael, Barbara chose Pacific University because it is sponsored by Congregational churches.

Foreign Exchange Students To Speak At P-TA Meeting

On Thursday evening, April 16 at 8 o'clock, the regular meeting of the Redwood High School Parent-Teacher Assn. will be held in the Choral Room of Redwood High School.

A description of the American Field Service program whose area chairman is Mrs. Mortimer Weiss will be presented by Robert Mautner of Redwood, the faculty representative for the Field Service.

The foreign exchange students who are living with families in Marin county and attending the high schools will speak, telling of their homes and backgrounds as well as answering questions from the audience.

Native costumes will be worn by Kimiko Sogabe, from Takamatsu City, Japan, a student at the Katharine Branson School whose foster-parents are Mr. and Mrs. John C. Gilman of Ross, and by Ritva Hannonen from Finland who is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Richards of Corte Madera while attending Tamalpais High. Houshang Dezfulian from Iran who is attending Tamalpais High while living with the family of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dreyfus of Mill Valley will play the santour, a musical instrumust of his native country.

The foster parents will come to the meeting with their student guests. In addition to Kimiko, Houshang and Ritva there will be these others: From Novato High School, Gudrin Zschenderlein from West Berlin, Germany, who is staying with Mr. and Mrs. James Cuzner of Novato; from Sir Francis Drake, Bill Rayner of Opotiki, Auckland, New Zealand, who is living in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Murman of San Anselmo; from Redwood High School, Martina Jiminez of Santiago, Chile, whose foster parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tracy of Greenbrae, from San Rafael High School, Margarite Kasenke of Bonn, West Germany, who is with Mr. and Mrs. James W. McFarland of San Rafael.

There are also two students from Sir Francis Drake High School who represented this country abroad last year on an American Field Service summer trip. Fred Corson who stayed with a family in the Austrian Tyrol and Hale Prather who lived in Grenoble with a French family will also speak.

Robert Kuehnl, chairman of the Foreign Language faculty at Redwood High School will introduce members of his department and describe the courses now being offered and taught there. Mrs. Ida Tracy will present a demonstration showing use of some of the new Language Laboratory techniques of tape recording for which Redwood has made application under the National Defense grant.

After the general meeting the Foreign Language classrooms will be open to interested parents and refreshments will be served in the Homemaking Room by the Hospitality Committee from the Ross area.

All parents and friends of the school are invited to this meeting.

HAWAIIAN TOUR

Gold Star Mothers Conclave Set For April In San Diego

President Ethel Jordan read the call to convention of the California-Arizona-Nevada Department, which will be held in San Diego at the U. S. Grant Hotel on April 26, 27, 28 and 29. An eight day Hawaiian tour is planned from San Diego immediately after the close of the convention. Other Mothers and friends may join the tour at Los Angeles or in Honolulu from a San Francisco departure. Mrs. Mabel Fine of the San Jose Chapter is tour chairman. She states that the round-trip tour via Pan American World Airways will include accomodations at the Hawaiian Village Hotel on Waikiki Beach, a native luau feast and entertainment, "Hawaii Calls" radio breakfast and luncheon; Mt. Tantalus-Honolulu scenic tour, Pearl Harbor cruise and a visit to Pacific National Cemetery with appropriate ceremonies honoring war heroes.

Arrangements may also be made for return to the Mainland via ship if preferred. It is hoped that several of the local Mothers will be able to take advantage of the tour.

The Marin Chapter will celebrate its 10th annual Birthday Dinner on April 7. Because of this meeting and the Convention occurring within the month, thre will be no stated meeting of the group on the usual meeting date of April 14, according to Mrs. Jordan, who is accepting reservations for the Birthday Dinner.

A theatre party is being planned as part of the evening's entertainment. Maude Francke, Hospital Chairman of the Chapter, announced that the group had received a citation of honor for having the best trimmed Christmas tree at the Yountville party during the holidays. The Chapter frequently visits the hospital.

Lagunitas Parent-Teacher has given honor to one of its members, become publisher for the eighth grade, "Lagunitas Newsette," and nominated and elected its 1959-1960 officers. It also requested a committee of two teachers and the superintendent, Clifford Frye, to purchase with P-TA funds two phonographs for school use.

Mrs. Albert E. Larsen was honored with a life membership in California Congress of Parents and Teachers, particularly for her service to the school and its children and as a member of the governing board of the Lagunitas District School. Mrs. Larsen, a resident of Woodacre has been active in the P-TA and the San Geronimo Valley Youth Association.

Officers elected are Mesdames Robert Prather, president; Milton Johnson, vice president; Glenn Twitchell, recording secretary; Verne Gilstrap, corresponding secretary; William McConnell, treasurer; Norman Peace, financial secretary; John Bonner, auditor; Jack Barnes, historian; and William Simpson, parliamentarian. They will be installed at the meeting on April 2.

The Lagunitas Newsette, edited by the eighth graders and their teacher, Miss Ruth Smith, is being published monthly. News is gathered by Barbara Moyer, Jeff Harriman, Gerald Johnson, Louis Hightower, Joanne Christie, Tommy Kolbe, David Wilson, Hamish Tyler, Jack O'Brien, Rusty Borello, Brian Steen-Larsen and Don Burnham. The paper gives reports of all eight grades, special events and P-TA activities.

"Spring Is the Fashion" was the theme for the fashion show given by Lagunitas P-TA on Saturday in the newly completed community building of the San Geronimo Community Church. P-TA members and their children modeled. Mrs. William Ollenberger was commentator. Modeled were clothes ranging from formal gowns to play outfits which had been made by the members. It was the eleventh year of the fashion show.

Mrs. Vernon Gilstrap was in charge of the program. Mrs. Gilbert Freitas, who was formerly with the San Diego Light Opera Co. sang three songs, accompanied by her voice teacher, Mrs. Bella Resek of Mill Valley. Sue Bechtel, a third grader at the Lagunitas School, gave several acrobatic dances.

Mrs. Milton Johnson and Mrs. John Lindsey were co-chairman of the fashion show and Mrs. William McConnell and Mrs. Hillis Newcomb carried out the spring theme with the decorations.

Golden Star Has Official Visit Made

Mrs. Charles Peterson, district deputy president of District No. 61, Rebekah Assembly of California, paid her official visit to Golden Star Rebekah Lodge No. 112 at the IOOF Temple in San Rafael Thursday night. She was escorted into the lodge hall by Mrs. William Amos, district deputy marshal and taken to the seat of honor. Assisting in the escort were Mesdames Lance Devericks and Lawrence Meyers.

Gifts from the lodge were presented to Mrs. Peterson by Mrs. Herbert Hickman and to Mrs. Amos by Mrs. Harry E. Wall. The latter has been sponsored for district deputy president of District 61.

Other guests were Mrs. Peg Dahl, noble grand of Blythedale Rebekah Lodge No. 305 of Mill Valley and Mrs. Kenneth Irwin and Mrs. Hickman, president and vice president, respectively, of Ladies Auxiliary to Canton San Rafael No. 39, Patriarchs Militant, IOOF.

Mrs. Mary Bruni, noble grand, conducted the meeting at which Mrs. Wall and Mrs. Leo Berger were elected delegates to the meeting of the Rebekah Assembly of California in Long Beach May 17-23.

An Easter hat parade was held following the meeting. Mrs. Devericks was the winner for the most original hat; Mrs. Gertrude Mirgon for the most beautiful hat, and Mrs. Herbert Maxey for the funniest hat. Judges were Charles Peterson and William Amos.

Refreshments were served in the banuqet hall following the meeting. Easter baskets and chicks on garlands of smilax centered the tables. Mrs. A. F. E. DaSilva was chairman of the committee. Assisting her were Mesdames James Rowe, Arthur Blake, Lloyd Ruhl, Della Figone and Mr. Louis Woelfl.

Legion Auxiliary Marks Birthday

San Anselmo American Legion Auxiliary 179 held its 27th birthday dinner recently at the newly-opened Trader Horn's. Chairman for the affair was Mrs. Walter Johnson who prepared lovely Easter bonnets for all guests and members.

Mrs. Henry Sanborn, president of the Auxiliary, welcomed all present to the dinner. Mrs. Johnson introduced the District President, Mrs. Mildred Walker from Healdsburg, and the first vice president of the District Mrs. William Wagner of Corte Madera.

The special event of the evening was presented by several students from Tamalpais High School. Students presenting this musical skit were Joe Reade, Marilee White, Nancy Piver, Judy Adams, Pat Farrell and Jody Johnson. Mrs. Elmer Jones entertained with a piano medley and all joined in singing popular songs. As a finish to a splendid program Mrs. Oscar Liebeskind led the group in singing Happy Birthday. Homemade individual cakes decorated with Easter eggs and bunnies were served for dessert.

Charter members of San Anselmo American Legion Auxiliary attending the dinner were Mesdames Walter Johnson, Maude Francke, Jean Lestanguet, Jessie Bubalo, Catherine Struckman, and E. R. Taylor. Guests present were Mesdames Mildred Walker, William Wagner, Alice Hall, Miss Armada Davalos and Miss Anita Lorraina, and Mrs. J. E. Fanlo. Members present were Mesdames Walter Arndt, Walter Apperson, John Bodeen, G. E. Biasotti, Robert Bassett, Zena Cabrol, John Cramer, Moy Davalos, Jess Fisher, Warren Greenwood, Jack Garcia, John Jordan, Ernest Johnston, Elmer Jones, Frank King, John Cartamo, Toby Peckner, Lorraine Rau, W. M. Ross, Henry Sanborn, Larry Schlosser, Helen Wagner, W. A. Wagner, Richard Wagner, Lester Wolf and Glenda McClure.

Mrs. Warren Greenwood announces that the department president will make her official visit to the Fifth District at a social dinner to be held at the Green Mill Inn in Petaluma April 11 at 7:30 p.m. The next regular meeting of San Anselmo Unit will be held at the American Legion Log Cabin tonight at 8:15 p.m. Mrs. Jess Fisher, Community Service chairman is in charge of the program.

Lodges Hold Dinner

Eighty-five members and friends attended a ham dinner given recently by Muir Temple, Pythian Sisters of Mill Valley and Muir Lodge, Knights of Pythias, at the Odd Fellows Hall in Mill Valley. It was followed by cards and games.

Among those assisting were Messrs. and Mesdames John Omli, Emmett Segrue, Anthony Bottini; Mesdames Harold Owen, Frank Oliveira, George Vogensen, Joseph Hukoveh, Doris Leacock; also James Smith.

Spring Prints Are Predominant At Golf Club's Benefit Bridge

A capacity crowd of well over 100 members and guests made the Mill Valley Women's Golf Club's benefit bridge recent luncheon an outstanding success, thanks to the hard work of general chairman Mrs. G. F. Conzelman and her committee.

Mrs. A. E. Poarch, who wore an exceptionally lovely blue green flowered print, and her committee used spring flowers for decor, and tables were laid with pastel cloths centered with fascinating candy and nut cups that looked like blossoms.

Just the right kind of day it was for spring prints, but not too warm for a number of fur stoles.

Among those wearing spring prints were Mrs. Philip Dunuing in a predominantly royal blue with matching hat, Mrs. Philip Schafer in black and white with black hat, and Mrs. V. F. Thoney in green that contrasted pleasantly with a pink striped print worn by her guest, Mrs. Paul Cooley, a former member down from Sonoma for the occasion. Making a foursome with them were Mrs. John Garatte and Mrs. R. G. Cornelius.

Looking smart in black and white ensembles were Mrs. Richard Evans, whose guests were Mesdames W. E. Casterson and Joseph Bare; and Mrs. Frank Peters, who shared a table with Mesdames John Hurley, Donald Harper and Robert Lane.

A gay blue and white print and white picture hat were becoming to Mrs. Melvin Moore, whose guests were Mesdames William Weeks, Palmer Clark and L. R. Smith.

Other members with their guests respectively were Mesdames Robert Dean and George Bogel, C. G. Bird and Arthur Foster; J. C. Olson and Taylor Merriman, Wayne Bingham and J. Paul Hurd; Harry Diner and Max Blum, Russell Johnson and L. R. Sumpter.

James McGinnis and Hugh Corthell, James Sparks and Carroll McElroy; Bruno Maraccini and Arthur Doney, Rex Thompson, Donald Park and W. A. Van Buskirk; Howard Kemper and James Delaney, James Wickersham and M. V. O'Brien; W. B. Smillie and John Finn III, Vernt Hockett and Leslie Lowenthal.

Mrs. Conzelman entertained Mesdames G. E. Brennan, her mother and G. C. Gaspar, F. L. Christ, B. R. Crane, K. E. Chasse, Melanie Kliewe, V. S. Partridge and M. R. Wingburg.

Making up foursomes were Mesdames Glen Paulson and Mervyn Mazza with guests Mesdames Norman Tubbs and Spence Harvin; William F. Poole, Paul Brown, Robert Keast and Charles Doyle; E. J. Halm, Sanford Hill, Bill Damerow and Hugh Richardson.

3 To Speak On Sandspit In Sausalito

Three qualified speakers, each well informed in his category, will participate in the panel discussion on "Sandspit: Recreation or Restaurant?" at the initial meeting of the newly formed Civics Section of the Sausalito Woman's Club tomorrow at 10:30 a.m.

Robert LaFontaine, chairman of the Recreation Committee in Sausalito, will present the facts on the converting of the sandspit into a recreation area. Sam Weinstein, speaking for the citizens' group to "Save the Waterfront" (not to be confused with the new Waterfront Group formed by the Ark Dwellers) will put forth that group's views on preserving and enhancing Sausalito's greatest asset, the waterfront. J. Herbert Madden, creator and lease holder of the Sandspit in question, will talk on the commercial development of the property.

The formation of the Civics Section is to inform the members of the Woman's Club of the facts involved in matters confronting the community of Sausalito and, thus, better educated members can help in the formation of plans and policies for the city.

Mrs. Charles Diller Ryan and Mrs. Walter Thomson are co-chairman of the new group and they emphasize the importance of becoming better acquainted with the facts pertaining to the civic welfare of the community and ask the members to attend this and all ensuing meetings.

Coordinated Colors Highlight Fashions At Club Luncheon

The Marin Catholic Women's Club's luncheon and fashion show held last week in the Marin Catholic High School auditorium featured some of the most beautiful styles seen in a long time, according to Mrs. John Fracchia and Edward Barry, co-chairmen.

Staged by Macy's with Miss Gay Le Joie, fashion coordinator for Macy's as commentator, the show consisted of a collection of costumes in coordinated colors rather than contrasting themes. They were displayed by professional models.

Casual wear costumes stressed velvety soft leathers in vivid lucious colors, and the spring costume look was carried out in much bold black and white in checks and plaids combined in fresh ways.

New 'Y' Courses Set Eight Weeks

Women who want more healthy activity in their lives are urged to enroll in the new spring courses offered by the YWCA in Marin County. Starting the week of March 30, classes will be scheduled for eight weeks, during daytime hours.

Golf, tennis, bowling, ice skating, and trimnastics are the choice of spring sports enthusiasts. Classes for both beginners and those more proficient in the sports are available, with trained instructors ready to help each individual.

For those who wish to develop a hobby, a class in mosaics and mobiles will be held on Tuesday mornings, and a watercolor and oil painting class will meet on Thursday afternoons.

New friends and an enjoyable morning may be found in the bridge classes, for beginners on Tuesday, for more advanced players on Wednesday. Based on the Goren Point Count System, the "play-as-you-learn" method is used.

For class times, dates, and meeting places call the YWCA Office, 1010 "B" street, San Rafael, and the new spring folder will be sent upon request.

President Uses Patience, Reason To Lead Nation

During times of crisis, President Eisenhower has often been loudly assailed by critics for not taking strong-arm retaliatory action.

It always seemed to us that the President was able to bring the U.S.A. successfully and advantageously through each crisis by dint of patience and reason. He appeared always to avoid the course advocated by extremists.

Comes now James Marlow, the Associated Press analyst in Washington, to say what we have been thinking. And Marlow, as usual, backs his conclusions by citing the factual record. Here is the way he sees it:

History may show President Eisenhower's greatest contribution to the presidency was his restraint in time of danger and critical stress. Apparently, it has just paid off again.

In a week's time there has been a definite relaxing of tension over Berlin.

Eisenhower has shown restraint a number of times when, through emotionalism or aggressiveness, he could have precipitated unpredictable events, including war.

When the British, French and Israelis invaded Egypt in 1956—and the Soviet Union threatened retaliation that would have meant world war — Eisenhower cracked down on the Allies to stop and get out. They did.

The Red Chinese—bent on destroying Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese on Formosa — at various times have bombarded the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Eisenhower could have resorted to extreme steps.

He could have ordered American planes to bombard the Chinese mainland.

This would have been a good bet to bring on a war with Red China's ally, the U.S.S.R. Instead, Eisenhower used less drastic means to bolster the defense of the islands and sweat out the Red attacks until the Communists quieted down.

The same was true in Indochina when North Viet Nam was falling to rebel forces of Communist Ho Chi-minh and the French colonial masters of Indochina were disintegrating.

Eisenhower could have sent in American planes to bail out the French and smash the Communists. This could have meant war with Red China. Eisenhower didn't.

True, half of Viet Nam was lost to the Reds. But the rest of the country, freed of the French, began for the first time to have a democratic government of its own.

It can be argued that Eisenhower's restrains were a series of negative actions. But Eisenhower, responsible for the leadership not only of this country but of the Western world, used restraint to avoid catastrophes.

There have been other instances, most recently the Berlin crisis created by Premier Nikita Khrushchev who demanded last Nov. 27 that the Allies get their troops out of West Berlin. He appeared to be setting a six-months' deadline for it.

The West assumed he meant by May 27. The West stood firm in refusing to get out, although the Allies eyed each other carefully, wondering if any of them might weaken.

Since November Khrushchev has made puzzling statements, some belligerent, such as warning the West it faced war with the Soviet Union if the Allies, refusing to pull out their troops, attempted to force supplies through Communist East Germany to their Berlin garrisons.

At a couple of news conferences Eisenhower sounded a little heated when talking of Khrushchev and his Berlin demands. He even indicated that any Soviet attempt to throw out the Allies might mean nuclear war.

And he poked hard at Khrushchev, who kept insisting on a summit conference to settle things, that such a conference was useless until the Soviet leader began showing more signs of willingness to negotiate.

Whether or not Khrushchev took this as a real nudge, only he knows. But at least in recent weeks he has talked less belligerently, put more stress on the value of negotiations, and repeatedly said he wasn't setting a deadline or laying down an ultimatum.

Then 10 days ago, as if responding to increasing reasonableness from Khrushchev, Eisenhower in his nationwide broadcast carefully avoided any sign of belligerency or irritation.

He went further than he ever had before, although laying down some conditions, in suggesting not only that a summit conference was possible but that it could be held this summer.

Khrushchev subsequently called a giant news conference. He too sounded reasonable and praised Eisenhower for his reasonableness.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Congratulations to Frank George of the Redwood Travel Advisors. The eight tours planned this summer for "young Americans" from 14 to 17 years of age deserve full support. During these times of world strife and communistic infiltrations, how better can we strengthen our youths to this country than to "see and know American first."

One month travel through 21 states stresses our historical background and traditions. I envy my son's opportunity who became No. 1 to sign up.

Women Voters Plead For Funds

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

We are writing to draw to your attention and, to that of your readers, the need for support of the supplemental appropriation of $225 million for economic aid for the Development Loan Fund. This is not a grant, but a loan, which is made on the basis of plans submitted and approved by the lending agency. Congress did not vote the full sum last year, but agreed to supplement it (in fiscal year 1959) if necessary. This has become very urgent, as President Eisenhower has indicated, particularly in view of India's need.

All of Asia is watching the struggles of China and India to raise their standard of living and bring about a better life for their people. In consideration of the Communist economic challenge to the West, it appears vitally necessary for India to succeed in her plans.

The Leagues of Women Voters of Marin County urge readers to address their expressions of support for this supplemental loan to the International Development Loan Fund to:

Berlin Crisis Will Plague Us For At Least Five More Months

WASHINGTON — Week after week, for at least the next five months, the biggest headline-news will revolve around the Berlin crisis. It isn't going to disappear soon. It isn't going to be settled quickly.

In the wake of Premier Khrushchev's effort to force the West out of West Berlin — as Stalin sought to do 10 years ago; in the wake of British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's reconnaissance tour to Moscow and the profitable conversations between President Eisenhower and Mr. Macmillan here last week, it seems to me we are entering a new phase in our relations with the Soviet Union.

HERE IS WHAT I think we need to keep in the front of our minds in order to read the news now in the making:

1 — For the first time since the beginning of the cold war 12 years ago, events are so in motion that significant negotiation between the Soviet Union and the Western allies seems attainable. By again threatening West Berlin Mr. Khrushchev has so stirred things up that they are not going to come to rest again the way they were before, no matter what happens. This means that some issues larger than Berlin are going to be in part resolved by negotiation or, failing, the cold war is going to become colder and tougher.

2 — A Big-Four heads-of-government summit meeting — Eisenhower, Macmillan, De Gaulle, and Khrushchev — is now a certainty. Mr. Macmillan became convinced in Moscow that Premier Khrushchev is the only Soviet official prepared to make decisions in foreign affairs and that he is not willing to negotiate through a mouthpiece. President Eisenhower has for all practical purposes embraced this view. You will recall that he used to talk about being willing to go to a summit conference only if advance preparation showed that some useful agreement could be reached. In his latest report to the nation he stated he hoped for a summit meeting "assuming developments justify." He did not say that advance developments would have to assure agreement.

3 — We need to see clearly the nature of the impasse over Berlin in order to see through to what kind of larger agreement with the Soviets could remove the impasse. The impasse is this: the Soviets want all of the occupying powers out of West Berlin even if Germany remains dismembered. We will not leave West Berlin until Germany is reunited, because the present East German regime is a creature of Moscow.

The West wants to guard against the resurgence of German militarism just as much as the Soviets do. So does Chancellor Adenauer. If this is Moscow's real purpose, then we may be at the point of productive negotiation.

REMEMBER WHEN

10 YEARS AGO

Arnold Forsman, owner of a push-button home near Los Ranchitos subdivision, was expected to appear before the county board of supervisors to protest a ruling which prevented him from charging persons to see his house.

District Atty. A. E. Bagshaw completed his office move to the new wing of the courthouse. He was the first occupant of the addition which was provided by a $300,000 remodeling project.

Marin anglers prepared for the season's first big weekend of striped bass fishing as reports from up and down county shores indicated a run had started.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

An intercollegiate track star invaded the dean's office to protest the behavior of the new coach. "His theories are sound enough," he admitted, "but isn't he supposed to point that old starting gun in the air? I haven't been able to sit down since he checked in here!"

A publicist for Boeing, the outfit that constructs many of those fantastic new jet airliners, has found a way to dramatize their speed. "At a normal rate of breathing," he points out, "a passenger on one of these jets will have traveled more than a mile by the time he has inhaled and exhaled twice!"

A Scotman was aboard the jet that broke commercial records between England and New York. "Describe your sensations," suggested a reporter. "I ha' no sensations," said the Scotsman sourly. "All I know is that five pounds wor' of travel insurance went down the drain."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By ROSS W. ASHLEY

Air Base Newspaper Was 'Scramble' Indeed (Toss That Ball, General Parker)

The "Scramble," post newspaper at Hamilton Air Force Base, lived up to its name last Friday.

The paper is usually published on Fridays, and its staff, in the base Office of Information Services, were relaxing Friday morning after delivering all copy, etc., to the printing company that prints the paper.

Came a phone call from the printers — "We've made a little mix up in a couple of pictures. Is that all right?" they said.

There was quite a scramble in the Scramble offices, with Sgt. Pierce W. Timberlake, editor, bellowing into the phone. "No, it's not all right! Stop the presses!" (they were already stopped, the whole press run having been completed.)

Timberlake blistered the telephone wire to the printers (NOT the I-J commercial printing department — (adv.), and informed them being skinned alive would be the best thing that would happen to them if that edition ever saw the light of day around Hamilton.

It may be O.K. to mix up a few odd volleyball players, but in the Air Force it is emphatically not O.K. to go around misplacing major generals.

Fast action got enough "Scrambles" printed by Saturday for distribution to the Air Force Academy cadets who were leaving Hamilton Sunday. Other subscribers had to wait until Monday for their copies.

A FEW OTHER random notes from Hamilton:

With accustomed resourcefulness, the clubs at AF bases the world over, got around that easy enough. Called 'em reservoirs.

Grab your trunks and let's go reservoiring.

THE AIR FORCE recruiting program undoubtedly got a big boost from the open house last week, and especially from the spectacular flying display of the famed "Thunderbirds."

It may take them a few years to cash in on it, though. Results should be apparent in about 1960 when many of the small fry who watched open-mouthed as the Thunderbirds swept past, reach recruitable age. Some of us old codgers also watched with jaws agape, but the recruiters merely yawn when they notice us.

HEADLINE OF THE WEEK in a San Francisco paper, next to a two-column picture of Sausalito's Sally Stanford — "Stanford To Continue Clinic Another Year."

This is a clinic? (Turns out they were talking about a certain university, rather widely known, but perhaps less so than Sally.)

WASHINGTON WINDOW

With Eye Still On White House, Stassen Runs Again

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Harold Edward Stassen has lowered his sights somewhat and comes up now as a Republican candidate for mayor of Philadelphia.

Stassen was governor of his native Minnesota 20 years ago and thereafter three times a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination.

If Stassen fails this time in his move for the mayoralty, your correspondent and others would not be astonished if he tried to seize a lower rung of the political ladder, county attorney maybe, municipal judge or councilman.

FIRMLY FIXED in Stassen's big, blond head is the idea that he will, sometime, be nominated and elected President of the United States. Others have had that idea before him and failed. Few, however, have pursued the rainbow with greater enthusiasm. Three times elected governor of Minnesota, Stassen resigned with most of a third term still to serve.

He resigned for Naval service, 1943-45 in World War II. Stassen's service was distinguished administratively and in combat.

The young governor had identified himself with the maverick, unbranded elements of the Republican party in 1940 when he floor-managed the National Convention forces which licked the party regulars and made the late Wendell L. Willkie the Republican Presidential nominee.

In 1944, aged 37, Stassen was a candidate for the nomination himself and again in 1948 and 1952. His great decision, however, was that which shifted his voting residence from Minnesota to the east where in 1948 he became president of the University of Pennsylvania.

PENNSYLVANIA is a big, industrial state, a power in the Republican party which Minnesota is not. Stassen's purpose in making Pennsylvania his base of political operations was clear, reasonable and hazardous.

Stassen did not figure much in the Republican politics of 1951-52 which was centered largely on draft-Ike, stop-Taft maneuvers. Appointive office in and about the White House and the State Department after 1952 failed to provide Stassen with the political springboard and identity which he craved and needed.

He achieved that identity in 1955-56, however, by heading up the public operation designed to prevent Vice President Richard M. Nixon from succeeding President Eisenhower in the White House or of being renominated if Eisenhower ran again. Stassen took a bruising beating on that one.

Last year Stassen bid for Pennsylvania's gubernatorial nomination. Pennsylvania's party leaders cut him down. Chose, instead, a political unknown named Arthur T. McGonigle. The Democrats all but ran the Republicans out of the state on election day. That was Stassen's good luck. If he can now be elected mayor of Philadelphia, the man from Minnesota will be on his way again and the party leaders will be tipping their hats.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Audrey Feels There Isn't Time To Do Everything She'd Like

NEW YORK (AP) — "I don't want to play Lady Macbeth or be a big fat star," said Audrey Meadows. "I just want to keep working.

"I'm a kind of slap-happy character. I've loved every show I've been on."

And titian-haired Audrey, the China-born daughter of an Episcopal missionary — she used to teach Sunday School — has been a standout in practically every branch of the entertainment field.

She started as a concert singer at 16. She sang and danced in Broadway musicals. She became known as television's brightest, breeziest young comedienne.

After a two-year layoff, she resumed her career as a quiz show performer and guest star. This Friday night she tries a new role, pinch-hitting for Edward R. Murrow.

"I'm glad they had a sinking spell and hired me for this job," she said, cheerfully. "I've always wanted to be a newspaper gal."

"I've been very fortunate in the shows I've been on and the people I've worked with," said Audrey, who has a nice trait of always speaking well of the other fellow.

She brings a great gusto to living and enjoys a varied life. Because the only musical instrument she can play is the piano — "with one finger" — she plans to take lessons on the guitar.

"I suffer from the feeling there isn't time to do everything I want to," she said. "But I guess if there were time, that would be complete boredom, wouldn't it? It would be frightening."

The only thing that bores her is "a closed mind." The think that attracts her most is "a curious mind."

"So many people today are negative," she said. "I believe in kindness and a faith in something or someone beyond ourselves. If we all practiced kindness on a larger scale, we'd have fewer misunderstandings on all levels.

"I don't believe much in anger or fear.

"THE ONLY thing that really makes me angry is the sight of injustice. The only thing that scares me is the elements — hurricanes, lightning, thunder.

"I don't have many social fears. If there is a job I know I can't do, I don't take it."

Asked what her epitaph would be if she could write it herself, Audrey grinned and said:

"She tried — poor soul!"

F. Geary by Deed dated April 19, 1871 and recorded in Book I of Deeds page 455, Marin County Records, running thence from said point of commencement along the said creek bed North 64° 48′ West 63.25 feet, thence leaving said creek bed and running thence North 52° 59′ West 65 feet to the Southeasterly line of a 25 foot right of way, thence along said right of way North 37° 01′ East 118 feet, thence leaving said right of way and running South 52° 59′ East to a point which is North 34° 35′ East from the point of commencement, thence South 34° 35′ West to the point of commencement.

COMMENCING at the most Westerly corner of the above described parcel of land running thence North 52° 59′ West 25 feet, thence North 37° 01′ East to the Southerly line of Laurel Grove Avenue, thence Easterly along the Southerly line of Laurel Grove Avenue to a point which is North 37° 01′ East from the point of commencement, thence South 37° 01′ West to the point of commencement.

It being understood, however, that the property to be sold does not include that portion of the hereinbefore described property, sometimes known as 4 Emlin Drive, situate in the County of Marin, State of California, and more particularly described as follows:

BEGINNING at the most Northerly corner of that certain parcel conveyed by Mina A. Lindsay to Wallace A. Smith, et ux, by Deed recorded May 21, 1947 in Liber 552 of Official Records at page 128, Marin County Records, and running thence along the Northeasterly line of said parcel, South 52° 59′ East 100.22 feet to a point on the Northwesterly line of a 25 foot right of way, thence along said right of way line North 37° 01′ East 76.24 feet, thence leaving said right of way line North 52° 59′ West 100.22 feet and thence South 37° 01′ West 76.24 feet to the point of beginning.

TOGETHER WITH a right of way over a parcel of land 25 feet in width lying, Southeasterly of and parallel and adjacent to the following described line: BEGINNING at a point distant South 52° 59′ East 100.22 feet from the most Northerly corner of that certain parcel conveyed by Mina A. Lindsay to Wallace A. Smith, et ux, by deed recorded May 21, 1947 in Liber 552 of Official Records at page 128, Marin County Records; and running thence North 37° 01′ East 236.42 feet more or less to the Southwesterly line of Laurel Grove Avenue.

Bids or offers are invited for said property and must be in writing and will be received at Crocker-Anglo National Bank, Trust Real Estate Department, 1 Montgomery Street, San Francisco, California, or may be filed with the Clerk of the said Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the City and County of San Francisco, or delivered to one of the undersigned executors personally at any time after the first publication of this notice and before the making of the sale.

Terms and conditions of sale: Cash in lawful money of the United States of America, ten per cent of the purchase price to be paid on day of sale, balance on confirmation of sale by the Court and delivery of the executors' deed. All prorations including taxes, rents, insurance premiums and operating and maintenance expenses to be prorated as of the date of recording said executors' deed. Escrow charges, title insurance and recordation of the deed to be paid by the purchaser.

Dated March 19, 1959.

ADDED MEANING TO EASTER

Three persons, with reason to appreciate the current Easter Seal Drive by the Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., look toward Easter Sunday—the day the drive will end. They are Tim Cain, "Marin Easter Seal Child" of 1959; Harold Russell, president of the Amvets, and Pamela Schmidt, last year's Easter Seal Child, now able to walk.

Marinites Will Dance On TV

"Black and White and Read All Over" is the riddle-inspired newspaper theme of a program 32 Mill Valley dancers will stage on TV station KQED's hour-long Easter show at 7 p.m. tomorrow. The show is produced by dance instructor Dick Ford of Mill Valley.

Voters Given Chance To Quiz Hopefuls

Listeners to radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" tomorrow morning will have the opportunity to pop questions—via telephone—at five candidates for San Rafael Board of Education.

The five will be guests of moderator Kitty Oppenheimer on the hour-long broadcast starting at 9 a.m. They are Rex Silvernale, C. Paul Bettini and Roderick P. Martinelli, incumbents seeking re-election; C. Roy Calder, systems analyst for a San Francisco bank, and William G. Thompson, well known to KTIM listeners as newscaster Bill Thompson.

Questions telephoned during tomorrow's broadcast will be directed to the panelists. The program will be rebroadcast from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Kentfield Man Fined For Drunken Driving

Julian Servain Jr. of 55 Quisisana drive, Kentfield, was fined $263 for drunken driving and placed on six months probation by Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. in Marin Municipal Court Monday.

Servain was fined an additional $25 for having no license in his possession when he was arrested March 2 on Highway 101.

Park Commission Measure Passed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly yesterday passed 52-11 a bill to transfer the powers of the state Park Commission to the director of natural resources.

The bill by Assemblyman Pauline L. Davis (D-Portola) would make the commission an advisory group instead of a policy-making body.

"I think once and for all we'll have responsibility placed for the actions of Beaches and Parks," Mrs. Davis said.

A companion bill giving the power to appoint the chief of the Division of Beaches and Parks to the governor instead of the commission already has been approved by the Assembly.

Station KLX To Be Sold

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Tribune Building Co. has completed negotiations for the sale of its radio station KLX, Oakland, to Crowell Collier Publisher Co., Inc., it was announced today.

No purchase price was disclosed in the announcement made by J. R. Knowland Jr., president of Tribune Building Co.

KLX operates on a frequency of 910 kilocycles and has a power output of 5,000 watts.

Confirmation of the sale is subject to approval by the Federal Communications Commission.

Hot Meal

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Firemen broke up a Niagara County Deputy Sheriffs' Assn. dinner, but it was strictly in line of duty. The deputies were eating in a restaurant when the building in which it is located caught fire.

Financial Records To Be Open To Public

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California Assembly voted yesterday to open the financial records of its interim committees to public inspection.

The action came on a unanimous vote. The plan was proposed by Assemblyman Jack A. Beaver (R-Redlands).

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

Mill Valley Commuters Set Annual Dinner For April 3

German music, can-can dancers and movies of old-time Marin commuting will be features of the Mill Valley Commuters Club annual pot-luck dinner set for April 3 at 6:30 p.m. at the Mill Valley Outdoor Art Club, according to general chairman A. P. O'Neill.

With Bill Gavin of radio fame (and also former Commuters club president) as master of ceremonies, the 11th annual dinner is expected to continue the sell-out tradition of former years, O'Neill says.

Furnishing the "Gemutlich" atmosphere will be the Hambergers, a Mill Valley group led by Slade Rathbun, clarinet. Others in the sauerkraut combo are Lee Holman, trombone; Bob Cain, drums and Tommy Dodd, trumpet. Only "outlander" is Bruce Duncan from Larksur on the tuba.

The can-can line will be composed of members of the Dick Ford "Hop, Skip and Dance Theater," a group of Mill Valley girls who already have a number of TV and live performances to their credit.

The girls make their own sets and costumes and have choreographed several of the dances in their repertoire. Members are Wendy Philbrick, Arlene Okubara, Diana Carr, Julie Taylor, Jamie Norton and Joan Taylor.

Featuring a trip on the ferries and electric interurbans of Marin, the movies which commuters will see were taken in 1940. The film was shot by Fred A. Stindt, chairman of the Pacific Coast chapter of the Railway and Locomotive Historical Society.

Plans are also underway to give recognition to Mill Valley's senior commuter. A search is being made for the person who has commuted for the longest period of time—and is still commuting

Reservations for the dinner are being handled by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rhodes and Mr. and Mrs. George Wickham.

There Are Subtle Ways To Help Youngsters Learn Love Of Study

Do you have children in the grades? Do you want them to learn to study? Do you want them to do well in their classes, get good report cards, enjoy school? Of course. We all want those things for our children. There are some important things you can do to help your youngsters succeed in school. Check yourself on the questions below

Do you encourage them in reading? Do you take a good children's magazine? Do your children have library cards? Do they use them? Do you sometimes bring interesting books home to them? You can do a lot to help them be good readers.

Do you encourage good handwriting? Many of us beef about bad penmanship. But we do nothing to encourage good handwriting. Do you have your little ones write letters to relatives? And invitations, and thank you notes? They need reasons for writing well.

Do you encourage good spelling? Do you play spelling games with them? Games they can understand and enjoy? When they write letters do you insist that the final copy contain no spelling mistakes? Do you have a simplified dictionary for them? Do they consult it frequently?

Do you encourage the use of arithmetic? Do your youngsters figure out their own expenses? Do they check the change they get at stores? If they don't use arithmetic they forget it fast.

This sort of learning can go on all the time. It's fun. You'll enjoy it, and so will they.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Should we get a children's encyclopedia for our two youngsters? They are 9 and 11."

R.D.

(A) Yes, if you can afford one. I recommend World Book, Compton's or Britannica Junior for children from the third or fourth grade up. Check them at the library and buy the one you like best.
